This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. You can search through the full text of this book on the web at `http://books.google.com/`

OF

REPORTS TO BE MADE TO CONGRESS

AT THE

FIRST SESSION OF THE FIFTIETH CONGRESS

BY PUBLIC OFFICERS.

PREPARED IN OBEDIENCE TO A STANDING RULE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Officer, and nature of the report.	By what authority.	Section or page.	When expected to be made.
BY THE HEAD OF EACH DEPARTMENT.
A detailed statement of the manner in which the contingent fund for his Department, and for the Bureaus and offices therein, has been expended, giving the names of every person to whom any portion thereof has been paid; and if for anything furnished, the quantity and price; and if for any service rendered, the nature of such service, and the time employed, and the particular occasion or cause, in brief, that rendered such service necessary; and the amount of all former appropriations in each case on hand, either in the Treasury or in the hands of any disbursing officer or agent; and he shall require of the disbursing officers, acting under his direction and authority, the return of precise and analytical statements and receipts for all the money which may have been, from time to time, during the next preceding year, expended by them.	Revised Statutes.. Stats. at L., vol. 18.	sec. 193 p. 96	Annually. At the beginning of each regular session.
A report of the names of the clerks and other persons that have been employed in his Department and the offices thereof, stating the time that each clerk or other person was actually employed and the sums paid to each; also whether they have been usefully employed; whether the services of any of them can be dispensed with without detriment to the public service; and whether the removal of any individuals and the appointment of others in their stead is required for the better dispatch of business.	Revised Statutes..	sec. 194	Annually.
NOTE.—The heads of Departments, in communicating estimates of expenditures and appropriations to Congress, or to any of the committees thereof, shall specify, as nearly as may be convenient, the sources from which such estimates are derived and the calculations upon which they are founded, and shall discriminate between such estimates as are conjectural in their character and such as are framed upon actual information and applications from disbursing officers. They shall also give references to any law or treaty by which the proposed expenditures are, respectively, authorized, specifying the date of each and the volume and page of the Statutes at Large or of the Revised Statutes, as the case may be, and the section of the act in which the authority is to be found.

List of reports to be made to Congress—Continued.

BY THE HEAD OF EACH DEPARTMENT—continued.
Whenever the head of a Department, being about to submit to Congress the annual estimates of expenditures required for the coming year, finds that the usual items of such estimates vary materially in amount from the appropriation ordinarily asked for the object named, and especially from the appropriation granted for the same objects for the preceding year, and whenever new items not theretofore usual are introduced into such estimates for any year, he shall accompany the estimates by minute and full explanations of all such variations and new items, showing the reasons and grounds upon which the amounts are required, and the different items added.
The head of each Department, in submitting to Congress his estimates of expenditures required in his Department during the year then approaching, shall designate not only the amount required to be appropriated for the next fiscal year, but also the amount of the outstanding appropriation, if there be any, which will probably be required for each particular item of expenditure.
Except when a different time is expressly prescribed by law, the various annual reports required to be submitted to Congress by the heads of Departments shall be made at the commencement of each regular session, and shall embrace the transactions of the preceding year.	Revised Statutes	sec. 195
A detailed statement required of expenditures for contingent expenses in any Department or Bureau of the Government for preceding fiscal year.	Stats. at L., vol. 19.	p. 306.	Beginning of the session.
A statement showing in detail the number of buildings rented for the use of their respective Departments or the subordinate Bureaus or offices thereof, in the city of Washington, the annual rental paid for and cost of heating and lighting each, the appropriations from which said expenses are respectively paid, and also to submit estimates, specifically, for the rental and other expenses of such of said buildings as may be necessary for the use of the Government.	Stats. at L., vol. 22.	.....	In their annual estimates.
BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.
The Chief of Engineers shall, as Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds, and as Superintendent of the Washington Aqueduct, annually submit the following reports to the Secretary of War:	Revised Statutes	sec. 1812	To accompany the annual message of the President.
First. A report of his operations for the preceding year, with an account of the manner in which all appropriations for public buildings and grounds have been applied, including a statement of the number of public lots sold or remaining unsold each year, of the condition of the public buildings and grounds, and of the measures necessary to be taken for the care and preservation of all public property under his charge.
Second. A report of the condition, progress, repairs, casualties, and expenditures of the Washington Aqueduct and other public works under his charge.
Annual report of the Civil Service Commission, showing its own action, the rules and regulations and the exceptions thereto in force, the practical effects thereof, and any suggestions it may approve for the more effectual accomplishment of the purposes of the civil-service act.	Stats. at L., vol. 22.	p. 404	Annually.
A report of the expenditures for the Industrial Home in Utah Territory.	Stats. at L., vol. 24.	p. 252	No time specified.
A report by the commission authorized to investigate the books, accounts, and methods of railroads which have received aid from the United States.	Stats. at L., vol. 24.	p. 490	No time specified.

List of reports to be made to Congress—Continued.

BY THE SECRETARY OF STATE.
A statement containing an abstract of all the returns made to him, pursuant to law, by the collectors of the different ports, of the seamen registered by them, together with an account of such impressments and detentions as shall appear by the protests of the masters to have taken place.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 207	Within ten days after the commencement of each regular session.
A statement, in a compendious form, of all such changes and modifications in the commercial systems of other nations, whether by treaties, duties on imports and exports, or other regulations, as shall have been communicated to the Department, including all commercial information contained in the official publications of other Governments which he shall deem sufficiently important.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 207	Annually.
A synopsis of so much of the information which may have been communicated to him by diplomatic and consular officers during the preceding year as he may deem valuable for public information; specifying the names of any consuls or commercial agents who may have been remiss in transmitting commercial information.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 207	Annually.
A full list of all consular officers	Revised Statutes	sec. 208	Annually.
A report of any rates or tariffs of fees to be received by diplomatic or consular officers which may have been prescribed by the President during the year preceding.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 208	Annually.
A statement of such fees as may have been collected, accounted for, and reported by the various diplomatic and consular officers during the preceding year.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 208	Annually.
A statement of the lists of passengers arriving in the United States from foreign places, returned to him quarter-yearly by the collectors of customs.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 208	Annually.
A statement of the names of any consular officers, not citizens of the United States, to whom salaries have been paid during the year preceding, together with the circumstances under which they were appointed.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 208	Annually.
NOTE.—The annual statement of expenditures from the contingent fund, required to be made by the Secretary of State, must include all the contingent expenses of foreign intercourse and of all the missions abroad, except such expenditures as are settled upon the certificate of the President.
The President is authorized to prescribe, from time to time, the rates or tariffs of fees to be charged for official services, and to designate what shall be regarded as official services, besides such as are expressly declared by law, in the business of the several legations, consulates, and commercial agencies, and to adapt the same, by such differences as may be necessary or proper, to each legation, consulate, or commercial agency; and it shall be the duty of all officers and persons connected with such legations, consulates, or commercial agencies to collect for such official services such, and only such, fees as may be prescribed for their respective legations, consulates, and commercial agencies, and such rates or tariffs shall be reported annually to Congress.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 208	Annually.
BY THE SECRETARY OF WAR.
A statement of the appropriation of the preceding fiscal year for the Department of War, showing the amount appropriated under each specific head of appropriation, the amount expended under each head, and the balance which, on the 30th day of June preceding such report, remained unexpended. Such reports shall be accompanied by estimates of the probable demands which may remain on each appropriation.	Revised Statutes .	sec. 228	Annually.

List of reports to be made to Congress—Continued.

Officer, and nature of the report.	By what authority.	Section or page.	When expected to be made.

LETTER

FROM THE

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,

TRANSMITTING

A list of contests for seats in the Fiftieth Congress.

DECEMBER 8, 1887.—Laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

CLERK'S OFFICE,
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES UNITED STATES,
Washington, D. C., December 5, 1887.

SIR: I have the honor to lay before the House of Representatives a list of contests for seats in the House of Representatives for the Fiftieth Congress of the United States, notices of which have been filed in the office of the Clerk, to wit, as follows:

NATHAN FRANK against JOHN M. GLOVER:
From the Ninth Congressional district of the State of Missouri.

ROBERT LOWRY against JAMES B. WHITE:
From the Twelfth Congressional district of the State of Indiana.

J. V. MCDUFFIE against A. C. DAVIDSON:
From the Fourth Congressional district of the State of Alabama.

ROBERT SMALLS against WILLIAM ELLIOTT:
From the Seventh Congressional district of the State of South Carolina.

F. J. SULLIVAN against CHARLES N. FELTON:
From the Fifth Congressional district of the State of California.

GEORGE H. THOBE against JOHN G. CARLISLE:
From the Sixth Congressional district of the State of Kentucky.

N. E. WORTHINGTON against PHILLIP S. POST:
From the Tenth Congressional district of the State of Illinois.

JOSEPH D. LYNCH against WILLIAM VANDEVER:
From the Sixth Congressional district of the State of California.

In compliance with the act approved March 25, 1887, entitled "An act relating to contested elections," such portions of the testimony in the above cases as the parties in interest agreed upon or as seemed proper to the Clerk, after giving the requisite notice, have been printed and indexed, together with notices of contest and answers thereto, and such portions of the testimony as were not printed, with all the original papers, have been sealed up and are ready to be laid before the Committee on Elections.

Two copies of the printed testimony in each case have been mailed to the contestant and the same number to the contestee, and two copies of the contestant's brief have been mailed to the contestee.

Upon receipt of the brief of the contestee two copies thereof have been forwarded to the contestant, and all copies of briefs and indexes that have been filed with the Clerk are ready for transmission to the Committee on Elections.

Very respectfully,

JNO. B. CLARK,
Clerk of the House of Representatives.

The SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

[PUBLIC—No. 116.]

AN ACT relating to contested elections.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section one hundred and twenty-seven of the Revised Statutes of the United States be so amended as to read as follows:

"All officers taking testimony to be used in a contested-election case, whether by deposition or otherwise, shall, when the taking of the same is completed, and without unnecessary delay, certify and carefully seal and immediately forward the same. by mail or by express, addressed to the Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States, Washington, District of Columbia; and shall also indorse upon the envelope containing such deposition or testimony the name of the case in which it is taken, together with the name of the party in whose behalf it is taken, and shall subscribe such indorsement.

"The Clerk of the House of Representatives, upon the receipt of such deposition or testimony, shall notify the contestant and the contestee, by registered letter through the mails, to appear before him at the Capitol, in person or by attorney, at a reasonable time to be named, not exceeding twenty days from the mailing of such letter, for the purpose of being present at the opening of the sealed packages of testimony and of agreeing upon the parts thereof to be printed. Upon the day appointed for such meeting the said Clerk shall proceed to open all the packages of testimony in the case, in the presence of the parties or their attorneys, and such portions of the testimony as the parties may agree to have printed shall be printed by the Public Printer, under the direction of the said Clerk; and in case of disagreement between the parties as to the printing of any portion of the testimony, the said Clerk shall determine whether such portion of the testimony shall be printed; and the said Clerk shall prepare a suitable index to be printed with the record. And the notice of contest and the answer of the sitting member shall also be printed with the record.

"If either party, after having been duly notified, should fail to attend, by himself or by an attorney, the Clerk shall proceed to open the packages, and shall cause such portions of the testimony to be printed as he shall determine.

"He shall carefully seal up and preserve the portions of the testimony not printed, as well as the other portions when returned from the Public Printer, and lay the same before the Committee on Elections at the earliest opportunity. As soon as the testimony in any case is printed the Clerk shall forward by mail, if desired, two copies thereof to the contestant and the same number to the contestee; and shall notify the contestant to file with the Clerk, within thirty days, a brief of the facts and the authorities relied on to establish his case. The Clerk shall forward by mail two copies of the contestant's brief to the contestee, with like notice.

"Upon receipt of the contestee's brief the Clerk shall forward two copies thereof to the contestant, who may, if he desires, reply to new matter in the contestee's brief within like time. All briefs shall be printed at the expense of the parties respectively, and shall be of like folio as the printed record; and sixty copies thereof shall be filed with the Clerk for the use of the Committee on Elections."

Approved, March 2, 1887.

LITHOGRAPHING AND OTHER PROCESSES OF ILLUSTRATIONS, GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE.

FROM

THE PUBLIC PRINTER,

IN RESPONSE TO

A resolution of the House of Representatives, Forty-ninth Congress, calling for information relative to expenditures for lithographing and other processes for production of illustrations for the Government Printing Office.

DECEMBER 13, 1887.—Laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., March 3, 1887.

SIR: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of a resolution of the House of Representatives, dated the 11th ultimo, as follows:

Also, resolved, That the Public Printer be requested to inform the House of the amounts annually expended for the past five years, and to whom paid, for photolithographing, lithographing, engraving, and for all other processes for the production of maps and illustrations for the Government Printing Office, and whether said photolithographing, lithographing, engraving, or other processes have been advertised to be let, or were let, under competition to the lowest bidder.

In answer thereto I transmit herewith the following statement.

Very respectfully,

TH. E. BENEDICT,
Public Printer.

PAYMENTS UNDER ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED FEBRUARY 17, 1883.

Under section 1 of the act of February 17, 1883, 1,169 claims, amounting to $6,999.91, have been examined and audited. Of this number, 1 claim, amounting to $2.07, was paid during the year, making 714 claims paid, amounting to $5,089.86, and leaving unpaid 455 claims, amounting to $1,910.05.

Under section 2 of the same act, 1,241 claims, amounting to $10,481.19, have been examined and audited. Of these 6 have been paid during the year, amounting to $177.97, making the total number paid to date 290, and the total amount $5,016.88, leaving unpaid 951 claims, amounting to $5,464.31.

There are still due, under sections 1 and 2 of the above-named act 1,406 claims, amounting to $7,374.36, and not paid because no demand has been made and the whereabouts of the claimants are unknown.

AVAILABLE ASSETS.

The assets remaining on hand are considered sufficient for the payment of these claims whenever called for, and for defraying the necessary expenses of the office. They are as follows:

Description.	Face value.	Estimated proceeds.	Remarks.
Cash balance	$6,191.01	$6,191.01
Second National Bank stock, of Washington, D. C.	3,000.00	3,750.00
Immediately available	9,191.01	9,941.01
Claims against Beaufort County, S. C	3,201.84	3,201.84	Provided for by annual taxation.
Deferred payments on lots in Beaufort, S. C	424.85	424.85	Being paid by small installments.
Detroit Car Loan Company stock	4,000.00	.....	Of uncertain value.
Lost Board of Audit certificates	200.00	.....	Do.
Young Men's Christian Association stock	3,950.00	.....	Do.
Tax-lien certificates	2,440.13	.....	In suit.
Tax deeds	3,184.54	.....	Of uncertain value.
One safe	.....	250.00
Total	26,592.07	13,817.70

There are other assets, such as judgments, real estate in litigation, suits pending, old railroad bonds and stocks, etc., which may result in some collections, but their realization is too uncertain to warrant any estimate of their value. They were fully described in the Commissioner's report for the year ended December 1, 1883, Mis. Doc. No. 10, Forty-eighth Congress, first session.

SUITS.

The cases of Shepherd v. The Commissioners, and Thompson v. Bradley, pending in the Supreme Court of the United States, will very likely be reached and disposed of during the present term of the court.

Little progress has as yet been made in the equity cases of the Commissioner against the District of Columbia, involving the tax-lien certificates referred to in the schedule of "available assets," and the Commissioner against Leonidas Scott, seeking to recover the amount of judgment at law No. 14,188, for $11,381. Both cases are still at issue.

A creditor's bill has been filed during the year against Stevens, S. S. Smoot et al., seeking to enforce the collection of two judgments against Smoot, being judgments at law, Nos. 15,708 and 15,778, for $3,000 and $1,800, respectively.

In the case of Knox, Commissioner, et al., v. L. W. Spratt et al., involving the company's banking house in Jacksonville, Fla., the supreme court of Florida has sustained its former decision in favor of the company, and so far as the claim of L. W. Spratt against the property is concerned, the case may be regarded as closed. In the other branches of the litigation, the case of Wilcoxson against the Commissioner has been argued before the supreme court of Florida and submitted. The decision in this case, when rendered, will, it is expected, determine whether the title of the company to the property is valid or not. In the meantime the value of the property is reported as advancing.

A bill for discovery has been filed by the Commissioner in the courts of Jacksonville, Fla., against J. C. Greeley, of that city, the agent of the former Commissioners, to ascertain the amount and disposition of certain rents collected and not accounted for.

The cross-suit of Jonathan C. Greeley against the undersigned, for compensation and reimbursement as agent of the former Commissioners, for the care of the company's real estate at Jacksonville, is now on trial before a referee.

TAX DEEDS.

Under a decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of The Phœnix Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., v. Albert Grant, the property in square No. 760 in the city of Washington, D. C., covered by the tax deeds referred to in the schedule of available assets, has recently been sold, and it is expected that the company will ere long realize, at least, a portion of the money represented by the tax deeds.

CLAIMS AGAINST BEAUFORT COUNTY, SOUTH CAROLINA.

The claims against Beaufort County, S. C., have been reduced during the year by the payment of $960.46, leaving a balance of $3,201.84 still due.

JUDGMENTS.

Joseph Brooks, the judgment debtor in the judgments at law Nos. 14,084 and 14,091, having died during the past year, those judgments have been duly probated and filed as claims against his estate.

The following judgments have been revived to prevent their becoming outlawed:

Nos. 13,777, 14,085, and 14,102 against Juan Boyle, with interest and cost, aggregating $33,619.99.

No. 13,997 against Gorham P. Hopkins for $2,500, with interest and costs, less $2,100 paid April 10, 1880, $400.

No. 14,090 against F. S. Lawson and Z. Richards, with interest and costs, $700.

No. 14,490 against James B. Carter, with interest and costs, $350.

No. 14,723 against Gilbert Mayers, with interest and costs, $830.

Steps have also been taken to revive the judgment at law, No. 14,891, against Hon. S. C. Pomeroy, for $6,000, but the case being contested by the defendant, the motion is now upon the calendar for hearing.

The action indicated was taken in the above-named cases in the hope that something might yet be realized from these judgments.

BARRED DIVIDENDS.

Statement No. 2 of Appendix will show the amounts paid in dividends. Thirty-six claims, requiring $751.54 to pay the 62 per cent. declared in dividends, have been presented since the Commissioner's last report, making 142 claims, calling for $2,135.99, presented for payment since May 12, 1885, but which are barred under the provisions of the act of February 21, 1881.

The surplus of available assets hereinbefore enumerated, over and above the amount required to pay the claims covered by the act of February 17, 1883, with what may be recovered from the suits pending and realized out of the judgments of record in favor of the company, and the company's real estate at Jacksonville, Fla., are the only sources from which funds can be obtained for the payment of an additional dividend.

In the last annual report of the Commissioner some suggestions were made as to the paying by Congress of the balance due depositors. The draft of a bill for that purpose is respectfully submitted in the Appendix.

In his message to Congress of last year the President asked attention to the matter in the following words:

> I desire to call the attention of Congress to a plain duty which the Government owes to the depositors in the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company.
> This company was chartered by the Congress for the benefit of the most illiterate and humble of our people, and with the intention of encouraging in them industry and thrift. Most of its branches were presided over by officers holding the commissions and clothed in the uniform of the United States. These and other circumstances reasonably, I think, led these people to suppose that the invitation to deposit their hard-earned savings in this institution implied an undertaking on the part of their Government that their money should be safely kept for them.
> When this company failed it was liable in the sum of $2,939,925.22 to 61,131 depositors. Dividends amounting in the aggregate to 62 per cent. have been declared, and the sum called for and paid of such dividends seems to be $1,648,181.72. This sum deducted from the entire amount of deposits leaves $1,291,744.50 still unpaid. Past experience has shown that quite a large part of this sum will not be called for. There are assets still on hand amounting to the estimated sum of $16.000.
> I think the remaining 38 per cent. of such of these deposits as have claimants should be paid by the Government, upon principles of equity and fairness.

Very respectfully,

W. L. TRENHOLM,
Commissioner.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

A BILL for the relief of depositors in the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company at Washington, in the District of Columbia.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the sum of one million dollars be, and is hereby, appropriated out of any moneys in the Treasury of the United States not otherwise appropriated, for the payment of such of the depositors of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company as shall be entitled thereto by reason of deposits made by or for account of the persons specified in section five of the act of incorporation of said company; and such amount, or so much thereof as shall be necessary for the extinguishment of all claims presented and allowed under the provisions of this act, shall be paid to the depositors entitled to the benefit thereof, by the Commissioner of the Freedman's Savings and Trust Company, as is hereinafter provided, whether or not the said claims are barred under existing laws as claims upon the assets of the said company.

SEC. 2. That the amount which such depositors shall be entitled to receive shall be the amount due on the thirteenth day of July, eighteen hundred and seventy-four, less the amounts which have been or may be paid to such depositors out of the assets of the said company.

SEC. 3. That the possession of the pass-book shall be prima facie evidence that the person presenting the same is entitled to receive the amount due to the depositor to whom such book was issued by the said company, but it is hereby made the duty of said Commissioner to exercise all due diligence in ascertaining who are the proper parties to recover in each case.

SEC. 4. That all claims against the said Freedman's Savings and Trust Company provided for in this act which shall not be presented before the first day of March, eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, shall be forever barred; and the assets of the said company remaining on hand on the first day of March, eighteen hundred and ninety, and all suits, judgments, and claims, and all books, papers, and all other property, wherever situated, shall be realized by the said Commissioner as soon as such realization can be effected without undue sacrifice of value, and the proceeds thereof placed in the Treasury of the United States, subject to further legislation.

SEC. 5. That upon the request of the Commissioner the postmasters in the several cities and towns in which branches were established and operated by the said company may be designated by the Postmaster-General to act as agents of the Commissioner in ascertaining and identifying the persons entitled to the benefits of this act: and such postmasters shall perform the services herein provided for under the general direction of the Commissioner; and for such services the said postmasters shall be entitled to receive a reasonable compensation, to be fixed by the said Commissioner and approved by the Postmaster-General, and to be paid out of the fund appropriated by this act.

SEC. 6. That the Commissioner be, and he is hereby, authorized to make payments by checks on the Treasurer of the United States; and for this purpose the Secretary of the Treasury, from time to time, and upon the requisition of the Commissioner, specifying the use to be made thereof, shall cause to be placed to the credit of the said Commissioner with the Treasurer of the United States, out of the money hereby appropriated, such sums, not exceeding five thousand dollars upon any one requisition, as may be required to pay the claims and expenses herein provided for.

SEC. 7. That the Commissioner be, and he is hereby, authorized to incur all the proper expenses necessary to carrying out the provisions of this act, and to employ such clerks as he may require to assist him therein; and such expenses, and the compensation of the clerks so employed, shall be paid out of the money hereby appropriated. The compensation of the said clerks shall be fixed by the Commissioner, and approved by the Secretary of the Treasury, and shall approximate as nearly as may be to the salaries paid for similar services in the office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

SEC. 8. That if the Commissioner shall deem it advisable, any payments in pursuance of this act may be made by means of postal orders, to be issued to the Commissioner by the postmaster at Washington, in the District of Columbia; and such postal orders shall be payable by the postmaster upon whom they are drawn to the several depositors or their representatives, under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner shall prescribe.

SEC. 9. That when the postmaster at Washington shall have issued to the Commissioner postal orders to the amount of dollars, and shall have furnished the Secretary of the Treasury with satisfactory evidence of such fact, the Secretary shall cause a warrant to be issued to the postmaster for the amount of such postal orders; but no fees shall be charged or paid for postal orders issued under the provisions of this section.

POSTAL SERVICE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

JANUARY 4, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on the Post-Office and Post-Roads and ordered to be printed.

Mr. VANDEVER submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas increasing complaints of the inadequate allowances made for the support of the postal service coming from all prominent offices in southern California indicate that the people of that section are suffering a serious public grievance, that is retarding the business of the community, and occasioning much loss and inconvenience to individuals, as well as scandal to the management of the Post-Office Department; and,

Whereas it is reasonable that the Government should, from an accumulating surplus in the public Treasury, provide speedy and effectual relief; and

Whereas the citizens in important cities in that section, at Los Angeles, at San Diego, at San Luis Obispo, at San Benardino, at Pasadena, at Riverside, and at other offices, have been compelled to supplement by private subscription the allowances made by the Post-Office Department for the postal service, and in some instances to pay the rent of buildings in which the post-offices are kept, to pay necessary clerk-hire not furnished by the Government, to pay gas and water bills of the post-office, in order that the public might have reasonable accommodation; and

Whereas the postmasters at San Luis Obispo and at other offices, in order to keep their offices running for the accommodation of the public, have expended a large part of the salaries allowed to them by law in the hire of clerks and in the payment of expenses which it belonged to the Government to pay, but which the Post-Office officials refused to allow; and

Whereas the revenues of the offices have been constantly increasing, furnishing the Government a large excess of receipts over expenditures; and

Whereas long lines of persons may be seen at the delivery places of these offices at any hour of the day, from morning until night, waiting their turn to receive mail matter; and

Whereas the inadequate force employed in these offices entails fourteen, fifteen, and sixteen hours per day of service on efficient and poorly paid employés; and

Whereas it is authentically stated that at the San Diego post-office when a newly appointed postmaster recently took possession of the office he found a great accumulation of unassorted mail matter, composed chiefly of newspapers and magazines, encumbering the office as so much rubbish, and having no force to assort and distribute the same, he caused it to be loaded into wagons and hauled to the dump in the bay, and that in this way four wagon-loads of mail matter, as above described, was disposed of: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Post-Office Committee be instructed to inquire into this matter at its earliest convenience, and to report with as little delay as possible a measure of relief; and that to this end that committee be accorded the privilege of reporting at any time.

FORT BROWN MILITARY RESERVATION, TEXAS.

JANUARY 4, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Military Affairs and ordered to be printed.

JANUARY 10, 1888.—Reported with an amendment, referred to the House Calendar, and ordered to be printed.

Mr. HOLMAN submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas it appears by an act passed March, 1885, the sum of $160,000 was appropriated to enable the Secretary of War to acquire a good and valid title for the United States to the Fort Brown Reservation, Texas, and to pay and extinguish all claims for the use and occupation of said reservation, provided that no part of this sum should be paid until a complete title be vested in the United States;

Whereas it is alleged that disputes have arisen between the claimants as to their respective shares of this appropriation, and that the Secretary of War has not paid any part of said amount;

Whereas by an act of Congress passed in 1875 the sum of $25,000 was appropriated for the purchase of the grounds and payment of the said Fort Brown, and in the report of General Sherman as to the sufficiency of the said sum, it is alleged that the payment of $160,000 therefor would be a fraud on the Government;

Whereas it is alleged that it will appear from the documentary evidence in the War Department, the Quartermaster-General's Office, also the evidence of officials now in Washington who have served at said post, likewise the testimony of other citizens which can be obtained, that the sum of $50,000 would be a large price to pay for said reservation, including rent for the use and occupation of the same: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Committee on Military Affairs be instructed to investigate the subject-matter herein named, with authority to send for persons and papers, also to inquire into and report as to what necessity exists, if any, for a military post at said point, and the cost to the United States of said post since 1865.

Resolved, That the Secretary of War be [directed] requested to withhold the payment of any part of said sum of $160,000 for the grounds and rents of the said Fort Brown Reservation.

IMPRISONMENT OF COUNTY COURT JUDGES.

JANUARY 5, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary and ordered to be printed.

Mr. STONE, of Missouri, submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas it is alleged in the public prints and elsewhere that John F. Tandy, Albert Hoyt, and S. C. Peden, judges of the county court of St. Clair County, Missouri, are now confined in the common jail of Cole County, Mo., and have been so confined for more than one month, on the order of the circuit court of the United States for the western district of Missouri; and

Whereas the imprisonment of said county judges is based upon the following facts, to wit: That the said circuit court of the United States, on April 23, 1887, issued its writ of mandamus to said county judges, commanding them to levy a tax on all property in said St. Clair County, for the purpose of raising a fund sufficient to satisfy a certain judgment theretofore rendered in said circuit court against said county, to which writ said county judges made answer and return to the effect that they could not obey the writ, for the reason that they had no authority under the laws of the State of Missouri to levy the tax, and that any attempt to do so would subject them to a criminal prosecution and heavy punishment under the laws of the State, which return was true in substance and effect; notwithstanding which the said circuit court quashed the return, attached said county judges for contempt, and committed them to jail, there to remain until they should acknowledge themselves willing to levy the tax according to the mandate of said circuit court, or until the further order of said court; and

Whereas the arrest and imprisonment of these judicial officers of the State, under the circumstances detailed, is a gross usurpation of judicial power on the part of the Federal circuit court, and a dangerous menace to every just form of local government: Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Committee on the Judiciary is hereby instructed to investigate the facts touching the imprisonment of said county judges, and to report by bill or otherwise, at the earliest day practicable; and to this end the said Committee on the Judiciary is hereby authorized and empowered to send for persons and papers, and to take whatever steps may be necessary to a proper and complete investigation of said alleged imprisonment; and to pay the expense thereof the sum of one thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the contingent fund of the House.

HASTINGS AND DAKOTA RAILROAD.

JANUARY 9, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on the Public Lands and ordered to be printed.

Mr. LIND submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas Congress, by an act entitled "An act making an additional grant of lands to the State of Minnesota," etc., approved July 4, 1866, made a grant of lands to said State for the benefit of the Hastings and Dakota Railroad Company, a corporation created under the laws of the State of Minnesota, which act provides that if the line proposed to be aided by the grant was not constructed within ten years of its acceptance the lands granted by said act and not patented should revert to the United States; and

Whereas said company failed to construct said line within the time limited by said act and such failure has not been waived by Congress; and

Whereas the supreme court of the State of Minnesota has, upon the relation of the Hon. John W. Hahn, attorney-general of said State, against said railroad company, by its decision, made and filed in said court on the 22d day of December, 1886, adjudged the charter of the said Hastings and Dakota Railroad Company forfeited and said corporation dissolved on the ground that the said corporation in the month of January, 1880, sold and conveyed its road and franchise and ceased to exercise the business for which it was created; and

Whereas the Interior Department has nevertheless caused to be certified to the State for the benefit of said company over 140,000 acres of land since it ceased to exist as a railroad company, and there are still selections pending in the Interior Department for nearly 12,000 acres of land claimed by such defunct corporation, all of which lands are largely occupied by bona fide settlers claiming them under the land laws of the United States; therefore,

Resolved, That the honorable Secretary of the Interior be, and he is hereby, requested and directed to refrain from certifying to the State of Minnesota, for the benefit of the said Hastings and Dakota Railroad Company, until further action is taken by this House in the premises.

Also, that the honorable Attorney-General of the United States be, and he is hereby, directed to report to the House with all due speed upon the proceedings had and taken in the supreme court of the State of Minnesota for the forfeiture and dissolution of the said Hastings and Dakota Railroad Company; and also why suit has not been brought to cancel the certifications issued to said State for lands for the benefit of said corporation since January, 1880, and also to report upon any other matter relative to the status of such lands which may aid the House in determining upon the proper action to be taken for the protection of the settlers on said lands.

SIR: I transmit with this the report of the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887.

Respectfully, yours,

W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers.
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Speaker of the House of Representatives, Washington, D. C.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1887.

To the honorable the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled:

The Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers makes the following report of the institution for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887, in obedience to the law:

On March 2, 1887, a law was enacted directing the Board to establish a branch of the Home in one of the States west of the Rocky Mountains, and appointing William Blanding, of San Francisco, an additional member of the Board, specifying that one of its members should hereafter be appointed from a State or Territory west of the Rocky Mountains.

The usual duties of the Board have been performed during the year, the quarterly meetings have been held, and the branches visited and inspected as prescribed by the law.

The supplies of the Home have been, as far as possible, purchased by contract; their quality has been good and the prices moderate. The clothing and bedding have been made up at the Home by the labor of the members generally, and their families.

All complaints of members have been patiently heard and investigated, and remedies applied where they were necessary. The members have been comfortably housed, liberally clothed and fed, and no complaints on these matters have come to the notice of the Board.

The barracks at the Northwestern, Southern, and Western Branches, appropriated for by Congress June 30, 1886, have been erected during the fiscal year, furnishing accommodations for about 1,000 men. Every bed in these additional barracks is now in use, and in every branch, unless it be the Western, men are now using the floor for beds.

Year ending June 30—
1884	7,494
1885	8,118
1886	8,758

It appears, therefore, that the actual number present through the whole year has increased in five years 2,980, or 44 per cent. The number present and absent has increased in the same period from 8,480 during the year ending June 30, 1883, to 12,168 for the year ending June 30, 1887. The number of deaths was in the year ending June 30, 1883, 485, and in that ending June 30, 1887, 659. The percentage of increase of members present and absent in the five years is 43, and that of deaths 37. Had the members of the Home belonged to a class insurable in life-insurance offices, the number of deaths in the same number as that in the Home of corresponding ages would have been no greater than 406. Hence the number of deaths among the members of the Home in the last fiscal year exceeded by 253, or 61 per cent., the number that would have occurred among the same number of men of the same ages in ordinary health. These figures show how great is the general disability of the members of the Home. They also suggest another question. If the members of the Home, well housed, fed, and clothed as they are, with no family cares and with no anxiety about making their living, nevertheless pass away at a rate greater by more than 60 per cent. than that at which men in ordinary health die, as shown by the life tables, what would have been their fate by this time had not the fostering care of the National Home been tendered to them?

The question, how long the membership of the Home will increase, still remains unsolved. Under the law every soldier who is disabled and who cannot earn his living is entitled to admission to the Home whether his disability can be traced to service in the Army or not. This law was enacted on July 5, 1884. During the past three years the number of those admitted on account of wounds received in action or disability incurred in service has materially fallen off. On the other hand, the number admitted on account of age and disability incurred since the war has increased, so that the annual number of admissions continually increases. These causes of increase will continue as the soldiers grow older, and the membership of the Home must increase for an indeterminate series of years so long as Congress furnishes the means for such increase. The existing branches of the Home are now filled to their utmost capacity, and, in the opinion of the Board, only one, or at most two, of them should be farther enlarged.

If it be the intention of Congress to care for all disabled soldiers who are entitled to admission to the Home, under existing law, legislation will be required—

(1) To establish additional branches of the Home, or

(2) To materially enlarge existing branches, or

(3) To encourage the States to establish State homes, or

(4) To make appropriations for outdoor relief for those soldiers who can not be admitted to the existing branches.

Should Congress consider that the present accommodations of the Home are sufficient, the maximum number who shall receive the benefits of the Home should be fixed by law. In this connection the Board respectfully calls attention to the following extract from its report of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1886:

The survivors of the war are growing old, their disabilities are severer, and the number who are unable to support themselves is for these reasons rapidly increasing. Notwithstanding the fact that a new Home, capable of providing for 1,500 additional members, has recently been completed at Leavenworth, Kans., there are yet many disabled and destitute soldiers cared for in the almshouses of the country. Several of the States have endeavored to provide for this emergency by the erection of State homes. Illinois, Ohio, Iowa, Michigan, and Pennsylvania have recently established State homes, and such homes have for some time been established in New York, California, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Jersey, Connecticut, and in a few other States. If Congress should provide by law for assisting in maintaining the soldiers admitted to these State homes by authorizing the Board of Managers to pay one-half of the cost of supporting each soldier thus provided for, the necessity of building additional Homes might be avoided, except in the case of that recommended for the Pacific slope.

It is apparent to the Board of Managers that the Home is gradually becoming a great hospital. The necessity for increased hospital accommodations is more urgent every year as the age and disabilities of the members increase. In all of the branches the hospitals are overcrowded, and men who ought to be in hospital have to be cared for in barracks not built nor arranged for sick men. There is much suffering caused by the inadequate hospital accommodation, which ought to be alleviated if possible. The increase in the ages of the men, the fact that their diseases become chronic as they grow older; that their diet must be different from those who can live in barracks; that in time they become bed-ridden; all these require that the hospital shall soon become the ruling feature of the Home.

Congress at its last session appropriated $100,000 for the erection of a hospital at the Western Branch at Leavenworth, Kans., and $60,000 for the enlargement of the hospital of the Central Branch. These sums are now being expended for the construction of the buildings specified. The appropriation of $150,000, made June 30, 1886, has been expended with the view of making the new barracks virtually additions to the hospitals, so that the hospital accommodation is far greater than it was a year ago. But it still requires enlargement, and will continue to require it.

The tables appended to this report, from A to F inclusive, show the financial transactions of the Board for the fiscal year, and the estimates for the next fiscal year. Table G shows in detail the expenditures for bedding and clothing, and also clothing issued during the fiscal year. Table H shows the articles of bedding and clothing manufactured during the fiscal year, and cost of same. Table I shows the expenses in detail of the Board of Managers for the fiscal year. Table J gives the annual cost of keeping each member of the Home from its organization to June 30, 1887; all expenses are included except those for construction and purchases of land. Table K gives the accounts current of the acting treasurer for the fiscal year, of the general fund, the additional barrack fund, the Western Branch fund, and the reimbursement of Southern Branch fund. Tables L, M, and N give the accounts current of the pension, posthumous, and post funds, table L showing also the number of pensioners, the amount paid to families of pensioners through the treasurers of the branches, and the amount paid direct to pensioners.

The record of members, showing the changes from July 1, 1886, to June 30, 1887, is appended to this report.

The report of the secretary gives the journal of the proceedings of the Board of Managers for the fiscal year, the statistics of the Home for the same period, and the annual report of each branch.

Below is an extract from the journal of the last meeting of the Board of Managers, which gives its action in carrying out the law for the "location and erection of a branch home for disabled volunteer soldiers west of the Rocky Mountains," approved March 2, 1887.

The title of the land and water supply are now in course of investigation, and the construction of the necessary buildings will be commenced as soon as these questions are satisfactorily settled.

[Extract from the minutes of the proceedings of the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.]

CENTRAL BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME
FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
November 10, 1887.

The Board thereupon proceeded to San Francisco for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the act of Congress approved March 3, 1887, directing the selection of a site and the location of a branch of the Home west of the Rocky Mountains.

Capt. William Blanding met the Board en route.

At Ogden, Utah, the Board were met by a delegation of the citizens of Salt Lake, members of the G. A. R. and others, who urged the location of the Home on a site overlooking the city of Salt Lake and adjoining the military post at Fort Douglas.

The site was visited by members of the Board and examined as to the various conditions required for the location of the branch.

On arrival at the city of Sacramento, November 18, the Board were met by the mayor and a delegation of citizens of that city and were tendered kindly hospitalities which, owing to delay in arrival, it was found necessary to decline.

Considerable discussion was had with reference to the sites offered or available in the Sacramento Valley in the vicinity of the city.

NOVEMBER 19, 1887.

The Board reconvened in executive session at the Palace Hotel, in the city of San Francisco.

Captain Blanding presented the propositions heretofore made through him to the Board for sites supposed to be suitable for the location of the Home and reported the results of his visits to places offered, and submitted detailed descriptions of each in regard to climates, water-supply, and accessibility.

The propositions made were read in full and thoroughly considered.

It was decided to hold an open session on Monday, the 21st of November, in accordance with notice heretofore given in the daily papers, to hear in person all parties who desired to present themselves before the Board in connection with the subject of the location of the Pacific Branch, and also allow to the parties appearing fifteen minutes each for the presentation of the claims of the site advocated.

NOVEMBER 21, 1887.

At the open session of the Board a number of gentlemen appeared and were heard in accordance with the resolution previously adopted.

The claims of the following sites were presented personally by the gentlemen appearing:

(1) Alameda County, near Haywards, by Mr. James Kellar, 400 acres, at a price of $30,000, 18 miles from San Francisco across the bay, and 1 mile from Hayward Station, on the railroad; ample water-supply; soil and other conditions to be satisfactory.

(2) Oakland, Messrs. Smith and Harnes, 250 acres on Fruit Vale Creek, 2 miles from the railroad station, on the Thirteenth avenue in Oakland; price $75,000.

(3) National City, San Diego County, two tracts of 600 acres each; unlimited water-supply guarantied; soil all that can be desired; offered by Col. ——— Dickinson on behalf of the San Diego Town and Land Company as a free gift.

(4) Napa County, the Veteran Home at Yountville, 910 acres in cultivation, with buildings, offered by Hon. James A. Waymire on behalf of the board of trustees of the California Veteran Home.

(5) Sonoma County, Professor Trippett, on behalf of the city of Petaluma, from 200 to 500 acres in the vicinity of that city, two hours distant from San Francisco, a free donation.

(6) Mr. McMair, 200 acres in the vicinity of Petaluma for $25,000, which the citizens of Petaluma agree to contribute toward the purchase.

(7) Santa Rosa, the Mesar Ranch and Rector Mill Ranch, 4 miles from Santa Rosa, 16 miles above Pataluma, 1 mile from Fulton Station on the railroad, submitted by Mr. Sherer, price according to the number of acres selected from $37,000 to $55,000, up to 500 acres; 400 acres would be sold for $37,000.

(8) Col. ——— Byington, of the Board of Trade of Santa Rosa, offered 189 acres 2½ miles from Santa Rosa, with railroad station on the place, at $200 per acre.

(9) Mayor Overton, of Santa Rosa, proposes the tract referred to as the Hellman tract, with warm spring thereon.

(10) Mr. MacDonald, tract of land from the Water Company, 2½ miles from Santa Rosa, at $200 per acre, from 100 to 300 acres.

(11) General M. J. Vallejo offers his farm in Sonoma of 200 acres for $125,000. It was selected when he was military governor of California from all the lands of the State as the most promising in all respects. Water-supply ample.

(12) H. E. Boyes proposes 75 acres, with hot springs thereon, 2½ miles from Sonoma, price not stated.

(13) Sacramento: Mr. Abbott proposed tract 3 miles west of Sacramento, 1,050 acres bordering on Sutter Lake, $250 per acre for any number of acres, taking in rectangular tract bordering on the edge. Owners will build railroad to connect with street railroad and donate 20 per cent. to the earnings of the home station to the Home. Also the city of Sacramento will probably give as much as $50,000 towards the purchase and improvement of the land.

(14) Mr. Roche, ex-alcalde; Senator Sargent, representing the Pacific Coast Steamship Company; Dr. Witham, of the Monterey Board of Trade; Mr. St. John, Mr. Kearney, and Mr. Jacks suggested the Government reservation at Monterey, and described at length the advantages of the site.

(15) Santa Cruz: Dr. McPherson and Mr. Hihn proposed what is known as the Trout Ranch, of 400 acres, 3 miles from railroad station at Aplas, for $15,000.

Also 240 acres 3 miles east of Santa Cruz, one-half mile west from Capitola. View superb; price $70,000. Owners will bear half the expense of bringing water to the tract from outside the limits from running stream. Water can also be obtained on the place by boring.

Also 1,000 acres, for $35,000, 7 miles inland on the South Pacific Coast Railway, 30 miles from San José; stream of water on the place; site one-half mile from the big trees: 8 miles from Santa Cruz.

No other parties being present to be heard in person, the Board thereupon resolved to visit the Home in Nappa Valley on Tuesday, the harbor of San Francisco on Wednesday, Monterey and Santa Cruz on Thursday, the sites offered in Sonoma Valley on Friday, the sites offered in Alameda County on Saturday, and leave for Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, San Diego, and San Bernardino, to visit the various sites proposed in southern California, on Sunday afternoon.

On November 27 the Board proceeded to Santa Barbara, and on the evening of the 28th and the morning of the 29th examined various sites proposed in that vicinity.

They were hospitably entertained by the mayor and citizens of Santa Barbara, and assured that either of the sites offered, if selected by the Board, would undoubtedly be donated by the citizens.

On the same evening the Board proceeded to Los Angeles, and gave open hearing to the mayor, the representatives of the board of trade, and other distinguished citizens from Los Angeles and other places in southern California.

The Board received great hospitality from the gentlemen referred to and from General Nelson A. Miles, U. S. Army, commanding the department.

At the open hearing propositions were made as follows:

By Judge Vandyke, representing Senator J. H. Jones, 600 acres, to be taken from the Jones and Baker and the Wolfskill ranches, 300 from each, on either side of the boundary line. Also additional lands to be converted into money to the amount of $20,000, situation 5 miles from Santa Monica, on the coast, in full view of the sea; water supply ample from springs.

Also 300 acres from any part of the Jones and Baker tract outside of the limits of the town of Santa Monica, this to be accompanied by a larger donation in money on behalf of the owners of the Wolfskill ranch.

Judge Whitney called attention to the offer heretofore made in writing of sites in San Bernardino County, at Hesperia, by the Hesperia Land and Water Company.

Mr. Whilhelditz proposed the island of Santa Scatalina, off San Pedro, 23 miles from the coast and 28 miles from the landing, 5,000 acres.

Proposition was made on behalf of the Inglewood Company of a site 4½ miles from the city; artesian water in abundance; two railroads passing through the grounds; price $50,000, which will be contributed by citizens.

Colonel Bonsall suggested the Freeman homestead of 300 acres.

No other parties desiring to be heard, the Board decided to visit the sites suggested, or such of them as were deemed available on the following day.

November 30 the Board proceeded to examine the sites proposed at Inglewood and the vicinity of Santa Monica.

The sites were carefully inspected with reference to water supply, healthfulness, and accessibility.

On the same evening the Board proceeded to San Diego, where they were received and kindly entertained by the mayor, the representatives of the board of trade, and other prominent citizens of the city.

An open session was held for the purpose of receiving propositions.

The sites proposed on behalf of the municipal authorities of San Diego were 160 acres in the reservation of the city park (subsequently increased to 200 acres) and another site on the west side of the bay of San Diego, lying between the foot-hills and the water.

Sites were also offered by the San Diego Town and Land Company in the vicinity of National City, namely: two different tracts, of 600 acres each, lying on the line of the railroad in the direction of the Great Sweetwater Dam, to be supplied with water from the reservoir of the National City, about 5 miles from the coast.

Also a tract of 300 acres on another branch of the railroad from National City toward the Mexican frontier, about one-half mile from the coast; water supply the same.

December 1 the Board proceeded to examine carefully the sites offered in the vicinity of San Diego, and December 2 the sites offered on behalf of the San Diego Town and Land Company in the vicinity of National City.

The same evening the Board proceeded by train to San Bernardino.

December 3 the Board proceeded in a special train, furnished by the courtesy of the Hesperia Land and Water Company, to visit and examine the site offered by that company in San Bernardino County, and the same day resumed its journey east.

December 3, the Board convened in executive session on the car St. Nicholas. Colonel Harris moved that the Board proceed to take an informal ballot, and that each member name on such ballot three places, as his first, second, and third choice for the location of the Pacific Branch.

General Black, for the purpose merely of discussion as to the relative merits of the sites offered, moved as an amendment that San Diego or its vicinity be selected as the site for the said branch.

After considerable discussion, General Hyde moved as an amendment to the amendment that Santa Barbara be substituted for San Diego.

General Hyde's amendment was accepted by General Black, but after further discussion of a general character was withdrawn.

General Negley thereupon offered an amendment to the original motion that Santa Monica or the vicinity thereof be selected as the site for the Pacific Branch.

The president of the Board proposed as a further amendment that Oakland or the vicinity thereof be selected as the proposed site.

After further general discussion, both amendments were withdrawn and the original motion to proceed to an informal ballot for the selection of a site, each member voting for three places as first, second, and third choice, was adopted.

The ballot resulted as follows:

First choice.	Second choice.	Third choice.
San Diego,	Oakland,	Santa Barbara,
Monterey,	Hesperia,	Los Angeles,
Bay of San Francisco,	Santa Barbara,	Los Angeles,
Oakland,	Napa,	Santa Cruz,
Santa Barbara,	San Diego,	Santa Monica,
Santa Monica,	Santa Rosa,	San Diego,
Santa Barbara,	San Diego,	Los Angeles,
Oakland.	Monterey,	Los Angeles,
Santa Monica,	San Diego,	Santa Barbara,
Oakland.	Santa Cruz.	Santa Barbara.

It being explained that the votes for Los Angeles and Santa Monica were to be counted for Santa Monica, and the ballot for the Bay of San Francisco as meaning Oakland, the result was announced as follows:

	First.	Second.	Third.		First.	Second.	Third.
San Diego	1	3	1	Napa Valley	0	1	0
Monterey	1	1	0	Santa Rosa	0	1	0
Oakland	4	1	0	Santa Cruz	0	1	1
Santa Barbara	2	1	3	Hesperia	0	1	0
Los Angeles	2	0	5

The Board thereupon took a recess until certain propositions addressed to the Board at Los Vegas could be received and considered.

PHOENIX HOTEL, Los Vegas.

The Board reconvened in executive session.

The following telegraphic communication was laid before the Board:

LOS ANGELES, December 3, 1887.

General W. B. FRANKLIN,
Chairman of Managers Nat'l Home Com. (Care Cond'r No. 2):

Our proposition is 600 acres and $50,000, or 300 acres from Jones & Baker and $100,000, guarantied payable in yearly installments of $20,000 cash, and the water supply and other items mentioned in our written propositions.

JOHN H. JONES,
Per Walter Van Dyke, his att'y in fact.
A. B. D. BAKER,
By her att'y in fact, Robert L. Baker.

Other communications from various points were received modifying in some particulars or repeating offers already considered by the Board.

A communication from the representatives of the tracts near Santa Monica, referred to in the foregoing dispatch, was called for, and after being read was ordered on the minutes, as follows:

To the Honorable Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers:

GENTLEMEN: The undersigned respectfully offer the site hereinafter described for a Branch Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, to wit: Six hundred acres of land in one body to be selected out of the ranchos "San José de Buenos Ayres" and "San Vicente y Santa Monica," "without cost to the Government, said site to be selected by you anywhere along the line dividing said ranchos, and in equal portions on each side thereof, the whole forming one compact body.

That portion near the foot-hills on said line and running up to the base of the mountains would command a most magnificent view of mountains, valley, city of Los Angeles, and the ocean, and could not well be surpassed for beauty of location in the State of California.

The land is rich sandy loam, being composed of decomposed granite and vegetable mold, and makes the warmest and richest soil possible, capable of producing not only all the varieties of fruits and vegetables peculiar to this semi-tropic region, but is susceptible of being beautified and ornamented with flowers, grass, and trees equal to any spot in the country.

A site can be selected along the line indicated, nearly all of which is ready for the plow, no stones or bushes to be cleaned up, a portion already being under cultivation.

Drainage is excellent and sewerage can be made as nearly perfect as in any location that could be named.

The distance from the city of Los Angeles is about 14 miles in a westerly direction, and from the Pacific Ocean at Santa Monica about 5 miles distant, and nearly on a direct line between the two points.

The Los Angeles County Railroad, which is now graded nearly the whole distance from Los Angeles to Santa Monica, will run through the tract offered, and a station will be located to accommodate the Home. This road offers also, in connection with this proposal, to carry all inmates and officers of the Home at one-half fare, and to transport all supplies for the Home and all merchandise to and from the Home at one-half the regular rates, and offer to run hourly trains from the city of Los Angeles to the sea.

And it may be further stated that the track of the present railroad between Los Angeles and Santa Monica run within a few rods from the southerly end of the strip from which it is hereby offered to have the tract of land taken, and a station is located about the nearest point on said road.

In addition to the foregoing offer of land in one body, 5 acres of water-bearing land is also offered at a convenient distance from the main tract, with springs of flowing water of sufficient capacity to furnish 250,000 to 500,000 gallons daily; also a reservoir site of such elevation as to command the most perfect service.

Near the proposed site there is a quarry of excellent sandstone for building purposes and a quarry of fine granite within 4 miles; also a most excellent brick-clay land near by, thus bringing within easy access the various kinds of building material.

On the point of climate, it is generally considered that the foot-hill region of the Cahuengo Mountains, from 4 to 10 miles back from the Pacific Ocean, has no superior even in any portion of this favored land of southern California. It is a well-known fact that it has such immunity from frosts as to be able to uniformly produce for the general markets tomatoes and other tender garden plants in the months of December, January, and February; and the same causes that ward off the frosts give to this locality also immunity from fogs; while its nearness to the ocean secures for it a breeze, not harsh, but delightfully cool and refreshing every summer's day; so that a Home located on the spot offered will be a delightful and genial resting place in winter as well as in summer for the veterans who may gather together there, not equaled in any respect by any other Home in the whole country.

In conclusion, we would state that the land hereby offered is reasonably worth on an average $400 per acre, or $240,000 for the entire tract, aside from the additional offers made by other parties as above mentioned.

Very respectfully, yours, etc.,

JOHN P. JONES,
By Walter Van Dyke, his attorney in fact.
A. B. D. BAKER,
By her attorney in fact, Robert L. Baker.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., November —, 1887.

We, the undersigned, acting as trustees, hereby agree, in addition to the above, to donate $50,000, payable in yearly installments of $10,000, to be applied to the improvement of the ground.

E. E. HALL, Trustee.
S. N. LIUTMELER.
T. C. GARBUTT.

In the event that the selection should be made from the 300 acres offered by Jones and Baker, then the Los Angeles and Santa Monica Land and Water Company will donate $50,000 cash, payable $10,000 yearly, in addition to the $50,000 offered by the trustees.

LOS ANGELES LAND AND WATER CO.
By E. E. HALL,
Secretary.
L. N. LIUTMELER,
T. C. GARBUTT,
Directors.

After a lengthened discussion and further reading of other communications relating to other proposed sites, General McMahon offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Pacific Branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers be established and maintained in the county of Los Angeles, Cal., near the town of Monica, on 300 acres of the Jones and Baker tract, to be selected by this Board, subject to the establishment to the satisfaction of the Board of the guarantees and offers made in writing and by telegraph and in behalf of the owners of said tract and others.

The ayes and noes were called for, and resulted as follows:

Ayes—General Franklin, Colonel Harris, General McMahon, General Negley, General Black, General Sewell, Colonel Mitchell, Captain Blanding—8.

Noes—General Martin, General Hyde—2.

The motion was thereupon declared carried.

General Negley offered the following resolution, which was, after considerable discussion, adopted:

Resolved, That the question of the acceptance of the property in Napa Valley, belonging to the Veteran Home Association of California, be referred to a committee of three, of which the president of the Board shall be one, for such action as may be deemed for the best interests of the National Home.

The President appointed on such committee General Black and General McMahon.

General Martin offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That immediately upon the completion of suitable quarters at the Pacific branch all soldiers and sailors eligible for admission who are now cared for at the Veteran's Home in Napa Valley be admitted to the National Home.

General McMahon offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the president of the Board be authorized and directed to take the necessary steps to secure a complete and unincumbered title to the lands to be selected for the Pacific Branch in the county of Los Angeles, Cal., and upon being satisfied that the conditions and guarantees made by the owners of said lands and other parties have been fully made and fulfilled, shall at once cause possession to be taken of the said lands and shall proceed at once, in pursuance of law and the orders of this Board, to secure the erection of the proper buildings on the said lands for the use of the said branch.

W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

[The National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, secretary's office, 93 Nassau street.]

NEW YORK, N. Y., December, 1887.

GENERAL: I have the honor to forward herewith certain documents to accompany the annual report of the Board of Managers to Congress for the year ending June 30, 1887. They consist of—

(1) The consolidated annual report in tabular form.

(2) The proceedings of the Board of Managers during the year.

(3) The reports of the governors of the several branches.

The papers referred to above contain all the information that can be furnished in regard to the management and condition of the Home.

The proceedings of the Board of Managers at its various meetings exhibit in full everything that has been done by the Board in performance of its duties.

The annual report is a consolidation of the annual reports of the several branches. The reports of the governors show in detail all that is important or desirable to know as to their respective branches.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

M. T. MCMAHON,
Secretary.

General W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, JULY 20, 1886.

BOSTON, MASS., July 20, 1886.

The Board met in regular quarterly session at Brunswick Hotel, July 20, 1886, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Present: General William B. Franklin, president of the Board; General M. T. McMahon, secretary; Col. L. A. Harris, General John A. Martin, General T. W. Hyde.

The president of the Board read the act approved July 3, 1886, as follows:

[PUBLIC RESOLUTION—No. 17.]

JOINT RESOLUTION appointing managers for the National Homes for Disabled Soldiers to fill vacancies in the Board which occurred by expiration of terms on the twenty-first day of April, eighteen hundred and eighty-six.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That General William J. Sewell, of the State of New Jersey; General Martin T. McMahon, of the State of New York, and Captain John L. Mitchell, of the State of Wisconsin, be, and they are hereby, appointed managers of the National Homes for Disabled Soldiers, to fill vacancies which occurred by reason of the expiration of the terms of members of the Board on the twenty-first day of April, eighteen hundred and eighty-six.

Approved, July 3, 1886.

General M. T. McMahon and Capt. John L. Mitchell being present, took their seats as members of the Board.

The Board took a recess, and assembled at the Eastern Branch, Togus, Me., at 9 a m., on the 21st instant. After inspecting the members and quarters, hospital and grounds, and after hearing the complaints of such members as desired to present themselves in person before the Board, the Board proceeded to New York, where they were joined by General James S. Negley, which completed a quorum.

General Martin moved that the Board proceed to the election of a secretary. A ballot having been taken, General M. T. McMahon was declared duly elected.

The president caused to be read the act approved June 30, 1886, as follows:

[PUBLIC—No. 105.]

AN ACT making appropriations for additional barracks at the Southern, Northwestern, and Western Branches of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be expended, under the direction of the Board of Managers, in the construction and equipment of additional barracks or quarters for disabled veterans at the Southern, Northwestern, and Western Branches of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, located at Hampton, Milwaukee, and Leavenworth, respectively.

Approved, June 30, 1886.

The president also caused the following act, approved July 9, 1886, to be read:

[PUBLIC—No. 124.]

AN ACT to reimburse the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers for losses incurred through the failure of the Exchange National Bank of Norfolk, Virginia, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to pay, or cause to be paid, to the treasurer of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers the sum of twenty thousand two hundred and sixty-two dollars and forty-six cents, out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be held and expended by him as originally intended, and any dividends hereafter made in favor of the Home shall be paid to the United States and covered into the Treasury.

SEC. 2. That from and after the passage of this act it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to require from the president and cashier of all banks used as depositories by the treasurer of the Home a deposit of bonds sufficient in amount to fully secure all moneys pertaining to said Home left on deposit with any such bank.

Approved, July 9, 1886.

The president presented the estimates for the quarter ending 30th September, 1886, which, after careful revision, were agreed upon as follows:

Central Branch:
General	$153,894.08
Special	36,500.00
		$190,394.08
Northwestern Branch, general		40,379.01

General Martin moved that the president be authorized to loan $1,500 from the Ward fund, to purchase instruments and uniforms for the band at the Western Branch, the same to be repaid from the store or amusement fund, when a sufficient amount has been accumulated therein. Adopted.

General Hyde moved that the president be authorized to legally purchase necessary crockery and cutlery for the use of the Home. Adopted.

General Martin presented a letter from D. C. Goodrich, treasurer's clerk at the Western Branch, asking an increase of salary; which was referred to the president, with power.

General Martin offered the following:

Resolved, That the president be empowered to contract for the erection of residences for the governor and secretary of the Western Branch, in accordance with the plans prepared by the architect; and also, that he be authorized to have a suitable residence built for the surgeon.

Adopted.

General Negley offered the following:

Resolved, That the acting treasurer is hereby authorized and empowered to take such means as may be necessary to obtain the sum of $22,262.46 from the Treasurer of the United States, appropriated by act of Congress (Public—124), approved July 9, 1886, to receipt for it in the name of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, and to apply it in the manner directed by the said act.

Adopted.

The president appointed Col. L. A. Harris, General Thomas W. Hyde, and Capt. John L. Mitchell a committee to audit the accounts of the acting treasurer.

Colonel Harris presented the following report of the auditing committee on the accounts of the acting treasurer for the quarter ending June 30, 1886; which was received and ordered to be placed on the minutes:

TOGUS, ME., July 21, 1886.

The undersigned have this day examined and audited the accounts of General W. B. Franklin, acting treasurer of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the quarter ending June 30, 1886, and find the same to be correct and supported by the proper vouchers.

The balance in his hands June 30, 1886, was $108,023.33 belonging to the general fund, and $37,071.68 belonging to the Western Branch fund. Total, $145,095.01.

THOMAS W. HYDE,
JOHN L. MITCHELL,
Committee.

Colonel Harris presented the following report from the committee appointed to audit the accounts of the treasurer of the Southern Branch:

HAMPTON, VA., July 15, 1886.

I have this day examined the accounts of Capt. Wm. Thompson, treasurer Southern Branch National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the period commencing April 1, 1885, and ending June 30, 1886, and find them correct and supported by the proper vouchers.

Referring to missing voucher belonging to the accounts of Capt. P. T. Woodfin, treasurer, referred to in preceding certificates, I have been shown said voucher, it having been returned to treasurer by Second Auditor, in whose office it had been, and upon whom several demands had been made for its return.

I find that the treasurer has received during this period, including balance of cash on hand April 1, 1885, $252,226.09 in cash, and has expended $251,367.37, leaving a balance on hand June 30, 1886, of $858.72.

L. A. HARRIS, Auditor.

HAMPTON, VA., July 16, 1886.

I have this day examined the accounts of the store at Southern Branch National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers for the period commencing April 1, 1885, and ending March 31, 1886, and find them correct and supported by proper vouchers.

As stated in the preceding certificate, by reason of the decision of the honorable Solicitor of the Treasury on the status of the funds in the Exchange National Bank, Norfolk, Va., at the time of its failure, no correct balance could then be given. But as I am informed that the bill to re-imburse the Home for all losses resulting from said failure has passed both Houses of Congress, and has been signed by the President, the balance of cash on hand, including the deposit in said Exchange National Bank, in post fund is $14,516.95; the balance at date of last auditing was $7,713.83; showing a gain of $6,803.12.

L. A. HARRIS, Auditor.

General John A. Martin and Col. L. A. Harris were appointed by the president a committee to audit the accounts of the Eastern Branch.

General Martin presented the following reports from the committee appointed to audit the accounts of the treasurer of the Eastern Branch:

TOGUS, ME., July 21, 1886.

We certify that we have examined the accounts of the Eastern Branch National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers up to March 31, 1886, and found the same correct and supported by proper vouchers.

Missing voucher No. 33, second quarter 1884, has been exhibited and found correct. We find the balance to be $4,435.23.

JOHN A. MARTIN.
L. A. HARRIS.

The undersigned, auditing committee, have also made an examination of the store account, and find its condition to be as follows:

L. A. HARRIS.
JOHN A. MARTIN.

General Martin offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the president of the Board is authorized to appoint for each branch of the Home a council of administration, to consist of not less than three officers, which shall have charge of the management and expenditure of the home store fund at each branch, and no expenditure of any portion of said fund shall be made without the order of said council of administration, but no building shall be erected by said council without the order of the Board of Managers previously obtained.

The president caused to be read two letters to him and one to Colonel Harris from Dr. W. W. Godding, superintendent of the Government Hospital for the Insane, which were ordered to be spread upon the minutes, as follows:

GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE,
Washington, D. C., June 28, 1886.

DEAR SIR: Referring to your letter of the 26th instant, I would say that we have to-day 1,254 insane persons actually resident in the hospital, of whom 176 have been received from the National Home for Disabled Volunteers, under the United States Statutes at Large, Forty-seventh Congress, first session, chapter 433. This is the number remaining out of 288 admitted from the Home under authority of that act. It will be observed that this is considerably in excess of the number estimated at that time, and for whom the provision was made. The hospital is certainly sufficiently crowded at the present time, and except as vacancies occur by death and removal I do not see how any more can be received without positive discomfort and danger. Should Congress see fit to grant an appropriation for a distinct building for the convict and criminal insane, and the extensions of the lodges for the colored insane, which are estimated for by the Department, but have not been provided for in the sundry civil bill in the House, this would, within a year, enable us to provide for 100 additional insane from the Home. But we can not make bricks without straw, and unless the omission can be supplied in the Senate, I shall be unable to do any more in the future than we have done in the past, especially if the number of insane received from the District of Columbia continues as at present.

If Congress would only make the much-needed provision for these United States insane convicts, I think it would solve the difficulty, at least for some time to come.

Yours, very truly,

W. W. GODDING, Superintendent.

Col. L. A. HARRIS,
First Vice-President Board of Managers, National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, 400 West Seventh street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

I am, general, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. W. GODDING, Superintendent.

General W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, Hartford, Conn.

GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE,
Washington, D. C., July 13, 1886.

GENERAL: In reply to your letter of the 9th instant, I have to report that there were 150 members of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers remaining in this institution June 30, 1885, and that during the fiscal year just ended 80 were admitted, 26 discharged, 28 died. Remaining under treatment in the hospital June 30, 1886, 176.

I am, general, very respectfully, your obedient servant,
W. W. GODDING, Superintendent.

General W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, Hartford, Conn.

The president presented an application from the chairman of the Democratic committee of Leavenworth, Kans., for the loan of fifty bedsteads from the Western Branch, for the use of the Democratic Convention, which, on motion of Colonel Harris, was denied.

General Hyde presented the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the provisions of a resolution of July 25, 1870, making allowance for entertainment of visitors (Printed Minutes, Vol. I, page 72), be extended to the Southern and Western Branches from the respective dates of their organization.

General Martin offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the salaries of the governors of the several Branches of the Home, from and after the first day of July, 1886, shall be as follows, viz:

Central Branch, $3,300, and at the Northwestern, Eastern, Southern, and Western Branches, each $2,750.

These salaries shall be in full for all services, and in lieu of all money allowances, and the resolution adopted July 25, 1870, making an annual allowance for expenses and entertaining visitors, and all other resolutions of similar nature subsequently passed, are hereby repealed.

Captain Mitchell offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the office of assistant surgeon be established at the Northwestern Branch, and the president of the Board be authorized to appoint a suitable person to fill said office, his compensation to be the same as that now paid the second assistant surgeon of the Central Branch, said appointment to be subject to the approval of the Board.

The question of water supply at the Northwestern Branch, postponed from the last meeting (page 78, Vol. II, printed minutes), was referred to the local manager, with power.

Colonel Harris submitted a report as to the improved water supply at the Central Branch, showing that the system adopted was successful, and that an abundant supply was now obtained.

General Hyde offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the question of improved water supply at the Eastern Branch be left to the president and local manager, to report at the next meeting of the Board of Managers.

General Hyde offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the president of the Board be authorized to cause to be erected at the Eastern Branch a barrack like that built last year, to be placed near the hospital and to be used for hospital purposes.

General Negley offered the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That in case any responsible street railway company be organized to construct a street railway from Old Point Comfort and the town of Hampton to the Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, authority be given to said company to locate and construct its road through the grounds of the Home to convenient points in said grounds, under such rules and instructions as may be imposed by the Board of Managers.

Resolved, That the southern end of the plant conservatory at the Home at Hampton be rebuilt and improved, the old sash and material to be used elsewhere, the cost to be paid out of the store fund, the plan of said improvements to be approved by the president and local manager.

General Martin offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the correspondence concerning the "home avenue" road at the Leavenworth Branch, with the report of the Inspector-General on the same subject, be referred to the president and local manager, with authority to make such arrangements for the construction of the road as in their judgment may be regarded as to the best interest of the Home.

General McMahon offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That $3,500, or as much thereof as may be necessary, be appropriated for the building of a place for religious worship at the Eastern Branch, to be known as the Ward Memorial Chapel, and that the said amount to be expended be taken in equal part from the Ward fund and the store fund of said branch, and that the same be expended under the direction of the president and local manager.

The president reported that by virtue of authority heretofore conferred upon him (page 78, Vol. II, printed minutes), he had appointed Dr. Walter H. Leighton, of Lowell, Mass., assistant surgeon at the Eastern Branch.

On motion, the action of the president was confirmed, and Dr. Leighton was duly elected assistant surgeon of the Eastern Branch.

General Negley offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the sum of $5,000 be appropriated—$3,500 from the store fund and $1,500 from the Ward fund—to erect a convenient building for religious purposes at the Southern Branch, the plans and specifications for the same to be first approved by the president and local manager.

Colonel Harris offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the sum of $150,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary or expedient, be and is hereby appropriated for the construction and equipment of additional barracks or quarters, and all the necessary appurtenances thereto, at the Southern, Northwestern, and Western Branches, in conformity with the act of Congress approved June 30, 1886. That the disbursement shall be made under the direction of the president of the Board of Managers and the local manager of the respective branches.

General Negley offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the location and construction of an open-air pavilion at the Southern Branch be referred to the president of the Board and local manager, with power to complete the same at a cost not exceeding $3,000, the amount to be appropriated from the store fund.

General Negley offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the president of the Board be authorized and directed to continue the sanitary improvements at John's Creek, and advance the completion of the said work so soon as the appropriation now pending in Congress becomes a law.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That when the Board adjourn it be to meet at the Central Branch, near Dayton, Ohio, on September 23, 1886, at 11 a. m.

The Board then proceeded to the examination of applications for re-admission, for the remission of penalties, and effects of deceased members, and made the following orders:

CENTRAL BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

The following applications are referred to Colonel Harris, local manager, with power:

George Lawless, late Company C, One hundred and ninty-fifth Ohio Infantry.

William McCarrick, late Company B, Twenty-sixth New York Infantry, and Company B, Eighty-third Pennsylvania Infantry.

John Dolan, late Company F, Fourth New York Infantry, and Company A, Twenty-first New York Cavalry.

The application of Frederick G. Kingsley, late Company M, Third New York Light Artillery, is granted, on condition that he work without pay until the 1st of August, 1886.

The application of Michael Hoar, late Company E, Fifth Michigan Infantry, is granted, on condition that he be retained in Company No. 30, and restrained as to passes except on a special permit of the governor.

The following applications are denied:

William Chambers, late Company C, One hundred and sixteenth Pennsylvania Infantry.

David C. Shouls, late Company E, First New York Veteran Cavalry.

CENTRAL BRANCH—REMISSION OF PENALTIES.

Colonel Harris presented the application for remission of penalties in the case of Henry S. P. Fulton, late Company B, Eleventh Pennsylvania Reserve, with correspondence relating thereto, which, upon motion, was denied, for the reason that the action imposing penalties on petitioner was taken by the old board in 1873 when such action was fully authorized by law.

NORTHWESTERN BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

The following-named soldier, heretofore discharged, is, for sufficient reasons, re-admitted unconditionally:

Samuel Miles, late Company C, Fourth Pennsylvania Cavalry.

The following applications are denied:

Cornelius Kenney, late Company E, Twenty-eighth Massachusetts Infantry.

Archibald Nisbet, late Company C, Fifty-first Indiana Infantry.

James Morrison, late Company C, Fourth Illinois Cavalry.

NORTHWESTERN BRANCH—EFFECTS OF DECEASED MEMBERS.

The following applications are referred to Captain Mitchell, local manager, with power:

Luman E. Cole (brother), for the effects of Alonzo Cole, late Company B, Twenty-first Iowa Infantry.

Peter Prim (administrator), for the effects of Adam Prim, late Company A, Second New York Mounted Rifles.

EASTERN BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

The following-named soldier, heretofore discharged, is, for sufficient reasons, re-admitted unconditionally:

Peter Welch, late Company C, Seventy-eighth New York Infantry.

The application of Jerry Noonan, late Company G, Thirty-first Maine Infantry, is granted, with the understanding that he be discharged on violation of any of the rules of the Home.

The following applications are denied:

James Donavan, late Company C, Ninteenth Massachusetts Infantry.

Michael H. Corcoran, late Massachusetts Light Artillery.

Timothy Harrington, late Company C, First Rhode Island Light Artillery.

Samuel R. Phillips, late Company A, Second Massachusetts Infantry, and lieutenant Twentieth Veteran Reserve Corps.

EASTERN BRANCH—MISCELLANEOUS.

The application of Charles Fay, late Company D, Eighty-eighth New York Infantry, for rations outside of the Home, is denied, on the ground that the Board has no right or authority whatever to authorize the issue of rations to any one residing outside of the Home.

SOUTHERN BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

The following applications are denied:
D. A. Dow, late surgeon Fourth Illinois Cavalry.
Thomas Cassidy, late Company D, Ninth New York Infantry.
William McNamara, late Company I, Forty-eighth New York Infantry.

SOUTHERN BRANCH—EFFECTS OF DECEASED MEMBERS.

The application of Mrs. Julia A. Ross, for the effects of Alexander P. Fowler, late Company I, First United States Cavalry (Mexican war), is denied.

WESTERN BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

The following-named soldiers, heretofore discharged, are, for sufficient reasons, re-admitted unconditionally:
James F. Tebbetts, late Company H, Thirty-third Massachusetts Infantry.
Thomas Mahanna, late Company A, Eighth New Hampshire Infantry.
The Board then adjourned to meet at the Central Branch on Thursday, September 23, 1886.

M. T. McMAHON,
Secretary.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, SEPTEMBER 23, 1886.

CENTRAL BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME
FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
September 23, 1886.

The Board met in regular quarterly session at the Central Branch, near Dayton, Ohio, September 23, 1886, at 11 a. m.

Present: General William B. Franklin, president of the Board; Col. L. A. Harris, General John C. Black, and Capt. John L. Mitchell.

After inspecting the members, quarters, hospital, grounds, barracks, and works in course of construction, and after hearing the complaints of such members as desired to present themselves in person before the Board, the Board proceeded to the Western Branch, at Leavenworth, Kans., where they were joined by General John A. Martin and General Thomas W. Hyde.

After making the usual inspection and hearing the complaints of such members as desired to present themselves in person, the Board proceeded to the Northwestern Branch, at Milwaukee, Wis., where inspection was made and the complaints of members were heard.

The Board thereupon proceeded to New York, where they were joined by General M. T. McMahon and General James S. Negley, whose presence made a quorum.

The minutes of the last meeting were approved.

The president of the Board caused to be read an act approved August 4, 1886, as follows:

[PUBLIC No. 177.]

AN ACT making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1887, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby, appropriated for the objects hereinafter expressed, for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1887, namely:

GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

For current expenses of the Government Hospital for the Insane: For support, clothing, and treatment in the Government Hospital for the Insane of the insane inmates of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers * * * one hundred and ninety-five thousand dollars.

NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

For the support of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, as follows:

At the Central Branch, at Dayton, Ohio.—For current expenses, including subsistence, bedding, and clothing, six hundred and sixteen thousand dollars; pay of civilian employees, three thousand dollars; pay of inmate employees, thirty-five thousand two hundred dollars; and for general repairs, fifty-one thousand six hundred dollars; in all, seven hundred and five thousand eight hundred dollars.

At the Northwestern Branch, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.—For current expenses, including subsistence, bedding, and clothing, two hundred and three thousand dollars; for employees, four thousand dollars; for general repairs, twelve thousand six hundred dollars; in all, two hundred and nineteen thousand six hundred dollars.

For necessary construction and repairs at Southern Branch, Hampton, Virginia, under estimate in Appendix Jj, pages two hundred and ninety-nine and three hundred, Book of Estimates for eighteen hundred and eighty-seven, fifty-seven thousand five hundred dollars.

At the Western Branch, at Leavenworth, Kansas.—For current expenses, including subsistence, bedding, clothing, construction, and repairs, one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars.

For out-door relief and incidental expenses, fifteen thousand dollars; in all, one million six hundred and thirty-one thousand dollars. And hereafter the estimates for the support of the Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers shall be submitted by items.

Approved, August 4, 1886.

The president presented the estimates for the quarter ending 31st December, 1886, which, after careful revision, were agreed upon as follows:

Central Branch:
General	$149,676.50
Special	3,193.80
		$152,870.30

Northwestern Branch, general		47,591.00
Eastern Branch:
General	48,192.88
Special	5,000.00
		53,192.88
Southern Branch:
General	51,744.40
Special	3,900.00
		55,644.40
Western Branch:
General	35,851.53
Special	3,000.00
		38,851.53
Out-door relief and incidental expenses		4,000.00
Total		352,150.11

Whereupon the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers estimate and appropriate, out of the moneys which may be provided by law, the sum of $352,150.11, as necessary to meet the current expenses of the five branches of the Home for the quarter ending 31st December, 1886, and for construction and repairs, out-door relief, and incidental expenses of the National Home; and that the acting treasurer be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered to take such means as may be necessary to obtain the sum of $352,150.11 from the Treasury of the United States, and to receipt therefor in the name and behalf of the National Home.

On motion of General Black, Colonel Harris, local manager Central Branch, was authorized to investigate the relative cost and desirability of limestone and gravel, for use on the roads at the Central Branch, and report at the next meeting. Adopted.

The following resolution was, on motion, adopted:

Resolved, That the fitting up of the post-office with private lock-boxes be referred to the local manager, with power, and that the question of the disposition of the revenue arising therefrom be also referred to him, with instructions to correspond with the Postmaster-General on the subject.

General McMahon, having been appointed by the president of the Board to examine and audit the accounts of the treasurers of the Western and Northwestern Branches, presented the following reports:

NATIONAL MILITARY HOME,
Leavenworth County, Kans., August 21, 1886.

The undersigned has this day examined and audited the accounts of Maj. W. B. Shockley, treasurer of the Western Branch National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the year ending 30th June, 1886, and find the same to be correct and supported by the proper vouchers. The balance in his hands on the 30th June, 1886, was $432.43, belonging to the general fund of the Western Branch.

M. T. McMAHON.

I hereby certify that I have this day examined the accounts of General T. C. Moore, treasurer of Northwestern Branch National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the quarters ending September 30, 1884; December 31, 1884; March 31, 1885; June 30, 1885; September 30, 1885; December 31, 1885; March 31, 1886, and June 30, 1886, and find the same to be correct and supported by proper vouchers, with the exception of certain minor differences, which I have duly noted on his cash-book, as follows:

Voucher No. 103, for $1.50, is missing, and noted as withdrawn.

Voucher No. 109 is missing, but will be duplicated.

Voucher No. 148 differs from the cash-book entry. The voucher reads $3.50, the entry is $3.25.

Voucher No. 226 differs also, reading $7.05, while the entry is $7.10.

M. T. McMAHON.

NORTHWESTERN BRANCH, August 23, 1886.

Captain Mitchell, having been appointed by the president of the Board to audit the accounts of the Central Branch, presented the following report:

DAYTON, September 24, 1886.

I have this day examined the accounts of Col. J. B. Thomas, treasurer Central National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the year ending June 30, 1886. I find them correct and supported by proper vouchers.

On June 30, 1886, the balance in general fund was $16,425.91, and in store fund $19.26.

JNO. L. MITCHELL,
Committee on Examination of Accounts.

Generals Negley, Black, and Hyde were appointed a committee by the president of the Board to audit the accounts of the acting treasurer of the Home.

The communication of King & Williams, for water privileges at the Central Branch, was referred to Colonel Harris for report at next meeting.

The letter of Dr. D. W. Greene, oculist at the Central Branch, in regard to treatment of eye and ear diseases, was referred to the president of the Board, with power.

General Martin moved that the president of the Board be authorized to appoint an officiating clergyman at the Western Branch. Adopted.

General Martin moved that the right of way through the grounds of the Western Branch be granted to the Leavenworth Northern and Southern Railroad Company, on such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon. (See printed minutes, Vol. II, page 78.) Adopted.

A delegation from the Women's Christian Temperance Union appeared before the Board, and read a protest against the sale of beer on the grounds at the Western Branch, which was received and placed on file.

The president of the Board reported that by virtue of authority heretofore conferred upon him he had appointed John E. McIlvane assistant surgeon, Northwestern Branch. On motion, the action of the president was confirmed, and Dr. John E. McIlvane was duly elected assistant surgeon of said Branch. (See printed minutes, Vol. II, page 95.)

The application for increase of salary for treasurer's clerk at the Central Branch was referred to the president of the Board, with power.

The application of Mr. Green, treasurer's clerk at the Southern Branch, for increase of salary, was referred to the president of the Board, with power.

General Black having stated that the duties of the agent at Washington, D. C., could be performed in the office of the Commissioner of Pensions, without cost to the Home, the president of the Board was authorized to discontinue the office at his discretion.

General Negley moved that $2,500 from the store fund, or so much as may be necessary, be appropriated, in addition to $5,000 heretofore allowed, for the erection of a chapel at the Southern Branch. (See printed minutes, Vol. II, page 96.) Adopted.

General Hyde moved that $1,500 from the store fund be appropriated, in addition to the $3,500 heretofore allowed, for a building "for religious worship at the Eastern Branch, to be known as the Ward memorial chapel." (See printed minutes, Vol. II, page 96.) Adopted.

General Negley moved to repair and fit up one of the old buildings at the Southern Branch for a store, with the necessary accommodations; necessary expense to be defrayed from the store fund. Adopted.

General Negley moved that the question of electric light and gas at the Southern Branch be referred to the president of the Board and local manager, for report at next meeting. Adopted.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That when the Board adjourn it be to meet on the 17th day of December next, in the city of Washington, D. C.

The Board then adjourned, to meet in the city of Washington on the 17th day of December, 1886, at 11 a. m.

M. T. McMAHON,
Secretary.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, DECEMBER 17, 1886.

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 17, 1886.

Absent: The President of the United States; the Chief Justice; the Secretary of War.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The president presented the estimates for the quarter ending 31st March, 1887, which, after careful revision, were agreed upon as follows:

Central Branch, general		$146,544.03
Northwestern Branch, general		51,422.72
Eastern Branch, general		40,409.66
Southern Branch:
General	$50,899.40
Special	6,500.00
		57,399.40
Western Branch:
General	40,093.09
Special	2,700.00
		42,793.09
Bedding and clothing		75,000.00
Out-door relief and incidental expenses		4,000.00
Total		417,568.90

Whereupon the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers estimate and appropriate out of the moneys which may be provided by law the sum of $417,568.90, as necessary to meet the current expenses of the five branches of the Home for the quarter ending March 31, 1887, and for construction and repairs, out-door relief, and incidental expenses of the National Home; and that the acting treasurer be, and he is hereby, authorized to take such means as may be necessary to obtain the sum of $417,568.90 from the Treasury of the United States, and to receipt therefor in the name and behalf of the National Home.

The president submitted draught of the annual report of the Board to Congress, which was discussed at length, and, after certain modifications, was adopted.

The president announced that Dr. A. S. Dunlap, first assistant surgeon of the Central Branch, had resigned, and that he had selected Dr. R. H. Grube, heretofore second assistant surgeon, to be first assistant surgeon, at a salary of $1,000, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Dunlap.

The president also announced the death of Dr. Wallace Bolan, surgeon of the Eastern Branch, and informed the Board that he had promoted Dr. William H. Leighton to be surgeon, to fill the vacancy thus created, subject to the approval of the Board.

Upon motion, the action of the president was confirmed, and Dr. R. H. Grube was elected first assistant surgeon of the Central Branch, and Dr. William H. Leighton surgeon of the Eastern Branch.

The president presented certain communications from the governor and surgeon of the Western Branch, which were read to the Board, and, after full discussion, were referred back to the president.

On motion, the office of assistant surgeon of the Western Branch was created, and the salary fixed at $1,000, and the president of the Board was thereupon authorized to make the appointment, subject to the approval of the Board.

The report of General Moore, secretary and treasurer of the Northwestern Branch, on the accident by which Jesse Webb, Ninety-seventh Illinois Volunteers, was injured in the elevator shaft, and the claim for compensation therefor, was submitted and read. After examination of the report of General Moore and the evidence submitted, the application for compensation was denied.

General Hyde, in reporting on the matter of the water supply at the Eastern Branch, submitted a proposition from the Augusta Water Company, which was read and discussed by the Board.

On motion of General Black, the matter was referred to the president and local manager, to prepare a contract with the Augusta Water Company, with certain modifications of their proposition as to time and terms of agreement, and with certain conditions, such as are found in the contract made by the Board with the Leavenworth Water Company, and submit the same at the next meeting.

General Martin presented the following proposition of Messrs. Neely & Insley to donate the right of way and open a road to the Western Branch from the city limits, through grounds owned by them adjoining the Home grounds:

LEAVENWORTH, KANS., December 13, 1886.

GENTLEMEN: We have the honor to herewith hand you a sketch of proposed road or street, commencing at a point on Fourth street, and running as indicated on plat, through Neely & Insley grounds, to north line of Soldiers' Home grounds; together with sketch showing elevations, cuts, fills, etc. Also, plat of proposed road from Penitentiary, or Kansas City road, through what is known as the "Bain tract," to west line of Soldiers' Home grounds; together with city engineer's estimate of cost thereof.

ESTIMATE OF COST OF STREET THROUGH NEELY & INSLEY GROUNDS.

Grading 25,000 yards, at 20 cents	$5,000

OUR PROPOSITION.

We propose to donate the street, 70 feet wide, to the city, grade the same so as to make a good road, build the required bridge, as per plat herewith, for the sum of $3,500.

The proposed street or road being within the corporate limits of the city, it will necessarily follow that the city will take care of all repairing, and keep the street in proper condition for travel after it is opened to the public. A road opened through the 2 "Bain tract" would cross two railroads between the Kansas City road and Home grounds, to which we respectfully call your attention. It would also be outside of the corporate limits and would necessarily have to be kept up at the expense of the Home. If our proposition is accepted we will have the road ready for travel early as possible next spring.

Very respectfully, your obedient servants,

NEELY & INSLEY.

Generals WILLIAM B. FRANKLIN and JOHN A. MARTIN, Committee, Washington, D. C.

After discussion the following resolution was adopted:

That the president of the Board be authorized to make suitable arrangements for the opening of a road into the grounds of the Western Branch upon such terms as may be found to be for the best interests of the Home.

Upon motion of Captain Mitchell, it was ordered that an additional officer be appointed at the Northwestern Branch, to be known as secretary of the branch, and who shall perform the duties of that office and such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Board of Managers or the president thereof, and upon the appointment of such officer the present treasurer and secretary of such branch shall be thereafter known as the treasurer of the branch, and shall perform the duties properly appertaining to that office; and that the president of the Board be empowered to make the appointment herein authorized and fix the salary thereof, subject to the approval of the Board.

The president appointed General Hyde, General McMahon, and Captain Mitchell to audit the accounts of the acting treasurer. The committee subsequently submitted the following report, which was adopted:

WASHINGTON, D. C., December 18, 1886.

The undersigned have this day examined and audited the accounts of General W. B. Franklin, acting treasurer of the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the quarter ending September 30, 1886, and find the same correct and supported by proper vouchers.

The balance in his hands on the 30th of September, 1886, was $114,072.18, belonging to the general fund; $10,421.48 belonging to the Western Branch fund, and $34,466 belonging to the additional barracks fund. Total, $158,959.66.

THOMAS W. HYDE,
JOHN L. MITCHELL,
M. T. MCMAHON,
Committee.

Colonel Harris submitted a report on the claim, heretofore referred to him, of the executors of the estate of S. M. King to the right to tap the water main at the Central Branch. The report was accompanied with papers and proofs, and, after full discussion and careful consideration, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the privilege of tapping the water main of the Central Branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers by W. B. King, as specified in an agreement of June 29, 1886, and signed by General M. R. Patrick, governor, be, and is hereby, revoked and declared void and of no effect whatever.

The president presented a letter from Col. Theo. Yates, U. S. Army, retired, asking that certain action taken by the Board in 1875, in his case, be reconsidered (printed minutes, page 312, Vol. I).

After discussion and explanation of the circumstances by General Negley, the motion was denied, and the president directed to inform Colonel Yates, who was in waiting. Colonel Yates subsequently appeared before the Board in person, and made an explanation, claiming that he had never been made aware of the precise action taken by the Board, as shown in its resolution of 1875.

The whole subject, after further discussion, was referred to the president for further inquiry.

Upon motion, it was resolved that when the Board adjourn it be to meet in New York City, on Tuesday the 19th day of April, 1887.

Committees of the Board were appointed to consult with the committees of Congress on the pending legislation concerning the appropriations and other matters of importance to the Home.

The Board then proceeded to the consideration of applications for re-admission, remission of penalties, and effects of deceased members, and made the following orders:

CENTRAL BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

The following applications are denied:

O. M. Wilson (alias Cherokee), late Company D, Eighth California Infantry.

William Henry, late Company H, Eighth Connecticut Infantry.

NORTHWESTERN BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

Robert Willard, late Company D, Eleventh Connecticut Infantry.

Patrick Crowley, late Company I, Seventh Illinois Infantry.

William F. Kelly, late Company I, Thirty-third New Jersey Infantry.

Charles E. Redburg, late Company I, Eleventh Ohio Infantry.

NORTHWESTERN BRANCH—EFFECTS OF DECEASED MEMBERS.

The following applications for the effects of deceased members are referred to Capt. John L. Mitchell, local manager, with power:

John Platzer and others for the effects of John Platzer, late Company F, Seventy-fourth Pennsylvania Infantry.

John Green (brother), for the effects of Timothy Green, late Company G, Thirty-sixth New York Infantry.

EASTERN BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

James McCluskey, late Company F, Second New Jersey Infantry, is re-admitted on condition that he pay by labor the cost of transportation from New York to Augusta, Me., a penalty heretofore imposed, for which he is still indebted to the Home.

The following applications are denied:

John B. Whalen, late Company B, Twelfth Massachusetts Infantry.

Patrick McCarthy, late Company D, Twenty-eighth Massachusetts Infantry.

SOUTHERN BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

The following-named soldier, heretofore discharged, is, for sufficient reasons, re-admitted unconditionally:

Martin O'Neal, late Company G, First California Cavalry.

The following applications are denied:

William Hitte, late Company D, Sixty-seventh New York Infantry.

Robert H. Spencer, late Company A, Fourteenth New York Heavy Artillery.

Michael Keith, late Company H, Twenty-third Kentucky Infantry.

SOUTHERN BRANCH—EFFECTS OF DECEASED MEMBERS.

The applications of Mrs. Dempster (widow), for the effects of H. P. Dempster, late Company K, Thirtieth Ohio Infantry, is granted, and the treasurer is ordered to make payment accordingly, taking the necessary vouchers.

The application of H. M. Albertson, attorney for Annie Price, for the effects of Henry Price, late Company C, Ninetieth Pennsylvania Infantry, is referred to General Negley, local manager, with power.

The following applications are granted on the production of proper letters of administration:

Sophia Francis (widow), for the effects of Lewis Francis, late U. S. Navy.

Rev. Father Mercer, C. P., for the effects of Edward Comerford, late Company E, Fourth U. S. Army (Mexican war).

Mrs. Isabella Raleigh (widow), for the effects of William Raleigh, late Company I, One hundred and fourth New York Infantry.

SOUTHERN BRANCH—MISCELLANEOUS.

The application of John H. Gleason, brevet brigadier-general United States Volunteers, for transfer and transportation to the Western Branch, is denied.

WESTERN BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR RE-ADMISSION.

The following-named soldier, heretofore discharged from the Eastern Branch, is, for sufficient reasons, re-admitted to the Western Branch unconditionally:

H. W. Boyden, late Company E, Sixty-first Massachusetts Infantry.

The application of George Barter, late Company H, First Indiana Cavalry, is referred to General Martin, local manager, with power.

The application of George Fitzclarence, late Company F, Fourth California Infantry, is granted on condition that he labor without pay one hundred and six days, a penalty heretofore imposed which still remains unperformed.

The Board then adjourned to meet in the city of New York, on Tuesday, April 19, 1887, at 11 a. m.

M. T. McMAHON,
Secretary.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, APRIL 19, 1887.

NEW YORK, April 19, 1887.

The Board met in regular quarterly meeting at the New York Hotel, at 11 a. m.

Present: General William B. Franklin, president of the Board; Col. Leonard A. Harris, first vice-president; General John A. Martin, second vice-president; General Martin T. McMahon, secretary; General James S. Negley; General John C. Black; General Thomas W. Hyde; General William J. Sewell.

Absent: The President, the Chief-Justice of the United States, the Secretary of War, Capt. John L. Mitchell.

A telegram was received from Captain Mitchell, stating that although he was present in the city to attend the meeting, he was detained by the dangerous illness of his father.

During the temporary absence of the president of the Board, Colonel Harris, first vice-president, occupied the chair.

On motion, the minutes of the last meeting were approved.

[PUBLIC No. 114.]

AN ACT to provide for the location and erection of a branch home for disabled volunteer soldiers west of the Rocky Mountains.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers are hereby authorized, empowered, and directed to locate, establish, construct, and permanently maintain a branch of said National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, to be by such Board located at such place in the States west of the Rocky Mountains as to said Board shall appear most desirable and advantageous; and that the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars be, and the same is hereby, appropriated, out of any money in the United States Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be paid to the said Board of Managers, and by them expended in carrying out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. That all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who served in the regular and volunteer forces of the United States, and who are disabled by disease, wounds, or otherwise, and who have no adequate means of support, and by reason of such disability are incapable of earning their living, shall be entitled to be admitted to said Home for disabled volunteer soldiers, subject to like regulations as they are now admitted to existing branches of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

SEC. 3. That as soon thereafter as practicable from the approval of this act the said Board of Managers shall secure the necessary lands, and commence the erection of suitable buildings for the use of said branch.

SEC. 4. That William Blanding, of San Francisco, California, be, and he is hereby, appointed a manager of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, to serve until the second day of April, eighteen hundred and ninety-two; and that hereafter the number of managers of the said Home, elected by Congress, shall be ten instead of nine, as at present, one of whom shall be a resident of a State or Territory west of the Rocky Mountains.

Approved, March 2, 1887.

[PUBLIC No. 148.]

AN ACT making appropriations for sundry civil expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1888, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the following sums be, and the same are hereby, appropriated, for the objects hereinafter expressed, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888, namely:

GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE.

For current expenses of the Government Hospital for the Insane: For support, clothing, and treatment in the Government Hospital for the Insane of the insane from * * * inmates of the National Homes for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers * * * one hundred and ninety-nine thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight dollars.

* * * * * * *

NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

And hereafter the detailed statement of the expenses of the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers shall be reported direct to Congress in the annual report of the Board of Managers. But all of the expenditures of the said Home, including the expenses of the Board of Managers, shall be made subject to the general laws governing the disbursement of public moneys, so far as the same can be made applicable thereto, and shall be audited by the proper accounting officers of the Treasury, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury: Provided, further, That no person shall be eligible to or hold any position or employment in the government or management of any home (branch) who is interested in, or connected with, directly or indirectly, any brewery, dram-shop, or distillery, in the State where such home is located.

Approved, March 3, 1887.

Whereupon Capt. William Blanding was introduced and took his seat.

On motion, the Board proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing year.

President—General William B. Franklin.

First Vice-President—Col. Leonard A. Harris.

Second Vice-President—General John A. Martin.

Secretary—General Martin T. McMahon.

The committee heretofore appointed to audit the accounts of the acting treasurer of the Home submitted the following report:

HARTFORD, CONN., April 16, 1887.

The undersigned have this day examined and audited the accounts of General W. B. Franklin, acting treasurer of the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, for the quarters ending December 31, 1886, and March 31, 1887, and find the same correct and supported by proper vouchers.

The balance in his hands on March 31, 1887, was $3,872.62 belonging to the general fund, $2,175.47 belonging to the Western Branch fund, and $42,520.19 belonging to the additional barracks fund; total, $48,568.28.

L. A. HARRIS,
M. T. MCMAHON,
JOHN C. BLACK,
Committee.

HARTFORD, CONN., April 16, 1887.

The undersigned have this day examined and audited the Ward fund account and the Western Branch improvement fund account up to and including the quarter ending March 31, 1887, and find the same correct and supported by proper vouchers.

The balance in the hands of General W. B. Franklin, acting treasurer of the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, on March 31, 1887, was $71,787.70 belonging to the Ward fund, and $44,691.58 belonging to the Western Branch improvement fund; total, $116,479.28.

And we further certify that we have this day personally seen and examined the bonds shown as on hand in these accounts on March 31, 1887, and found the same correct.

JOHN C. BLACK,
M. T. MCMAHON,
L. A. HARRIS,
Committee.

The following circular, heretofore issued by the president, was read and ordered entered on the minutes:

THE NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
Hartford, Conn., February 11, 1887.

In the direction of the action of the Board of Managers regarding the rank and pay of the commissioned officers of the Home (Printed Minutes, Vol. 1, page 3), it is hereby ordered that the uniforms of such officers shall be the following, viz: Governor, colonel of the staff of the U. S. Army; treasurer, secretary, and surgeon, major of the staff of U. S. Army; other commissioned officers, captain of the staff U. S. Army. The department of the staff shall not be designated.

These uniforms shall be worn by the officers when the members are paraded for review or inspection, and at such other times as the governor may designate.

They shall also be worn when the Home is officially visited and inspected by the Board of Managers or any of its members.

This order is not to be construed to interfere with section 1226, Revised Statutes of the United States, which permits volunteer officers of the United States to wear, upon occasions of ceremony, the uniform of the highest grade they held, by brevet or other commissions, in the volunteer service.

The governor of a branch of the Home may authorize and require its members to wear upon their caps the device designating the Army corps to which they belonged while in service.

The device shall be made from flannel or cloth, of the proper color, and the cost shall be defrayed from the post fund.

W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers, National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

The secretary made a statement with regard to interviews held with the representatives of the various railway lines on the subject of the transportation at reduced rates of the members of the Home to and from the various branches.

After discussion, on motion, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That General John C. Black be appointed a committee to present to the Interstate Railroad Commission the question of the reduction of railroad rates to members of the Home, and to secure from said Commission a ruling allowing the continuance of the system in force prior to April 1, 1887.

The following report of Dr. W. W. Godding, superintendent of the Government Insane Asylum, Washington, D. C., was read and ordered on the minutes:

GOVERNMENT HOSPITAL FOR THE INSANE,
Washington, D. C., April 5, 1887.

GENERAL: I have the honor to acquaint you with the following changes during the quarter ending March 31, 1887, among the inmates of this hospital admitted from the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers:

ADMITTED.

1. Alonzo Smith, late private Company B, Fifth Michigan Infantry, January 29, from visit.
2. Patrick Heavy, late private Company H, Second New Jersey Volunteers, February 18.
3. Theodore J. Patrick, late private Company H, Twenty-fourth Wisconsin Volunteers, February 18.

DISCHARGED.

1. Ebenezer Riefinburgh, late private Company K, Eleventh Wisconsin Volunteers.—Admitted June 5, 1886; died January 27, 1887, of senile dementia, with tuberculosis and congestion of lungs.

2. Mason Davis, late musician Company E, One hundred and sixtieth New York Volunteers.—Admitted November 4, 1886; improved February 8, 1887.

3. John E. Fleming, late private Company A, Sixth, and Company G, Seventh West Virginia Volunteers.—Admitted June 14, 1886; died March 9, 1887, of general paralysis of the insane, with epelipti-form convulsions.

4. William English, late private Company B, Eighty-ninth Indiana Volunteers.—Admitted June 28, 1873; died March 16, 1887, of chronic epeliptic dementia, with diarrhea and inanition.

I am, general, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. W. GODDING,
Superintendent.

General W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers National Home Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, Hartford, Conn.

In the discussion of the question of the admission of insane applicants who are eligible for admission to the Home to the Government Hospital for the Insane, under the provisions of the act of August 7, 1882, it was elicited as the sense of the Board of Managers, that the order for admission of any manager, of an applicant, ipso facto, gave the applicant the legal status of a member of the Home, and that he became entitled thereby to all the rights and privileges of a member. It was further concluded that, in a proper case, the order of the president of the Board for the admission of such member to said hospital could and should be sent direct to the member at his residence, and that transportation should be sent for such insane member direct to such hospital, thus avoiding the sending to a branch of the Home; such transportation not to include any person other than the insane member.

The chair presented the following copy of a letter, addressed by the president of the Board, to Col. Theodore Yates:

HARTFORD, CONN., January 18, 1887.

SIR: Your letter of the 14th instant has been received. I inclose you a copy of the minute of the Board of Managers in your case, of December 17 last.

The only inquiry that I have been able to make in the matter is to examine the journal of the proceedings of the Board in relation thereto. I find that it was thoroughly investigated, and the last resolution (that of which you complain) was the unanimous act of the Board—nine members being present. Of these nine, Chief-Justice Waite and General Negley are now on the Board.

I shall take no further action in the matter, and if you make any further communication to me on the subject, I shall refer it to the Board of Managers.

Very respectfully yours,

W. B. FRANKLIN,
President.

Col. THEO. YATES,
No. 519 Sixth Street N. W., Washington, D. C.

The president of the Board having arrived, assumed the chair.

Captain Blanding presented the following resolutions of the Veterans' Home Association of California, which were read and ordered on the minutes:

HEADQUARTERS, VETERANS' HOME ASSOCIATION,
No. 420 Montgomery Street, Room 14, San Francisco, Cal., 1-8 .

Whereas the association has heretofore offered to give the United States all its property at Yountville, in this State, if the United States would establish there a branch of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, and for the purpose of carrying out the trust now resting upon this body;

Whereas the Congress of the United States, to whom said offer was made, has recently passed an act to establish a branch of said Home west of the Rocky Mountains: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Managers of said National Home be, and is hereby, respectfully invited to visit, inspect, and accept the said property for the purpose of establishing there a branch of said Home, as contemplated by said act of Congress.

Resolved, That the board of directors of this association be, and is hereby, authorized and instructed to take such steps as may be necessary to transfer the said property to the United States, if the same shall be accepted, for the purpose aforesaid.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, duly certified by the president and secretary, under the seal of the association, be forwarded, through Capt. William Blanding, to said Board of Managers.

We hereby certify that the foregoing resolutions were regularly adopted, by a unanimous vote, by the Veterans' Home Association of California, at a meeting held at Grand Army headquarters, in the city and county of San Francisco, April 10, 1887.

[SEAL.] JAMES A. WAYMIRE,
President Veterans' Home Association of California.
A. L. ROCKWELL,
Secretary Veterans' Home Association of California.

Captain Blanding made a full explanation in regard to the desire of the California Veterans' Home Association as to their property, and gave a description of the site and the buildings thereon.

Communications were received and read from the boards of trade of the cities of Los Angeles and Santa Rosa, proposing sites for the new branch at or near those cities.

Several other communications upon the same subject were received from points west of the Rocky Mountains.

General Black presented written statistics as to the rain-fall in Napa Valley, Cal, in 1884, in connection with the subject of the water supply at the home offered by the Veterans' Home Association of California.

After considerable discussion, on motion of General Negley, it was—

Resolved, That the Board at its autumn meeting proceed to visit and examine the proposed sites for the new branch of the Home west of the Rocky Mountains.

Upon motion of General Black, it was ordered that a committee of three be appointed to consider the time of visiting the proposed sites, and the question of water supply and other requirements at the points offered for selection.

The president appointed for such committee General Black, General Martin, and General Negley.

Mr. L. T. Smith, of Leavenworth, president of the Leavenworth Northern and Southern Railway Company, appeared before the Board in regard to the proposed switch to the boiler-house at the Western Branch, heretofore contracted for.

His written proposition, addressed to the president, that the Home should bear one-third of the expense of building the same, was submitted and read to the Board, and Mr. Smith was heard in person on the subject.

Upon motion of General Negley, it was ordered that a committee of three, the president being one, be appointed to consider the question of the proposed modification of the contract with the railroad companies, as requested by Mr. Smith, in regard to the expense of building the switch, such committee to report back to the Board.

The president appointed as members of such committee General Sewell and General Black.

The president presented the estimates for the quarter ending 30th June, 1887, which, after careful revision, were agreed upon as follows:

Central Branch, general		$141,527.39
Northwestern Branch, general		52,253.49
Eastern Branch, general		58,700.98
Southern Branch:
General	$49,152.15
Special	59,010.00
		108,162.15
Western Branch, general		48,551.53
Bedding and clothing		64,418.83
Out-door relief and incidental expenses		4,000.00
Total		477,614.37

Whereupon the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the Board of Managers of the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers estimate and appropriate out of the moneys which may be provided by law the sum of $477,614.37 as necessary to meet the current expenses of the five branches of the Home for the quarter ending 30th June, 1887, and for construction and repairs, out-door relief, and incidental expenses of the National Home; and that the acting treasurer be, and he is hereby, authorized and empowered to take such means as may be necessary to obtain the sum of $477,614.37 from the Treasury of the United States, and to receipt therefor in the name and behalf of the National Home.

On motion, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the president and acting treasurer of the Board be, and he is hereby, authorized to legally purchase bedding, clothing and materials for the same, tableware, and cutlery for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1888.

General Martin offered the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the president of the Board be authorized and instructed to sell, after due advertisement, the tract of land at the Western Branch known as the "Morgan tract," said land, or so much of it as may be disposed of, to be sold at not less than $300 per acre.

Resolved, That the money derived from the sale of this land shall be devoted to the improvement and adornment of the Western Branch of the Home.

After a lengthy discussion, a vote was ordered to be taken by ayes and noes, which resulted as follows:

Ayes: General Franklin, Colonel Harris, General Martin, General McMahon, General Negley, General Hyde, Captain Blanding (7).

Noes: General Black, General Sewell (2).

The resolution was thereupon declared adopted, whereupon General Black moved that the consent of the corporate authorities of the city of Leavenworth and of the immediate grantors be first obtained for the sale of the Morgan tract, as provided for in the preceding resolution.

General McMahon moved as an amendment that the words "and of the immediate grantors" be stricken out.

Ayes: Colonel Harris, General Martin, General Sewell, Captain Blanding, General Negley, General Hyde, General McMahon (7).

Noes: General Franklin, General Black (2).

The amendment was thereupon declared carried.

The resolution was thereupon read and adopted, as follows:

Resolved, That the consent of the corporate authorities of the city of Leavenworth be first obtained for the sale of the Morgan tract, as provided for in the preceding resolution.

The Board then took a recess until the following day.

NEW YORK, April 20, 1887.

The Board reconvened at 11 o'clock a. m., the same members being present as on the preceding day.

Colonel Harris submitted a report as to the enlargement of the hospital at the Central Branch, and, on motion, the question of such enlargement was referred back to Colonel Harris, with power.

General Black presented further papers in relation to the Branch authorized to be established west of the Rocky Mountains, which were received and read.

General Hyde, to whom the matter was heretofore referred, reported on the subject of the water supply at the Eastern Branch, and submitted the following proposition from the Augusta Water Company:

AUGUSTA, ME., January 4, 1887.

SIR: The Augusta Water Company, of Augusta, Me., desire to withdraw their offer made December 1, 1886, to furnish water for the Eastern Branch Home, at Togus, Me., and substitute therefor the following proposition:

This company will lay sufficient cast-iron main pipes to or near the buildings of the Eastern Branch Home, and will lay such an amount of distributive pipes as will properly connect all hydrants, fountains, and watering-trough at their expense; and will furnish, set, and maintain in good order until this contract shall be terminated twelve three-nozzle hydrants, with proper gates and connections; said hydrants to be gate or valve, as you may select. All the work to be completed ready for delivery of water on or before July 1, 1887. Water to be taken from the Kennebec River, above the dam, and to be supplied to the Branch Home for fire protection, hydraulic elevators, drinking, cooking, building, bathing, steam, and heating purposes, sufficient for its wants, whatever they may be; will also furnish water for six small ornamental fountains and one public water-trough, as you may require it, for the sum of $200 per month for the first year, $250 per month for the second year, $350 per month for the third year, $450 per month for the fourth and fifth years, payments to be made at the end of each quarter, and to commence from July 1, 1887. No greater sum than $450 per month will be demanded or required by the water company for the supply of the Home, under the above conditions, unless the number of members residing at the Branch shall exceed 3,000, when such additional sum shall be paid as will make the rate per member the same as when $450 monthly is paid for 3,000 members; the number of members present at the Home on June 30 of each year to be the basis of the monthly payments for the next year. Whatever conditions may be required as to payments being conditioned upon appropriations, and cancellation of the contract upon twelve months' notice, will be accepted by this company. Should the supply of water be interrupted, except by unavoidable accident or by temporary stoppage for necessary repairs, the company is to pay the Home whatever damage it may suffer in consequence of such interruption, such damage to be determined by arbitration.

Very truly, yours,

JOSEPH R. BODWELL,
President Augusta Water Company.

General WILLIAM B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers, National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, Hartford, Conn.

After full discussion, upon motion of General Black, it was resolved that the proposition of the water company be accepted, as the basis of a contract to be executed hereafter, with proper conditions.

The president reported that he had made the following appointments, subject to the approval of the Board:

General Kilburn Knox to be secretary of the Northwestern Branch, at a salary of $1,800.

Dr. Henry Negley to be second assistant surgeon at the Central Branch, at a salary of $600.

Dr. O. C. McNary to be assistant surgeon at the Western Branch, at a salary of $1,000.

Dr. H. L. Staples to be assistant surgeon at the Eastern Branch. Salary heretofore fixed.

On motion, these appointments by the president were, respectively, confirmed by the Board.

The president brought up for consideration the question of constructing additional quarters for the secretary and assistant surgeon at the Northwestern Branch, and of making necessary repairs in quarters already constructed.

On motion of Colonel Harris, $7,000 were appropriated from the general fund for construction of the quarters required, and $3,000 for the repairs of existing quarters at the Northwestern Branch, to be expended under the direction of the local manager.

The president presented an estimate of the expense of introducing the Williames system of steam-heating at the Eastern Branch, and, on motion, it was resolved that the system be introduced at that branch, subject to the approval of the local manager and governor.

On motion of General Martin, the president of the Board was authorized to proceed with the construction of the hospital at the Western Branch, for which appropriation was made by the last Congress.

On motion of General Martin, it was resolved that the practice of firing the morning and evening gun at the various branches be continued, as heretofore, and that the powder used be furnished at the expense of the post fund when practicable.

General Martin offered the following resolution:

Whereas the sale of intoxicating liquors within the limits of the State of Kansas is prohibited by the constitution and laws of that State except for medical, mechanical, or scientific purposes; and

Whereas the Western Branch of the Home is located in the State of Kansas: Therefore,

Resolved, That the sale of intoxicating liquors on the Home grounds, at the Western or Leavenworth Branch, shall not be permitted, except in strict accordance with the laws of the State of Kansas.

After full discussion, the resolution, on motion, was laid on the table, General Martin voting in the negative.

General McMahon offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Inasmuch as complaints have been made that at certain branches of the Home beer has been sold to citizens, contrary to the regulations heretofore in force: Therefore,

Resolved, That the sale of beer be restricted to the officers, members, and employés of the Home. Also, that the executive officers of the several branches are directed to see that this regulation be strictly enforced.

The president of the Board read a telegram just received from Capt. John L. Mitchell, announcing the death of his father, whereupon, on motion of the president, it was—

Resolved, That the Board sincerely sympathizes with Capt. John L. Mitchell in the irreparable loss that he has sustained by the unexpected death of his distinguished and revered father.

The Board then took a recess, and proceeded to visit the Southern Branch, at Hampton, Virginia.

The Board re-convened at the Southern Branch on April 21, at 11 a. m., and proceeded to inspect and review the members of the Home, and to the usual examination of barracks, grounds, quarters, etc.

The committee on the application of the Leavenworth Northern and Southern Railway Company for modification of their contract with the Home to the effect that the Home be required to bear one-third of the expense of building the switch to the boiler-house, reported, and recommended that the request of the company be granted, upon the following conditions:

That there shall be no additional charge for service rendered within the Home grounds.

That the trains be run for the convenience of the Home.

That the tracks and road-bed be kept in sightly condition, grassed outside the rails, etc.

That the track on switch or sidings shall not be used for the storage of rolling-stock.

That the governor of the Home shall be authorized to see that these conditions be fulfilled.

That the expense to the Home shall be limited to one-third of the actual total cost, and shall in no case exceed $5,000.

On motion, the report was adopted, and the president was authorized to execute the necessary supplementary contract, in accordance with the foregoing recommendations.

On motion of General Negley, it was—

Resolved, That the sum of $477, in addition to the amount heretofore allowed, be appropriated for completing the commissary building at the Southern Branch.

On motion of General Negley, it was—

Resolved, That $4,500, or so much thereof as, in the opinion of the president of the Board, may be found necessary, be appropriated for the construction of quarters at the Southern Branch for the engineer and book-keeper.

On motion of General Negley, it was—

Resolved, That $5,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, be appropriated from the store fund of the Home for the erection of a pavilion near the water front at the Southern Branch, as a place of out-door resort for members and visitors.

The secretary presented the petition of Union Veteran Lodge No. 540, Good Templars, for the erection of a society hall on the Home grounds for the purpose of the lodge.

On motion, it was—

Resolved, That the governor be directed to permit the use of Memorial Hall by the Union Veteran Lodge at such reasonable times as will not interfere with the convenience of the members of the Home generally.

The committee appointed to report upon the time of visiting the sites proposed for the new branch west of the Rocky Mountains, submitted the following:

Resolved, (1) That the Board meet at the Central Branch, at Dayton, Ohio, on Thursday, September 1, 1887, and proceed to make the annual tour of inspection provided by law of the Branches at Dayton, Milwaukee, and Leavenworth.

(2) That after the completion of such inspection, the Board proceed to the country west of the Rocky Mountains to inspect the several sites proposed as a location for the branch of the Home to be established west of the Rocky Mountains, as provided by the act approved March 2, 1887.

(3) That the president of this board be, and he is hereby, authorized to cause preliminary examination to be made of the grounds offered in the Napa valley, in the State of California, to determine whether there can be obtained at that point an abundant and convenient supply of water for a branch of the Home to accommodate 1,000 members.

(4) That the president of this Board be instructed to communicate, also, with the authorities of other points on the Pacific coast where sites have been offered, and request that statements be prepared and furnished showing water supply, range of thermometer, and other facts concerning climate, food supplies, etc.

(5) To carry out the provisions of the act of March 2, 1887, aforesaid, the sum of $5,000 is hereby set apart, to be expended under the direction of the president.

On motion, the report was received and its recommendations adopted.

On motion of General Black, Captain Blanding was appointed a committee of one to arrange for the transportation of the Board west of the Rocky Mountains.

On motion of General Black, it was—

Resolved, That brick trenches for steam pipes at the Southern Branch, as already designated, be built, to be paid for from the general fund, the cost not to exceed $5,000; and that $2,000 may be expended in completing the plumbing of the latrine building.

The Board then proceeded to hear complaints and statements of members who desire to come before the Board in person, previous public announcement having been made of the time and place of such hearing.

Certain bills of counsel employed in cases against the Home for damages done by sewage at the Central Branch were received and considered, and, on motion, were referred to Col. L. A. Harris, local manager, for examination and report.

The petition of Frederick Shoop, farmer, to the Board of Managers for compensation on account of damages sustained by him from sewage discharged through his grounds, near the Central Branch, was received and read, and, on motion, was referred to Col. L. A. Harris, local manager, for examination and report.

On motion, it was—

Resolved, That when the Board adjourn it be to meet in the city of Boston, Mass., on the 5th day of July, 1887, at 11 a. m.

The Board then proceeded to the examination of applications for readmissions, remission of penalties, and effects of deceased members, and made the following orders:

CENTRAL BRANCH—APPLICATIONS FOR ORIGINAL ADMISSION.

The application of John Jacob Buck, late Company B, Second Battalion, Twelfth United States Infantry, for original admission is referred to Col. L. A. Harris, local manager, with power.

WESTERN BRANCH—EFFECTS OF DECEASED MEMBERS.

The application of James O. Mushlitz, for the effects of Tilghman Mushlitz, late Company C, Fifth New York Veteran Infantry, is referred to General John A. Martin, local manager, with power.

The Board then adjourned to meet in the city of Boston, Mass., on the 5th day of July, 1887, at 11 a. m.

M. T. McMahon,
Secretary.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CENTRAL BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1887.

Central Branch, National Home
Disabled Volunteer Soldiers,
August 1, 1887.

General: I have the honor to submit the following report of this Branch for the year ending June 30, 1887:

GENERAL FUND.

The general fund, as per report of treasurer, shows the average cost of rations as $19.54, against $17.74 last year; of clothing, $13.66, against $18.31 last year; per capita, $126.65, against $124.05 last year; general expenditures, $631,103.04, against $640,929.58 last year.

SHOPS.

The various shops have been satisfactorily operated, and have turned out a large amount of work.

PENSION FUND.

The treasurer's report shows an increase of sixty-three in the number of pensionsers, with a corresponding increase in the amount of pension money handled.

POSTHUMOUS FUND.

This fund has gained over $3,000 during the year.

POST FUND.

The treasurer's report shows a prosperous condition of this fund. Under the head of discipline some further reference will be made to its operations.

ADJUTANT'S REPORT.

The adjutants report shows but little difference in the average number present, and present and absent, as between this year and last, but the average of sick is 152 in favor of the present year.

SUBSISTENCE.

A glance at the bill of fare will satisfy all reasonable persons that the members of this Central Branch are abundantly provided with the best of food, and in very great variety. A close and constant supervision is exercised throughout the culinary department and in the service of meals in the great dining hall.

EMPLOYMENT.

We had on extra duty with pay last year 1,936, and this year 1,770; without pay last year 1,450, this year 1,507. Our men are becoming more and more enfeebled by age and disability, making it necessary to employ a larger number of civilians to perform the duties for which our own men are incapable, a total of 113 civilians being now employed against 86 last year. Old members of the Home are now dropping from the pay-roll because they find themselves too much broken down to continue labor as in the past.

AMUSEMENTS.

The usual summer dramatic company began its ten weeks' engagement at this branch early in June, 1886, giving two entertainments each week, and from the time they left until the close of this year there was an unusually large number of entertainments given, generally dramatic; on two or three occasions lectures.

An unusually fine dramatic company is now here under a ten weeks' engagement, and the performances are better patronized than for the past two or three years.

There have been quite heavy expenditures from the post fund for needful repairs, fittings, and furniture for memorial hall, which, for want of money, we have not been able heretofore to have done.

VISITORS.

As usual, the flow of visitors to the Home by rail and otherwise does not diminish. Never a week during the warm season which does not bring us thousands, the report showing a total of 155,452 for this year.

HEALTH.

As will be seen from the report, the number of men treated at sick call and in hospital and the number of deaths shows an increase over last year, but, as has been said, this must be expected as our men grow older.

LIBRARY.

The governor is still acting as librarian.

The number of books in our library has been increased during the year by several large and fine donations from Mrs. Putnam and others, but on account of lack of shelf room many of the books are piled up wherever room can be found, but we hope for better accommodations before very long.

POST-OFFICE.

Since our last report the post-office at this branch has moved into new and exceedingly convenient quarters, where the large amount of business can be most satisfactorily conducted.

TRANSPORTATION.

The passage of the interstate commerce bill caused the railroads generally to nullify the half-fare arrangements for the transportation of our members, which had been in practice for many years, but most of the railroad companies have now resumed their former relations to the Home, and the old system is being resumed.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS.

In the line of permanent improvements, the addition to mess-hall, kitchen, and bakery, is giving us great satisfaction, and will enable us to meet the constantly increasing demand for bake-house and mess-kitchen facilities.

The system of tunneling commenced two years ago, so far as completed, is most satisfactory in its results in affording water, gas, and steam throughout the Home.

Connections with the main tunnel have been made this year with headquarters, memorial hall, church, governor's, treasurer's, secretary's, and commissary's quarters, mess-hall, kitchen, bakery, bath-house, Home store, amusement hall, and barracks 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 14, 15, 16.

The new receiving vault connected with the hospital has been completed within the year, and is a very great convenience to the institution, as it enables us to hold in safety subjects for interment which, from any cause, it is desirable to hold a day or two for the arrival of friends, or other satisfactory reasons.

FARM.

With the opening of the last spring, it was deemed advisable to make a change in our system of farming, so far as regards the expenses of superintendence and labor, the governor assuming the immediate superintendence and control of all agricultural operations, merely hiring one experienced citizen who can be relied upon to do such work as none of our Home members are capable of performing. Thus far the results are satisfactory, and the large hay crop, as well as a smaller area of grain crops, have been secured in the very best condition, but the extreme drought, which has nearly ruined all the later crops in this and the adjoining States of the West, will make our potato, corn, and root crops very light.

DISCIPLINE.

Soon after the commencement of this last financial year (July 12), a beer hall was opened here in the Home for the benefit of its members.

As is well known to the Board, it was a matter that had been under discussion for years. In the Army, it has been the usage to sell beer certainly for more than half a century, and for several years (I know not how many), at the other branches of the National Home.

For some reason, I know not what, a terrible outcry was made through the press, through the mails, and by personal appeals to the governor, for the redress of this outrage upon the members of the Central Branch and upon the interests of good order, good morals, and religion generally.

Possibly the fact that the governor had been known for more than fifty years as an active temperance man, both in military and in civil life, may have had something to do with this onslaught upon him as a renegade. It is very true that the governor would gladly close every saloon in the land if it were in his power, but inasmuch as this Central Branch, is hedged in on all sides by saloons dives, and hells of the vilest character to entrap our men the moment they are outside of the gates, it seemed wise to choose the less of two evils, either to furnish them with the best article of beer that can be purchased in the Home at a cheap rate, and retain our men under our own control, or suffer them to go outside, get drunk on the vilest drinks of every kind, get robbed of their money and kicked into the street, or secreted in the infamous dives that surround us until their money is exhausted and they are turned out penniless.

The statistics and records of this branch for the past year speak for themselves:

The official report of Hon. Ira Crawford, mayor of Dayton, gives the number of arrests of our members from July 12, 1885, to July 1, 1886, as 486, while for the same length of time after the beer hall was opened (July 12, 1886 to July 1, 1887), as 274, a difference of 212.

The surgeon reports that the small number treated for alcoholism this year (14), as compared with 38 in 1886 and 35 in 1885, is without doubt, in his opinion, to be credited to the less number of members who are given to protracted debauches and bad liquor since the opening of the beer hall. Only such cases as can not with safety be treated out of hospital are brought to hospital for treatment after a spree, and those treated in camp, especially at the guard-house, are not one-fifth as many this year as in former years.

That a large number of our men will drink to excess when they have the opportunity is true, and notwithstanding the watchfulness of our employés at the beer hall these shrewd old topers will manage to get tight; but on leaving the beer hall, if they show intoxication, they are at once sent up to the guard-house, to remain until the next morning, without having had an opportunity to kick up a row in town, or on their way home, or along the avenues of the Home.

Still another result: The beer we furnish is of the very best, and the man who gets intoxicated on it to-day is fit to be turned out to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock with a clear head and ready for duty, whereas a town drunk renders a man unfit for duty two, three, and four days.

Once more: The cry that less money would be sent by pensioners and employés to their families is disposed of by the showing of treasurer's report and that of the postmaster.

The discipline and good order of the Home have never been as good as now within the last six or seven years at least, nor have the men been as contented.

I am happy to say that candid men and women of the most intense prohibition proclivities, who have been here at the Home and in Dayton making investigation fairly on the spot, have decided that under the circumstances it is best to leave the Home authorities to the exercise of their own judgment in this matter.

It is only theorists and fanatics at a distance, who know nothing of the circumstances, who keep up the cry, "Down with the beer saloon at the Soldiers' Home!" There are those who for their own purposes make statements to the effect that the men of the Home are induced to patronize the beer hall for the pecuniary benefit of somebody, presumably the Home authorities. It is true that the Home authorities and all connected with the Home are benefited by the expenditure of money in the Home instead of outside, the profits accruing from the sale of beer within the Home going to the post fund, which, as seen by the treasurer's report, has been very largely increased, thereby enabling the council of administration, of which the governor is chairman, to greatly increase the band, to afford more frequent amusements and of a higher class, to replenish library, reading-room, etc., and, in general terms, to expend a large sum of money during the last year with the sole object of giving pleasure, comfort, and enjoyment to the men beyond what is provided for by Congressional appropriations.

It is not to be supposed that it is our object to make money, even for these purposes, at the expense of the health or morals of the men.

As we find it necessary we place restrictions upon hundreds of our men, some being entirely debarred from the beer hall and others being limited to one or two glasses, according to their physical, mental, or moral condition.

It is the opinion of every officer of this Home, whether prohibitionist or otherwise, that under existing circumstances the beer hall has reduced vice, crime, debauchery, sickness, and the waste of money, that should go to the families of members, in a very marked degree.

Very respectfully,

M. R. PATRICK,
Governor.

General M. T. MCMAHON,
Secretary Board of Managers
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

Last year's report expressed the hope that we should soon have an ample supply of water in the course of a few months.

That hope was realized on November 5, when the water from the "Blown Wells" poured into the upper lake at the rate of 800 gallons per minute, filling all our lakes to the brim in the course of a few weeks, and keeping them full from that time forward. Up to that time we had been obliged to greatly limit our bathing facilities and the use of water in every way. All our fears on this subject are now of the past, and we have an abundance of the purest water to meet all our wants, and our men are required to bathe at least once per week, except those in hospital, who are of course controlled by the medical officers in charge.

The number of baths taken during the year amounted to 132,400, the number being greatly increased after the water supply was assured.

RELIGION AND SOCIETIES.

The usual services of the Protestant Church have been conducted by the chaplain through the year.

During the latter part of July and nearly the whole of August the Sunday evening services were omitted on account of the warm weather.

While the church building was undergoing repairs, during a large portion of the winter, preaching services, morning and evening, were held in Memorial Hall. All these services were well attended.

One hundred and seventy funerals were attended by the Protestant chaplain, and visitations made to hospital two or three times each week and special visits whenever they were required.

The reception hours in the study of the church, from 8 to 10 a. m., four days in the week, for those desiring religious conversation and instruction, have been productive, in my judgment, of much good.

There is a men's Bible-class meeting in the church each Sunday morning from 9 to 10 o'clock and a children's school meets at the same hour in Memorial Hall, to meet the wants of families in the Home having quite a number of children.

Since the latter part of October the German Protestant service has been held in the afternoon by the Rev. E. S. Lorens, who is a most acceptable preacher, both in German and in English. His services have been well attended, and he also officiates at funerals and otherwise as may be desirable.

The services of the Catholic Church have been regularly held in their own chapel, as heretofore, Rev. Dr. C. S. Kemper, though living at St. Elizabeth's Hospital in town, spends his Sabbaths and a large portion of his time during the week in the Home.

The services conducted by him are—

Sunday.—Mass, 6.55 a. m.; high mass and sermon, 9 a. m.; vespers and benediction, 2.45 p. m.

Holidays.—High mass and sermon, 7.30 a. m

Wednesday evening.—Rosary and night prayers.

Thursday.—Mass, 7.30 a. m.

Saturday.—Confession, 2 to 5 and after supper.

As heretofore reported, there are three societies closely connected with the Catholic Church in the Home: the Purgatorian Society, Society for the Propagation of the Faith, and the Diocesan Fund Society. The Hibernian Society, though composed exclusively of Catholics, can hardly be termed a religious society.

The early Sunday mass service is a convenience to many, who, from various hinderance, find a difficulty in assisting at longer services; these services continuing only half an hour.

ANNUAL REPORT OF NORTHWESTERN BRANCH NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1887.

NORTHWESTERN BRANCH,
NATIONAL HOME DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
September 3, 1887.

GENERAL: I have the honor to submit the following report of this branch for the year ending June 30, 1887:

A new barrack has been erected during the past year, and will accommodate three hundred members. It is a great improvement upon the previous buildings erected at this branch.

An electric plant, capable of supplying two hundred lamps, has been added to the illuminating facilities of this branch, and adds greatly to the convenience and comfort of the members.

A new artesian well, furnishing 100 gallons of water a minute, has been dug, and is in satisfactory working order.

In accordance with the letter in relation to clothing of the president of the Board of Managers, dated Hartford, Conn., April 4, 1887, I recommend the following allowance be made: Every nine months, dating from second issue (three months after admission), one pair of trousers, one blouse, one vest, and one pair of shoes; one shirt every four months; three pair of socks every four months; one dress-coat every two years. Many of the members prefer wearing the dress-coat in cold weather instead of the overcoat.

This morning's report shows 1,437 members present; 481 members on furlough; 97 vacant beds. The number of beds can be increased somewhat, but not enough to accommodate all who will apply during the ensuing winter.

Respectfully, yours,

J. SHARPE,
Governor.

General M. T. McMAHON,
Secretary Board of Managers,
National Home Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

Statement of expenditures and receipts of Northwestern Branch of National Home for Disabled Veteran Soldiers for year ending June 30, 1887.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

General Orders No. 19, dated May 9, 1875, requires each member to take a bath at least once a week, which has been carried out during the year with results beneficial to their health and cleanliness.

RELIGION AND SOCIETIES.

The Protestant Episcopal chaplain, Rev. C. L. Mallory, reports as follows:

I have the honor to report the performance of the following official duties as chaplain for the year ending June 30, 1887.

With the exception of two Sundays, when away on leave, I have conducted service and preached on each Lord's Day in the chapel of the Home, and for six months in the year I have once each week held an evening service and delivered an address or sermon. These services, both on Sundays and week days, have been well attended. I have celebrated the Holy Communion 18 times, officiated at the burial of 51 members, baptized 6 children of officers and members, and prepared and presented 4 members for confirmation. I have visited the hospital and convalescent ward frequently; and ministered to such members as desired my services.

The Sunday-school under my direction, composed largely of children from the families of members on or near the Home grounds, numbers 60 pupils and 7 teachers.

The offerings at the chapel services, all being devoted to charitable and missionary objects, have amounted to $136.41.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Report of the Roman Catholic chaplain, Rev. C. J. Leib, S. J.:

I herewith submit to you my report of the transactions and operations in my department during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887. Following in the footsteps of my predecessor, I attended the Home regularly every Saturday evening and Sunday morning. Besides, I paid a number of visits to the inmates, and was called to attend 50 funerals during the year.

I cheerfully bear witness to the genuine religious spirit of a great number of the members who were under my spiritual charge, of whom from 200 to 300 were present at all regular exercises.

I visited the hospital, going through all the sick wards twice a week, to offer spiritual consolation to the invalid veterans, and I repeatedly passed through the convalescent and insane wards. As the fruit of my labors, I have the satisfaction to state that during the year there were 4,433 administrations of the sacrament of penance and 4,421 administrations of the sacrament of Holy Communion.

I take great pleasure in acknowledging the uniform kindness which I have experienced at the hands of all the officers of the Home.

SOCIETIES.

A post of the "Grand Army of the Republic," known as Veteran Post No. 8, has been maintained at this branch during the year by members of the Home. They hold weekly meetings in a room set apart for that purpose.

EASTERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS.

TOGUS, ME., August, 20, 1887.

GENERAL: I have the honor to submit the following report of this branch for the year ending June 30, 1887:

Members present June 30—
1886	1,065
1887	1,186
Members present and absent June 30—
1886	1,728
1887	1,866
Increase of membership during year ending June 30, 1887	138

BARRACKS.

During the fall of 1886 a new barrack in connection with the hospital was erected capable of accommodating 96 men, yet during the following spring quite a number of members were compelled to sleep on the floors. That this is a great hardship is self-evident, especially when the severity of the climate is considered. From the 1st of July last to the time of writing this report (August 20), the increase in membership has been 69, a much larger number than is usual during the warm months, notwithstanding the large number absent on furlough, many of whom will return before November 1. We have men sleeping on the floors, the only vacant beds being in the hospital.

The applications for membership are increasing every week, and it seems desirable that some action be taken, either by increasing the barrack accommodations, or instructions that no more applications can be considered.

HOSPITAL.

The new barracks for convalescents, erected in connection with the hospital, relieved it in some measure from the pressure caused by the increasing number of members who need hospital accommodations and food, but I can not too strongly urge the necessity of a first-class hospital building, equal in some respects to those furnished the other branches.

HEALTH.

Our report is very gratifying as showing a decided decrease in the percentage of deaths in comparison with last year. This is due in some measure to the enlargement of hospital accommodations, with improved sanitary conditions, and to judicious management on the part of the surgeons.

The Home, since it was established, has been almost entirely free from "epidemics," the deaths being caused by diseases which are the result of exposure and dissipation and from old age. The number of insane men is constantly increasing.

LIBRARY.

Number of books in library, 6,514, an increase of 268 since last report, mostly works of fiction, which are sought for so constantly that it is demonstrated that with but few exceptions the men seek amusement rather than an increase of knowledge and culture. Our reading-room is supplied with 177 daily and weekly papers and 39 magazines.

RELIGION.

The statements of Chaplains Wells and McCarthy are incorporated in this report. The Catholics in this branch have always been regular in their attendance at the usual Sunday and special services required by that church, and the place of worship is generally filled to overflowing. Rev. McCarthy is earnest, and devoted in his care for the spirtual welfare of the members who believe in the Catholic faith; his work in the hospital is very constant and his ministrations to the sick and dying helpful and valuable. I have to acknowledge his earnest co-operation in my labors in the interest of temperance and sobriety.

CLOTHING.

The allowance of clothing, with the exception of undershirts, socks, and shoes, is, on the average, amply sufficient for the wants of the men. Many persons who are improvident and incapable of taking proper care of their clothing are supplied by extra issues from the second-hand material that has been "turned in" by men leaving the Home.

The allowance of undershirts could be increased with great advantage to the members as far as comfort is concerned. During the very cold weather the requests are constant for additional undershirts, especially by the very old men, who wish to wear two shirts at a time to keep comfortable. I am of the opinion that the allowance of socks should be doubled.

The shoes which have been furnished the past year are of improved form and very comfortable to the wearer, but the allowance is not sufficient, and I would suggest that it be increased one-third, or what would be better in this climate, that a pair of boots be furnished for use during the winter and spring months. We are compelled to make repeated details of men during the winter to remove the snow, which accumulates in large quantities, and the present style of shoes are but a poor protection to the feet in such cases.

Respectfully submitted.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

Under existing orders members of the Home are required to bathe once each week. This rule is generally adhered to, the exception being in certain cases, when the surgeons are of the opinion that bathing might be injurious rather than beneficial. There is considerable difficulty in regulating this matter, especially in the cold weather, and in some cases, without doubt, the sudden change from a warm bath to cold draughts has resulted in sickness. Many lack discretion and require constant attention that this danger may be avoided. The arrangements made with the Augusta Water Company for supplying the Home with water will relieve us of the inconvenience we have suffered heretofore on account of our limited resources in this respect.

RELIGION AND SOCIETIES.

Rev. C. L. Wells, Protestant Episcopal chaplain, reports as follows:

"Regular services have been held each Sunday afternoon, with two exceptions, when the inclemency of the weather and the impassableness of the roads rendered it impossible for me to reach Togus. I have read the burial service at the burial of all, except Roman Catholics, who have been buried at the Home, with one exception, when the impassableness of the roads made it impossible for me to go out from Gardiner. The Holy Communion has been administered both in public and in private, and the men have been visited, particularly in the hospital, as much as possible.

"The building of a chapel, which shall be wholly devoted to religious purposes, is of great advantage, for it has been needed very much, and when completed will be of the utmost service.

"The congregations, which have steadily increased in numbers and in interest, will be, undoubtedly, still further improved when the services are held in the new chapel.

"With the increased members at the Home the demands upon the chaplain's time and interest increase, and opportunities for good, which must of necessity be neglected, continue to make the need of a resident chaplain more and more felt.

"I sincerely hope, for the welfare of the men and the larger good that would be done in every way, that this matter will receive early and favorable attention."

Rev. J. M. McCarty, Catholic chaplain, reports as follows:

"Catholic services at the Home are held with the usual regularity and are well attended. My labors at the Home, among its members, demand a large share of my attention and my congregation continues to increase in numbers and in interest."

"I am thankful to the management and officers of the Home for their kind assistance in my work."

There are two societies, as follows:

Cutler Post No. 48, Department of Maine, G. A. R.; 195 members in good standing.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SOUTHERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1887.

SOUTHERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME
FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS
August 26, 1887.

GENERAL: I have the honor to submit the following report of this branch for the year ending June 30, 1887:

Improvements authorized by Congress to relieve the overcrowded condition of this branch have been pushed and are fast approaching completion, but the increase in membership still keeps pace with efforts to provide room, as shown by the following figures:

Number present June 30, 1886	1,578
Number present and absent June 30, 1886	2,138
Number present June 30, 1887	1,765
Number present and absent June 30, 1887	2,445
Increase in number of members present, about ....per cent..	11.85
Increase in number of members present and absent, about ....do....	14.36

The southwest wing of hospital is completed. Two new hospital barracks are finished. The new brick latrine is ready for use; it greatly improves the sanitary condition of the Home. A brick boiler-house with ten boilers and a chimney 150 feet in height is in working order; it increases steam capacity from 350 to 500 horse-power, but has not increased in proportion to the heating surface, and when unfinished barracks are ready for occupancy more steam-power will be needed. Gas-power has been raised from 500 to 1,500 burners. Two wells have been dug, but the supply of fresh water is still insufficient. Salt water is used in the latrine and water-closets on first floors, but it can not be successfully introduced into upper stories. A new lavatory has been built for Companies F and G; it joins their barracks. The system of sewerage has been completed. Considerable extension has been made to southeastern end of breakwater. The much-needed chapel will soon be commenced, and the new commissary building will be finished in a few weeks.

This Home, fronting the historic waters of Hampton Roads, is noted for the natural beauty of its location, and both beauty and value of grounds have been greatly increased by the recent improvements described. Work has been done in a substantial manner, but in harmony with surroundings, so that nature and art combine to make it a most beautiful spot. That this fact is appreciated is evident from the great increase in visits received from tourists and excursion parties whose present numbers greatly exceed those of preceding years.

A breakwater and wharf at the landing, and also a laundry, are among the future wants of this branch. Our old breakwater has been much eaten by teredo, and the wharf is now undermined from the same cause. Many piles have rotted away and neither breakwater nor wharf can last but a short time longer. A new laundry is also urgently needed. No appropriation has ever been asked for or made for this purpose. It is now required, with a complete equipment of machinery, so that it will have a capacity to accommodate 2,500 members.

I think the behavior and discipline of members as good as it ever has been, and a report is deemed unnecessary beyond stating that it is all I can expect and far above the average, as compared with the same number of men of like social condition in civil life. The ability and executive qualities of the treasurer and surgeon are well known to the Board of Managers. They have promptly co-operated in all efforts to promote the welfare of Home and members. The chief engineer has his department well in hand and thoroughly systematized. The morale and good order of this branch will continue to be maintained if its non-commissioned officers are as faithful to their duties in the future as they have been in the past.

The surgeon says there has been during the year no prevailing disease amongst the members of this branch and but very little acute disease; nearly all the illness having been of a chronic character. The two detached wards just completed prove very convenient and every way satisfactory, but in winter a covered walk will be needed from them to the dining-room.

CLOTHING.

The following recommendations as to allowance of clothing to members are submitted in compliance with instructions received from president Board of Managers, April 4, 1887. They embody suggestions from the treasurer and surgeon.

If a second blouse were allowed to working men six months after admission, with permission to retain the first, and a third issue made one year after the second, the general appearance of the entire command would be much improved without encouraging needless waste. Blouses can rarely be kept in condition by this class of members for a full year.

The issue of flannel drawers should be increased to two pairs at second issue and three pairs thereafter. In the great majority of cases they become completely worn out at the crotch long before members are entitled to a new issue.

The allowance of trousers is believed to be insufficient. The issue of a third pair six months after the second and a pair every nine months thereafter is recommended. Most members not under surgeon's care are detailed for various kinds of fatigue duty which makes it impossible for the more able-bodied to keep their trousers in presentable condition beyond the first month, and a large proportion of those who are unable to perform any duty are afflicted with ailments which make it quite impossible to wear them continuously for the first three months.

It does not appear to me that an issue of one pair of shoes to each member once in nine months would be unreasonable. The members in general and employed men in particular appear to be unable to make their shoes last through the period laid down in the clothing regulations.

I do not think the socks can be worn three months, and six pairs per year (after the first two issues) would be reasonable.

It is recommended that a vest be allowed at first issue. Much complaint is made of discomfort by men admitted during the fall and winter months, particularly by those who can not obtain overcoats.

The surgeon says: "It has occurred to me that another pair of stockings a year would be useful, especially for members who can not mend. I do not think new dress-coats should be issued to patients in hospital, and to but very few in convalescent company. Second-hand dress-coats for constant wear in winter I have found very useful for old men who are very sensitive to cold."

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

The homes have increased to such proportions that in order to prevent confusion in business transactions between them a uniform following of rules and regulations has become a necessity. This would be greatly facilitated if the Inspector-General, together with the governors of the several branches, were required to meet in council at least once a year for the purpose of harmonizing any difference in views that may arise. I therefore recommend that a council to consist of the Inspector-General and governors be ordered to sit at times and places to be designated for the purpose stated.

Respectfully,

P. T. WOODFIN,
Governor.

General WM. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers,
National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

The system to promote hygiene and cleanliness is nearly perfect in all departments except the laundry. Grounds are thoroughly policed and inspected every morning, unless, as in rare cases, stormy weather prevents. Any neglect of cleanliness is reported to the governor without delay, and promptly remedied. All sewerage is now discharged by pumps, to a point 100 feet below average low tide; it is always pumped out two hours after high tide—when the tide is running out strongest under force sufficient to pulverize and liquefy any solid matter. The water-closets formerly located on Jones Creek have been removed. This branch is equipped with the bathing facilities of a first-class watering place, but owing to increased membership they have become inadequate. It has a commodious salt water bath-house, open at all hours, and during the summer months generally crowded to its utmost capacity. Quite a number of the more able members resort to Buckroe Beach for surf-bathing, where the Home farm fronts one of the finest surf beaches on the coast. There are fresh-water, hot, and cold bath-rooms on every floor of the main building and hospital, and also in barracks; a bath-tub is located in the boiler-house to which firemen have access at all times, and which Home mechanics are allowed to use on application to the chief engineer. The supply of fresh water is limited, however, and this, with the rapid increase in membership, is causing the need of increased bathing accommodations. Home rules require members to bathe at least once a week, unless excused by the surgeon; there are practically no violations, bathing being considered one of the Home benefits. Members are required to change their underclothing weekly. Soiled articles are turned into the laundry for washing; a change at least twice a week would be advantageous, but the laundry has never been enlarged since first built, and is inadequate to supply the present needs of members.

RELIGION AND SOCIETIES.

Religious services have been held regularly twice every Sunday, either in the library or Ward Memorial Hall, under the direction of several clergymen, who also have charge of churches located in the vicinity. They attend funerals to the grave and minister to the spiritual wants of the sick and dying. The Roman Catholic chaplain reports the condition of his charge as very satisfactory, the number attending divine service is steadily increasing, and members, with few exceptions, meet all his expectations; no material change so far as attendance is concerned is reported by chaplains of the Episcopalian, Presbyterian, Methodist, and Baptist denominations. Since last report it has been about up to the average of previous years. It is reasonable to expect an increase of religious interest on the part of members, when the new chapel (soon to be commenced) is completed. The Grand Army of the Republic have two posts—3 and 16—in the Home, both in flourishing condition, although called upon to perform the main charity work of this department. A lodge of Good Templars is also organized, and holds weekly meetings, with a membership of 171.

ANNUAL REPORT OF WESTERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME FOR DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS, FOR THE YEAR ENDING JUNE 30, 1887.

WESTERN BRANCH, NATIONAL HOME,
DISABLED VOLUNTEER SOLDIERS,
August 17, 1887.

GENERAL: I have the honor to submit the following report of this branch for the year ending June 30, 1887:

By reference to figures on page 11, it will be seen that the whole number cared for at this branch during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887, was 1,831, a gain of 1,303 during the year; of this number 964 were original admissions. These have come to us as fast as we could provide for them, and for a time during the past winter every available space was occupied with beds. Two additional barracks have been completed during the year, and it is thought that we shall be able to comfortably lodge all who may come in during the coming winter. Our sick, of whom we have had a large number, are quartered in one of the barracks buildings, and have not had as good accommodations as it was desired they should have. Our new hospital is now in course of construction, and when finished will give ample room and facilities to properly care for those needing medical attendance.

Our sanitary regulations are all that could be desired, and the health of the camp has been most gratifying, many who have come here in a broken-down condition so far recovering as to go out on furlough and earn their own support, as shown by the large number (389) absent with leave. Constant work in clearing, grading, and ornamenting the grounds is beginning to show its effect, and what a year ago was scarcely less than a wild and trackless waste now assumes the appearance of a great park, where broad avenues, shady groves, refreshing springs, and pure air are attractions already sufficient to bring large numbers of visitors.

Through the generous responses to a circular letter asking for books we have received over 4,000 volumes of well-bound and entertaining works. These have been catalogued and placed at the disposal of the members. Other amusements should, and will, be provided as soon as funds accumulate sufficient for the purpose.

The discipline of the camp has been most excellent, and a more peaceable and orderly community of its numbers it would be difficult indeed to find.

Very respectfully,

ANDREW J. SMITH,
Governor.

General W. B. FRANKLIN,
President Board of Managers,
National Home Disabled Volunteer Soldiers.

ALLOWANCE OF CLOTHING.

In February last, observing that the regular issue of socks (six pairs per annum to each member) was insufficient for their needs, application was made to the president of the Board of Managers for authority to increase the number. The matter was referred to the inspector-general of the Home with discretionary power; and he, under date of March 5, 1887, authorized me to increase the allowance to nine, and in case I found it necessary to twelve, pairs per annum, care being exercised to learn if the nine pairs were insufficient before increasing the issue beyond that number. It is found that the issue at the rate of nine pairs is sufficient, and that no increase beyond that number will be required. The results from the increase made have been most satisfactory, and under the authority given I will continue the allowance of nine pairs per member per annum.

The allowance of all other clothing to members of the Home, under regulations now in force, appears to be sufficient for their needs; and no recommendation for change is made.

SANITARY REGULATIONS.

Every barrack being supplied with two bath-rooms, each furnished with both hot and cold water, gives ample accommodations for members to bathe, which they do regularly once a week, and oftener if occasion requires. In addition to this, four large and commodious wash-rooms to each barrack, having hot and cold water, sinks, and all appliances for convenience, are at the disposal of the members at all times, insuring the utmost cleanliness both in regard to quarters and person, the good effects of which are very noticeable in those barracks set apart for convalescents, many of whom recover reasonable health and strength in an incredibly short time.

RELIGION AND SOCIETIES.

Since religious services have been held in Amusement Hall they have been more fully attended. Divine service has been observed regularly during the year, with a continually increasing interest on the part of the members of the Home. In addition to regular Sunday service, prayer meetings have been held once a week. A Christian association has been formed for work, after the manner of the Y. M. C. A., and hold meetings every Thursday and Saturday, with very encouraging results. The chaplain has made one hundred and sixty-three visits to the hospital during the year, holding personal conversation with over four hundred members; besides this, numerous special visits and calls have been made at hospital and in quarters; he has also attended and conducted the services of fifty-four funerals.

Catholic services have also been held weekly, with good results.

Brennan Post, G. A. R., from a membership of twenty-four a year ago, has increased its roll to one hundred and two, and now includes among its numbers some of the best members of the Home.

PACIFIC RAILROADS.

JANUARY 9, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Pacific Railroads and ordered to be printed.

Mr. ANDERSON, of Iowa, submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas it appears from the report of the Pacific Railroad Commissioners appointed under the act of Congress approved March 3, 1887, that the Pacific railroads, through their management, officers, and boards of directors, have for years constantly and persistently refused to comply with the acts of Congress approved July 1, 1862, July 2, 1864, March 3, 1873, and May 8, 1878; and

Whereas it appears from said report that in addition to the defiant refusal of said companies to comply with said acts of Congress, the officers and managers thereof have squandered large sums out of their gross earnings in extravagant and unprofitable enterprises and in the payment of interest and subsidies forbidden by said acts of Congress, and have divided among themselves, in violation of law, enormous sums of money, amounting to hundreds of millions of dollars, in defraud of the Government and of the people of the United States; and

Whereas the directors of said companies have since the passage of the act approved March 3, 1873, divided among themselves and other pretended stockholders and creditors large sums of money as dividends and subsidies, which were not from the actual net earnings of said roads, but from moneys which should have been applied in liquidation of the indebtedness of said roads to the United States; and

Whereas said companies have since the passage of said acts of Congress issued new stock, mortgages, pledges, and other incumbrances without the consent of Congress, thus squandering the funds of said companies, impairing their credit, and destroying the value of the United States lien upon the same; and

Whereas it appears from said report that said companies, in order to avoid their just obligations to the Government, have unduly and fraudulently increased their indebtedness greatly in excess of the amount actually expended, and in turn have levied excessive charges upon the people tributary to said lines to pay interests and dividends upon said fictitious and fraudulent indebtedness; and

Whereas the act approved May 7, 1878, provides that if said railroad companies shall fail to perform all and singular the requirements of said act and of all other acts relating to said companies, such failure shall operate as a forfeiture of all the rights, privileges, grants, and franchises derived or obtained by said companies from the United States; and

Whereas said last-named act provides that it shall be the duty of the Attorney-General of the United States to cause such forfeiture to be judicially enforced; and

Whereas it appears from said report of the Commissioners that the said Pacific railroad companies have by their unlawful acts aforesaid, and by other and divers unlawful transactions, forfeited all their rights, privileges, grants, and franchises: Therefore,

Be it resolved, That the Attorney-General of the United States be, and he is hereby, directed to report to this House what steps, if any, have been taken by him to secure a judicial enforcement of said forfeiture, and if none have been taken, that he inform this House his reasons for not proceeding as directed by law.

WOMEN'S SILK CULTURE ASSOCIATION.

FROM

THE COMMISSIONER OF AGRICULTURE,

TRANSMITTING

The annual report of the Women's Silk Culture Association of the United States.

JANUARY 11, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Agriculture and ordered to be printed.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,
COMMISSIONER'S OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., January 5, 1888.

SIR: The act making an appropriation for the Department of Agriculture for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888, approved March 3, 1887, provides that the Women's Silk Culture Association of the United States, located at Philadelphia, shall make a full and detailed report of the expenditures and results under the appropriation to said association made for the fiscal year 1887 to the Commissioner of Agriculture, to be transmitted to Congress.

I have the honor to transmit herewith the report of said association.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

NORMAN J. COLMAN,
Commissioner of Agriculture.

Hon. J. G. CARLISLE,
Speaker House of Representatives.

Report of the Women's Silk Culture Association to the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, D. C., for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887.

After an appeal from this association to the National Government for its fostering care in behalf of the silk industry in the United States, eight months elapsed before the association was recognized or aided by your Department to carry on the work which they had introduced some four years previously. In 1885 the association was authorized to demonstrate the practicability of home reeling and to enlarge the other departments of their work, being aided by Government in so doing, with monthly appropriations for the covering of the expenses incurred.

This was required to be under the direction of the Department. The association having become very familiar with the status of the industry as it had progressed up to that date, felt capable and responsible for their own modes of conducting their work, and as their position with the Government was one under direction rather than one of independent action, they were somewhat discouraged and disappointed at the result of their work and the conditions which surrounded them. An appeal was then made for a direct appropriation to the association. This was granted.

The impulse given to all departments of the work, as will be shown in this report for the past year, is due largely to the aid furnished by the Government. It will be seen that the most of the Government money has gone back into the hands of the people in payment for product raised, and also for a large number of trees, planted in various districts to aid those not able to help themselves into the new industry. It is evident that time and patience are required before results can be reached. No process of nature can be hastened into full fruition. And whilst those now planting orchards of mulberry trees may experiment, three years must elapse before they will be enabled to show a good financial result. Yet the interest of such is unbounded, and it is only through the slower and less fitful modes that a great industry can be brought to a healthy and permanent establishment. Seeing that our treasurer's report is truly encouraging, and that strict economy and care have marked all the efforts of this association as almoners of the public trust, we pray, sir, that you will consider us in the light of faithful allies, which we shall ever strive to be, and that the mutual interests which move your Department and the association in developing this industry will be a bond which will entitle us to the consideration of the Congress of the United States in aiding us in the further pursuit of this worthy object.

We beg to submit herewith the report of the treasurer of the association, through whose hands the Government money has passed to the various avenues of industry, and whose books prove the faithfulness of her work.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. JOHN LUCAS,
President.

Treasurer's Report of the Women's Silk Culture Association of the United States to the Agricultural Bureau at Washington, D. C., for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887.

Under authority of the act "making an appropriation for the Department of Agriculture, and other purposes":

50TH CONGRESS, 1st Session. } HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. { MIS. DOC. No. 104.

MEMORIAL

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION OF UTAH.

JANUARY 12, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Territories and ordered to be printed.

To the President and the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled:

GENTLEMEN: For the fifth time the people of Utah present to your honorable body a constitution providing for a republican form of government, and respectfully ask admission into the Union as a free and sovereign State.

Your memorialists are delegates in a constitutional convention, chosen by the people of this Territory in mass meetings, to which all citizens of every party were publicly invited. The constitution presented herewith was framed by your memorialists with a desire to effect a political settlement of the questions which have heretofore interposed, as the sole objections, when Utah has applied for the rights and privileges of statehood.

Under recent acts of Congress no person practicing polygamy can vote or hold office in this Territory. Your memorialists are registered voters, and the constitution which they adopted on 7th day of July, 1887, was ratified at the general election, August 1, 1887, by a popular legal vote of 13,195, only 502 voting against it. The total number of votes cast at the same election for precinct and county officers and members of the legislative assembly was 16,640. This shows a balance of 2,943 who refrained from voting on this question; the voters of the minority party having been so directed, openly, by their political leaders, who do not favor any movement for the removal of those disabilities which are common to the Territorial system, unless likely to be specially favorable to them.

The number of the voting population has been considerably reduced by the operations of Congressional statutes. The act of March 22, 1882, disfranchised all polygamists. The act of March 3, 1887, excluded all women from the polls. The test oath prescribed by the same law was so distasteful to many persons of all classes who were otherwise qualified that they abstained from registration. And, as only registered voters could cast their ballots at the general election, for or against the constitution framed by your memorialists, the total vote in its favor was, under the circumstances, remarkably large.

The people who have adopted and ratified this constitution are law-abiding citizens of the United States. They have not violated any law of Congress. The special provisions they have framed in reference to practices condemned by the popular voice were made in good faith, and so worded that they are practically unrepealable. In these Congress has not imposed unusual requirements upon a new State, but the people have placed these restrictions upon themselves in order to meet prevailing objections and secure political harmony with the existing States. In doing this they consider they have but exercised a reserved and constitutional right. If Utah shall be admitted into the Union, these provisions will be strictly and fairly enforced.

Your memorialists have no hesitation in stating that almost the entire population of Utah are desirous of becoming fully identified as a State with the institutions of this great Republic and taking part in national affairs as loyal and peaceable citizens. They have demonstrated their fitness for the duties, responsibilities, and privileges of statehood. They are thrifty, temperate, industrious, intelligent, and progressive. They form a vigorous, stable, and permanent community, out of debt and ready to move forward in step with existing States.

The Territory has a population of not less than 200,000. Her wealth, exclusive of mines, which are untaxed and represent unknown millions, aggregates not less than $150,000,000. Her resources, products, interests, and prospects are conceded by all to be amply sufficient to sustain a State government, and have so frequently been presented to Congress and the nation, with statistics, that we deem it unnecessary to detail them in this memorial. The soil, irrigated by mountain streams diverted through canals and ditches over large areas once a desert, brings forth grain and fruit in rich abundance. Cattle and sheep roam upon a thousand hills and supply both home and foreign markets. Her woolen and other manufactories have become famous for their honest and useful products. Factories and workshops supply labor to skilled and common artisans, who are content with reasonable wages and among whom strikes and troubles with capital have hitherto been unknown. The necessities and many of the luxuries of life are abundant and cheap. Minerals of all kinds abound within her borders, and the mining output aggregates from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 annually. Apart from the precious metals there are valuable deposits so varied in character and immense in quantity as to afford in themselves material for untold wealth. These await but the touch of the capital that a settled condition will draw to Utah, to be brought forth for the benefit of her people and the enrichment of the nation. The great railroads which already have their termini in or near her capital city, with others in process of construction, place her people in easy communication with the rest of the country and facilitate commercial relations. The telegraph, the telephone, the electric light, and other modern improvements are utilized extensively by her citizens. Her business status and reputation in the great centers of trade are unimpeachable. Her taxes are phenomenally low, and her internal affairs have been honestly amd economically conducted. Her school system, with the best text-books used in the foremost schools of the country, provide strictly secular education for the children in every city and settlement. Her school statistics bear very favorable comparison with even the older States. Nothing now stands in the way of her march to that proud position to which everything just and natural points as her destiny but those political disabilities which only statehood can remove.

We appeal to your honorable body to regard the wishes of a people who earnestly desire to aid in promoting the welfare and glory of the Union, and who, from the day their pioneers first unfurled the stars and stripes, on this then Mexican soil, have looked forward to the time when they should enter the Union as a State, as guarantied to them in common with other residents on the territory acquired by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo.

We ask that the constitution of the new proposed State of Utah shall receive the close and impartial attention of your honorable body. It guaranties "a republican form of government." It provides for equal rights and privileges before the law to citizens of all parties, creeds, and conditions. It is broad and liberal and contains the best provisions to be found in other State constitutions. It meets the demands that have been made upon the majority of the people of Utah when they have previously asked admission into the Union. What more can be required of any people?

The admission of Utah will relieve the Government of a question that has troubled it for a quarter of a century, and remove it from national to local regulation, where it properly belongs. It will add one more star to the national galaxy, increase the strength of the Union, save the country many thousands of dollars annually, and bind to the interests of the nation a body of honest, patriotic, and grateful people, who will be found, when the mists of misrepresentation and prejudice are cleared away, to be a community of which any government might be proud.

We ask for "a republican form of government," and we ask that it be given us now. For nearly forty years Utah has been pleading for statehood. Shall a deaf ear be still turned to her entreaties? We hope for better things. In behalf of the great majority of the voters who represent the vast majority of the people of Utah, we submit that having broken no law we should not be deprived of our liberties on account of objections raised against others. We ask for justice and a fair consideration of our cause, with the solemn pledge that Utah as a State will be faithfully devoted to true republican principles, and to the interests and welfare of the Government of the United States; and your memorialists will ever pray.

Adopted in convention at Salt Lake City, Utah Territory, on the 8th day of October, A. D. 1887, by unanimous vote, and ordered to be signed by the president and secretary.

JOHN T. CAINE,
President.
HEBER M. WELLS,
Secretary.

CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF UTAH.

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of Utah, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom, in order to secure its blessings, insure domestic tranquillity, and form a more perfect government, do establish this CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I.—Bill of Rights.

SECTION 1. All men are possessed of equal and inalienable natural rights, among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

SEC. 2. All free governments are founded on the authority of the people, and instituted for their equal protection and benefit.

SEC. 3. There shall be no union of church and State, nor shall any church dominate the State.

SEC. 4. The right to worship God, according to the dictates of conscience, shall never be infringed, nor shall the State make any law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; nor shall any control of, or interference with the rights of conscience be permitted. No religious test or property qualification shall be required for any office or public trust, nor for any vote at any election, nor shall any person be incompetent to testify on account of religious belief, or the absence thereof.

SEC. 5. The right of trial by jury shall remain forever inviolate; but the legislature may provide that in civil actions five-sixths of a jury may render a verdict; and that in inferior courts a number less than twelve may constitute a jury.

SEC. 6. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended, unless, when in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require its suspension.

SEC. 7. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor shall cruel or unusual punishments be inflicted; nor shall witnesses be unreasonably detained, nor confined in any room where criminals are actually imprisoned.

SEC. 8. All persons shall be bailable by sufficient sureties; unless for capital offenses, when the proof is evident or the presumption great.

SEC. 9. No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land and naval forces, or in the militia when in actual service in time of war or public danger, nor shall any person for the same offense be twice put in jeopardy; nor be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself; nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law; nor shall private property be taken or damaged for public use without just compensation.

SEC. 10. In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial, by an impartial jury of the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed, which district shall have been previously ascertained by law; to be informed of the nature and cause of the accusation; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses in his favor, and to have the assistance of counsel for his defense.

SEC. 11. The State shall pass no law abridging the freedom of speech or of the press, or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and petition the Government for the redress of grievances.

SEC. 12. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power.

SEC. 13. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, except in the manner prescribed by law, and no standing army shall be maintained by this State in time of peace.

SEC. 14. Representation shall be apportioned according to population.

SEC. 15. There shall be no imprisonment for debt, except in cases of fraud.

SEC. 16. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligation of contracts shall be passed.

SEC. 17. All laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation.

SEC. 18. Foreigners who are, or who may hereafter become, bona fide residents of this State, shall have the same rights in respect to the possession, enjoyment, transmission, and inheritance of property as native-born citizens.

SEC. 19. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrant shall issue but on probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized.

SEC. 20. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, adhering to its enemies, or giving them aid and comfort. And no person shall be convicted of treason unless on the testimony of two witnesses to the same overt act, or on confession in open court.

SEC. 21. The right of citizens to keep and bear arms for common defense shall not be questioned.

SEC. 22. The blessings of free government can only be maintained by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, frugality, and virtue, and by frequent recurrence to fundamental principles.

SEC. 23. This emuneration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people.

ARTICLE II.—Right of Suffrage.

SECTION 1. Every male citizen of the United States, not laboring under the disabilities named in this constitution, of the age of twenty-one years and over, who shall have resided in the State six months, and in the county and voting precinct thirty days, next preceding any election, shall be entitled to vote for all officers that now are or hereafter may be elected by the people, and upon all questions submitted to the electors at such election: Provided, That no person who has been or may be convicted of treason or felony, in any State or Territory of the United States, or in any district over which the United States has jurisdiction, unless restored to civil rights, shall be entitled to the privileges of an elector.

SEC. 2. During the day on which any general election shall be held, no elector shall be obliged to perform military duty, except in time of war or public danger.

SEC. 3. All elections by the people shall be by secret ballot.

SEC. 4. Provisions shall be made by law for the registration of the names of the electors within the counties and voting precincts of which they may be residents, and for the ascertainment, by proper proofs, of the persons who shall be entitled to the right of suffrage.

ARTICLE III.—Distribution of Powers.

SECTION 1. The powers of the government of the State of Utah shall be divided into three separate departments: the legislative, the executive, and the judicial; and neither of said departments shall exercise any functions appertaining to either of the others except in the cases herein expressly directed or permitted.

ARTICLE IV.—Legislative Department.

SECTION 1. The legislative authority of this State shall be vested in a legislature, which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives, and the sessions thereof shall be held at the seat of government.

SEC. 2. The sessions of the legislature shall be biennial, and, except at the first session thereof, shall commence on the second Monday in January next ensuing the election of members of the house of representatives unless the governor shall convene the legislature by proclamation.

SEC. 3. The members of the house of representatives shall, except at the first election, be chosen biennially, by the qualified electors of their respective districts, at the general election, and their term of office shall be two years from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding their election.

SEC. 4. The senators shall be chosen by the qualified electors of their respective districts, at the same time and places as the members of the house of representatives, and their term of office shall be four years from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding their election, except as otherwise provided in section 10 of Article XVII of this constitution.

SEC. 5. The first legislature shall consist of twelve senators and twenty-four representatives; the number of senators and representatives may be increased, but the senators shall never exceed thirty in number, and the number of representatives shall never be less than twice that of the senators. The apportionment and increase of the members of both houses shall be as prescribed by law.

SEC. 6. No person shall be a senator who shall not have attained the age of twenty-five years, nor shall any person be a senator or representative who shall not be a citizen of the United States, and who, except at the first election, shall not have been two years a resident of this State and for six months next preceding his election a resident of the district in which he is elected. No person holding any State office, except officers of the State militia, commissioners of deeds, and notaries public, and no executive or judicial officer shall have a seat in the legislature.

SEC. 7. The members of the legislature shall, before entering upon their official duties, take an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States and of this State, and faithfully to discharge the duties of their respective offices.

SEC. 8. Each house shall judge of the qualifications, elections, and returns of its own members, may punish them for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of its whole number, expel a member.

SEC. 9. No member of the legislature shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office of profit under this State which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during such term, except such office as may be filled by election by the people.

SEC. 10. Members of the legislature, in all cases except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, shall be privileged from arrest during the session of the legislature, and for fifteen days next before the commencement and after the termination thereof; and for any speech or debate in either house they shall not be questioned in any other place.

SEC. 11. When a vacancy occurs in either house, the governor shall order an election to fill such vacancy.

SEC. 12. A majority of all the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to transact business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each house may prescribe.

SEC. 13. Each house shall establish its own rules, keep a journal of its own proceedings, and publish them, except such parts as require secresy, and the yeas and nays of the members of either house, on any question shall, at the desire of any three members present, be entered on the journal.

SEC. 14. The door of each house shall be kept open during its session, except the senate while sitting in executive session; and neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which it may be holding session.

SEC. 15. The enacting clause of every law shall be as follows: "Be it enacted by the legislature of the State of Utah."

SEC. 16. Any bill or joint resolution may originate in either house of the legislature, and shall be read three times in each house before the final passage thereof, and shall not become a law without the concurrence of a majority of all the members elected to each house. On the final passage of all bills the vote shall be by yeas and nays, which shall be entered on the journal.

SEC. 17. No law shall be revised or amended by reference to its title only, but the act as revised, or section as amended, shall be enacted and published at length.

SEC. 18. All bills or joint resolutions passed by the legislature shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective houses.

SEC. 19. The legislature shall not grant any special privilege or bill of divorce, nor authorize any lottery, gift enterprise, or game of chance.

SEC. 20. No money shall be drawn from the treasury except as appropriated by law.

SEC. 21. Provision shall be made by law for bringing suit against the State.

SEC. 22. The first regular session of the legislature may extend to one hundred and twenty days, but no subsequent regular session shall exceed sixty days, nor shall any session convened by the governor exceed twenty days.

SEC. 23. The members and officers of the legislature shall receive for their services a compensation to be fixed by law, and no increase of such compensation shall take effect during the term for which the members and officers of either house shall have been elected.

SEC. 24. Every bill passed by the legislature shall be presented to the governor. If he approve it, he shall sign it, whereupon it shall become a law; but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated, which house shall cause such objections to be entered upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider it. If, after such reconsideration, it again pass both houses, by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the governor's objections. If any bill shall not be returned within ten days after it shall have been presented to him, Sundays excepted, exclusive of the day on which he received it, the same shall be law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the legislature, by its final adjournment, prevent such return, in which case it shall not become a law unless the governor, within ten days after the adjournment, shall file such bill, with his approval thereof, in the office of the secretary of state: Provided, That every general appropriation bill shall be presented to the governor at least five days before the day of final adjournment, and in case he vetoes the same, in whole or in part, he shall return it, with his objections to the whole or to the separate items of which he may disapprove, not less than two days before said final adjournment, whereupon each house shall proceed to consider his objections to the whole or to the separate items of which he may disapprove, and any item not receiving the necessary two-thirds vote shall not become law.

ARTICLE V.—Executive department.

SEC. 1. The supreme executive power of this State shall be vested in a governor.

SEC. 2. The governor shall be elected by the qualified electors at the time and places of voting for the members of the legislature, and shall hold his office for the term of two years from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding his election, and until his successor shall be qualified.

SEC. 3. No person shall be eligible to the office of governor who is not a qualified elector, and who, at the time of such election, has not attained the age of twenty-five years, and who, except at the first election under this constitution, shall not have been a citizen resident of this State for two years next preceding the election.

SEC. 4. The governor shall be commander-in-chief of the military forces of this State, and may call out the same to execute the laws, suppress insurrection, and repel invasion, and when the governor shall, with the consent of the legislature, be out of the State in time of war, and at the head of any military force thereof, he shall continue commander-in-chief of the military forces of the State.

SEC. 5. He shall transact all executive business for and in behalf of the State, and may require information in writing from the officers of the executive department upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

SEC. 6. When any office shall from any cause become vacant, and no mode is prescribed by the constitution or laws for filling such vacancy, the governor shall have power to fill such vacancy by appointment, which vacancy shall expire when such vacancy shall be filled by due course of law.

SEC. 7. He shall see that the laws are faithfully executed.

SEC. 8. The governor may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the legislature by proclamation, and shall state to both houses when organized the purpose for which they have been convened.

SEC. 9. He shall communicate by message to the legislature, at every regular session, the condition of the State, and recommend such measures as he may deem expedient.

SEC. 10. The governor shall have power to grant reprieves, commutations, and pardons, after conviction, of all offenses except impeachment, subject to such restrictions and regulations as are named in this constitution or as may be provided by law.

SEC. 11. A lieutenant-governor shall be elected at the same time and places and in the same manner as the governor, and his term of office and his eligibility shall also be the same. He shall be the president of the senate, but shall only have a casting vote therein. In case of impeachment of the governor, or his removal from office, death, inability to discharge the duties of said office, resignation, or absence from the State, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the lieutenant-governor for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease; and in case of the disability of both the governor and lieutenant-governor, the powers and duties of the executive shall devolve upon the secretary of state until such disability shall cease or the vacancy be filled.

SEC. 12. A secretary of state, a treasurer, an auditor, a surveyor-general, and an attorney-general shall be elected at the same time and places and in the same manner as the governor; the term of office of each shall be the same as is prescribed for the governor. Any elector who, except at the first election, shall have resided in this State two years next preceding such election shall be eligible to any of said offices, except the secretary of state, whose qualifications shall be the same as those of the governor.

SEC 13. There shall be a seal of the State, kept by the secretary of state, which shall be called the "Great Seal of the State of Utah."

SEC. 14. All grants and commissions shall be in the name and by the authority of the State of Utah, and shall be signed by the governor, and countersigned by the secretary of state, who shall affix the great seal of the State thereto.

SEC. 15. The secretary of state shall be the custodian of the official acts of the legislature, and shall keep a true record of the proceedings of the executive department of the government, and shall, when required, lay the same and all other matters relative thereto before either branch of the legislature.

SEC. 16. The secretary of state, treasurer, auditor, surveyor-general, and attorney-general shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 17. The governor shall not, during the term for which he is elected and qualified, be elected to the senate of the United States.

ARTICLE VI.—Judicial department.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of this State shall be vested in a supreme court, circuit courts, and such inferior courts as shall be established, and whose jurisdiction shall be determined by law.

SEC. 2. The supreme court shall consist of a chief-justice and two associate justices, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum.

SEC. 3. The justices of the supreme court shall be elected by the qualified electors of the State at the general election, and except as otherwise provided in section 12 of Article XVII of this constitution, shall hold office for the term of six years from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding their election, and until their successors are qualified; the senior justice in commission shall be chief-justice, and in case the commissions of any two or more of said justices shall bear the same date, they shall determine by lot who shall be chief-justice.

SEC. 4. The supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction in all cases arising under the laws of the State, including special proceedings. The court shall have original jurisdiction to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warranto, and habeas corpus, also all writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the State, upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the supreme court, or before any circuit court in the State, or before any judge of said courts.

SEC. 5. The State shall be divided into a convenient number of judicial circuits, in each of which shall be elected, by the electors thereof, at the general election, one judge, who shall be the judge of the circuit court therein, and whose term of office shall be four years from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding his election and until his successor shall be qualified. Until otherwise provided by law, there shall be four circuits, as follows: The counties of Weber, Box Elder, Cache, Rich, and Morgan shall constitute the first circuit; the counties of Salt Lake, Summit, Davis, and Tooele shall constitute the second circuit; the counties of Utah, Juab, Emery, San Pete, Sevier, Millard, Wasatch, and Uintah shall constitute the third circuit; and the counties of Beaver, Iron, Washington, Kane, Garfield, San Juan, and Piute shall constitute the fourth circuit.

SEC. 6. The circuit courts shall have both chancery and common-law jurisdiction; and such other jurisdiction, both original and appellate, as may be prescribed by law: Provided, That nothing herein shall be so construed as to prevent the legislature from conferring limited common-law or chancery jurisdiction upon inferior courts.

SEC. 7. The judges of the circuit courts may hold court for each other, and shall do so when required by law.

SEC. 8. The judges of the supreme and circuit courts shall be ineligible to election to any other than a judicial office, or to hold more than one office at the same time.

SEC. 9. No person shall be eligible to the office of supreme or circuit judge who is not a male citizen of the United States, and has not attained the age of twenty-five years, and who, except at the first election, has not been a resident of this State at least two years next preceding his election. But nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the legislature from prescribing additional qualifications.

SEC. 10. The judges of the supreme and circuit courts shall each receive for his services a salary to be fixed by law, which shall not be diminished for the term for which he shall have been elected.

SEC. 11. The legislature shall determine by law the places in each circuit at which the circuit courts shall be held, and fix the terms thereof.

SEC. 12. The supreme court shall always be open for business, except in case of adjournment, which in no case shall exceed thirty days. Its sessions shall be held at the seat of government.

SEC. 13. The style of all process shall be "The State of Utah," and all prosecutions shall be conducted in the name and by the authority of the same.

ARTICLE VII.—Impeachment.

SEC. 1. The house of representatives shall have the sole power of impeachment, and all impeachments shall be tried by the senate. When sitting as a court of impeachment the senators shall be upon oath or affirmation to do justice according to law and evidence, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of all the senators.

SEC. 2. The governor, judges of the supreme and circuit courts, and other State officers shall be liable to impeachment. When the governor or lieutenant-governor is tried the chief justice of the supreme court shall preside, and in all cases judgment shall extend only to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit under this State, but the party convicted or acquitted shall nevertheless be liable to indictment, trial, and punishment according to law.

SEC. 3. When an impeachment is directed the house of representatives shall elect from their own body three members, whose duty it shall be to prosecute such impeachment. No impeachment shall be tried until the final adjournment of the legislature, when the senate shall proceed to try the same.

SEC. 4. In all impeachment trials the accused shall have the right to appear, and in person, and by counsel, to demand the nature and cause of the accusation, and to have a copy thereof; to meet the witnesses face to face, and to have process to compel the attendance of witnesses in his behalf.

SEC. 5. Any State officer shall be liable to impeachment for corrupt conduct in office, for immoral conduct, for habitual drunkenness, or for any act which, by the laws of the State, may be made a felony.

SEC. 6. The legislature shall determine by law the cause, and provide for the removal, of any officer whose removal is not herein provided for.

ARTICLE VIII.—Municipal and other Corporations.

SEC. 1. The legislature shall pass no special act conferring corporate powers.

SEC. 2. The legislature shall by general laws provide for the orginization of cities, towns, and villages, and restrict their powers of taxation and assessment.

SEC. 3. The legislature shall provide, by general laws, for the organization of private corporations.

ARTICLE IX.—Finance and State debt.

SEC. 1. The legislature shall provide by law for an annual tax, sufficient to defray the expenses of the State.

SEC. 2. The State shall not assume or guarantee the debts of, nor loan money or its credit to, or in aid of, any county, city, town, village, school district, private corporation, or any individual, nor be interested in the stock of any company, association, or corporation.

SEC. 3. The State debt shall not at any time exceed 3 per centum of the taxable property of the State, to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness.

SEC. 4. No subdivision of the State shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose, to an amount, including existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding the following percentages of the taxable property therein; to be ascertained by the last assessment for State and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness, viz: School districts, 2 per centum; counties, 2 per centum; cities, 5 per centum: Provided, That cities of 5,000 inhabitants and upwards (to be ascertained by the preceding census) may for the purpose of furnishing water increase their indebtedness to an additional amount of not exceeding 5 per centum of the taxable property, as aforesaid, upon a two-thirds vote of the qualified voters at an election called for that purpose. Any city, county, or school district incurring any indebtedness as aforesaid shall before, or at the time of doing so, provide for the collection of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such debt as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof within twenty-five years from the time of contracting the same.

ARTICLE X.—Taxation.

SECTION 1. The legislature shall by law provide for a uniform and equal rate of taxation, and shall prescribe such regulations as shall secure a just valuation for taxation of all property, real, personal, and possessory: Provided, That mines and mining claims bearing gold, silver, and other precious metals, except the surface improvements thereof, shall be exempt from taxation for a period of ten years from the date of the adoption of this constitution, and thereafter may be taxed as provided by law.

SEC. 2. The property of the United States and the property of this State, and such property as may belong to any county or municipal corporation or as may be used exclusively for agricultural, horticultural, and scientific societies, chartered or controlled by the State or for school, religious, cemetery, or charitable purposes, shall be exempt from taxation; and ditches, canals, dams, reservoirs, and flumes owned and used by individuals or corporations for irrigating lands owned by such individuals or corporations or by the individual members thereof shall not be taxed so long as they shall be owned and used exclusively for such purposes.

SEC. 3. The legislature shall not impose taxes for the purpose of any county, city, town, or other corporation, but may by law vest in the corporate authorities thereof respectively the power to assess and collect taxes for all purposes of such corporations.

ARTICLE XI.—Education.

SECTION 1. The legislature shall provide for a uniform system of public schools, the supervision of which shall be vested in a State superintendent and such other officers as the legislature shall provide. The superintendent shall be chosen by the qualified electors in the State in such manner as the legislature shall provide. His powers, duties, and compensation shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 2. The legislature may establish free schools: Provided, That no sectarian or denominational doctrine shall be taught in any school supported in whole or in part by public funds. Nor shall any professor, instructor, or teacher be preferred, employed, or rejected in said schools on account of his religious faith or belief or affiliation or sympathy with any denomination, creed, or sect.

SEC. 3. All legislation in regard to education shall be impartial, guarantying equal rights and privileges to all persons, irrespective of race, color, or religion.

SEC. 4. The proceeds of all lands that have been or may be granted by the United States to this State for the support of schools shall be and remain a perpetual fund, the interest of which, together with all the rents of the unsold lands and such other means as the legislature may provide, shall be appropriated to the support of the public schools throughout the State.

SEC. 5. The University of Deseret shall be the university of this State, and be under the control of the legislature. The proceeds of all lands that have been granted by Congress for university purposes shall be and remain a perpetual fund, the interest of which, together with the rents of unsold land, shall be appropriated to the support of said university.

SEC. 6. The legislature shall foster and encourage moral, intellectual, and scientific improvement. They shall make suitable provisions for the education of the blind and mute, and for the organization of such institutions of learning as the best interests of general education in the State may demand.

ARTICLE XII.—The militia.

SECTION 1. The legislature shall provide by law for organizing and disciplining a militia of this State in such manner as they shall deem expedient, not incompatible with the Constitution and laws of the United States nor the constitution of this State.

SEC. 2. Officers of the militia shall be elected or appointed in such manner as the legislature shall, from time to time, direct, and shall be commissioned by the governor.

SEC. 3. The legislature shall provide for calling forth the militia to execute the laws of the State, to suppress insurrections and repel invasions.

ARTICLE XIII.—Public institutions.

SECTION 1. Institutions for the care and benefit of the insane, the blind, the deaf and dumb, and such other benevolent institutions as the public good may require, shall be fostered and supported by the State, subject to such regulations as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 2. A State prison shall be established and maintained in such manner as may be prescribed by law, and provision shall be made by law for the establishment and maintenance of a house of correction for juvenile offenders.

SEC. 3. The respective counties of the State shall provide, as may be prescribed by law, for those persons who, by reason of age, infirmity, or misfortune, may have claim upon the sympathy and aid of society.

ARTICLE XIV.—Boundary.

The boundary of the State of Utah shall be as follows:

Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the thirty-second degree of longitude west from Washington with the thirty-seventh degree of north latitude; thence due west along said thirty-seventh degree of north latitude to the intersection of the same with the thirty-seventh degree of longitude west from Washington; thence due north along said thirty-seventh degree of west longitude to the intersection of the same with the forty-second degree of north latitude; thence due east along said forty-second degree of north latitude to the intersection of the same with the thirty-fourth degree of longitude west from Washington; thence due south along said thirty-fourth degree of west longitude to the intersection of the same with the forty-first degree of north latitude; thence due east along said forty-first degree of north latitude to the intersection of the same with the thirty-second degree of longitude west from Washington; thence due south along said thirty-second degree of west longitude to the place of beginning.

ARTICLE XV.—Miscellaneous provisions.

SECTION 1. The seat of government shall be at Salt Lake City, until the legislature may otherwise determine.

SEC. 2. No person shall be eligible to any elective office who is not a qualified elector.

SEC. 3. The general election shall be held on the first Monday in August of each year, unless otherwise provided by law.

SEC. 4. The legislature shall provide for the speedy publication of all laws of this State.

SEC. 5. The compensation of all State officers shall be as prescribed by law: Provided, No change of salary or compensation shall apply to any officer, except a judge of the supreme or circuit court, during the term for which he may have been elected.

SEC. 6. All executive officers of the State shall keep their respective offices at the seat of government.

SEC. 7. A plurality of votes given at any election by the people for officers shall constitute a choice, where not otherwise provided by the constitution.

SEC. 8. No person holding any office of honor or profit under the government of the United States, shall hold office under the government of this State, except postmasters whose annual compensation does not exceed $300, and except as otherwise provided in this constitution.

SEC. 9. The legislature at their first session shall prescribe the methods of conducting all general and special elections in this State, and for canvassing all votes cast at such elections, and declaring the results thereof.

SEC. 10. All officers, executive, judicial, and ministerial, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe to the following oath or affirmation: I ——— do solemly swear (or affirm) that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and of the State of Utah, and will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of——— according to the best of my ability.

SEC. 11. Until otherwise provided by law, the several counties, as they now exist, are hereby recognized as legal subdivisions of this State.

SEC. 12. Bigamy and polygamy being considered incompatible with "a republican form of government," each of them is hereby forbidden and declared a misdemeanor.

Any person who shall violate this section shall, on conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 and imprisonment for a term not less than six months nor more than three years, in the discretion of the court. This section shall be construed as operative without the aid of legislation, and the offenses prohibited by this section shall not be barred by any statute of limitation within three years after the commission of the offense; nor shall the power of pardon extend thereto until such pardon shall be approved by the President of the United States.

ARTICLE XVI.—Amendments.

SECTION 1. Any amendment or amendments to this constitution, if agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each of the two houses of the legislature, shall be entered on their respective journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the legislature then next to be elected, and shall be published for three months next preceding the time of such election, and if, in the legislature next elected as aforesaid, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of all the members elected to each house, then it shall be the duty of the legislature to submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people, in such manner and at such time as the legislature shall prescribe, and if the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments, by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of the constitution: Provided, That section 12 of Article XV shall not be amended, revised, or in any way changed until any amendment, revision, or change as proposed therein shall, in addition to the requirements of the provisions of this article, be reported to the Congress of the United States and shall be by Congress approved and ratified, and such approval and ratification be proclaimed by the President of the United States, and if not so ratified and proclaimed said section shall remain perpetual.

SEC. 2. If at any time the legislature, by a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house, shall determine that it is necessary to cause a revision of this constitution, the electors shall vote at the next election for members of the legislature, for or against a convention for that purpose, and if it shall appear that a majority of the electors voting at such election shall have voted in favor of calling a convention, the legislature shall, at its next session, provide by law for calling a convention, to be held within six months after the passage of such law; and such convention shall consist of a number of members not less than that of the two branches of the legislature.

ARTICLE XVII.—Schedule and election.

SECTION 1. That no inconvenience may arise by reason of a change from a Territorial to a State government, it is hereby declared that all rights, actions, prosecutions, judgments, claims, and contracts, as well of individuals as of bodies corporate, both public and private, shall continue as if no change had taken place, and all process which may issue under the authority of the Territory of Utah previous to its admission into the Union shall be as valid as if issued in the name of the State of Utah.

SEC. 2. All laws of the Territory of Utah, in force at the time of the admission of this State, not repugnant to this constitution, shall remain in force until they expire by their own limitations, or are altered or repealed by the legislature.

SEC. 3. All fines, penalties and forfeitures accruing to the Territory of Utah, or to the people of the United States in the Territory of Utah, shall inure to this State, and all debts, liabilities and obligations of said Territory shall be valid against the State, and enforced as may be provided by law.

SEC. 4. All recognizances heretofore taken, or which may be taken before the change from a Territorial to a State government, shall remain valid, and shall pass to and be prosecuted in the name of the State; and all bonds executed to the governor of the Territory, or to any other officer or court, in his or their official capacity, or to the people of the United States in the Territory of Utah, shall pass to the governor or other officer or court, and his or their successors in office, for the uses therein respectively expressed, and may be sued on and recovery had accordingly; and all revenue, property, real, personal, or mixed, and all judgments, bonds, specialties, choses in action, claims, and debts, of whatsoever description, and all records and public archives of the Territory of Utah, shall issue and vest in the State of Utah, and may be sued for and recovered in the same manner and to the same extent by the State of Utah as the same could have beeen by the Territory of Utah. All criminal prosecutions and penal actions which may have arisen, or which may arise before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall then be pending, shall be prosecuted to judgment and execution in the name of the State. All offenses committed against the laws of the Territory of Utah before the change from a Territorial to a State government, and which shall not be prosecuted before such change, may be prosecuted in the name and by the authority of the State of Utah, with like effect as though such change had not taken place; and all penalties incurred shall remain the same as if this constitution had not been adopted. All actions at law and suits in equity, and other legal proceedings which may be pending in any of the courts of the Territory of Utah at the time of the change from a Territorial to a State government, may be contiuued and transferred to and determined by any court of the State having jurisdiction; and all books, papers, and records relating to the same shall be transferred in like manner to such court.

SEC. 5. For the purpose of taking the vote of the electors of this Territory for the ratification or rejection of this constitution, the registration officers appointed by the Utah Commission in the several counties are hereby each requested to add to the notices which they are required by law to post in each precinct, designating the offices to be filled at the general election to be held on the first Monday in August, 1887, the further notice, as follows, to wit:

"At the same time and place, the question of the ratification or rejection of the State constitution adopted by the constitutional convention in Salt Lake City, July 7, 1887, will be submitted to the registered voters of the precinct; those who are in favor of ratification will write or cause to be written or printed on the bottom of their ballots the words 'Constitution, yes,' and those in favor of rejection, 'Constitution, no.'"

If the registration officers or either of them shall refuse or neglect to post the notice herein provided for, the county clerks of the respective counties are hereby requested to post a notice to the same effect in each precinct on the 16th day of July, 1887.

SEC. 6. The judges of election, or either of them, appointed by the Utah Commission in each precinct to canvass and count the votes are hereby requested, after the polls are closed, to canvass and count the ballots cast for and against this constitution and make returns of the same forthwith, by the most safe and expeditious conveyance, to Heber M. Wells, Salt Lake City, the secretary of this convention, marked "Constitution election returns." Upon the receipt of said returns, or within fourteen days after the election, if the returns are not sooner received, it shall be the duty of the president and secretary of this convention and the probate judge of Salt Lake County, or any two of the persons named in this section, to canvass the returns of said election in the presence of all who may choose to attend, and immediately publish an abstract of said returns in one or more of the newspapers published in the Territory of Utah, and forward a copy of said abstract, duly certified by them, to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Delegate in Congress from Utah Territory.

SEC. 8. A copy of this constitution, certified to be correct by the president and secretary of this convention, shall be published by them on or before the 15th day of July, 1887, in one or more of the newspapers in Utah Territory. The president and secretary shall also, immediately after its ratification, forward copies of this constitution, duly certified, to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and the Delegate in Congress from Utah Territory, and shall deliver or forward a copy, certified as aforesaid, to each of the delegates who may hereafter be elected by this convention.

SEC. 9. The terms of all officers named in this constitution, except judicial and senatorial, elected at the first election, shall continue from the time of qualification until the expiration of two years from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding their election, and until the qualification of their successors.

SEC. 10. The State senators to be elected at the first election under this constitution shall draw lots, so that the term of one-half of the number, as nearly as may be, shall expire at the end of two years from the first Monday in December next succeeding their election, and the term of the other half shall expire in four years from the first Monday in December next succeeding their election, so that one-half, as nearly as may be, shall be elected biennially thereafter: Provided, That in drawing lots for all senatorial terms, the senatorial representation shall be allotted so that in the counties having two or more senators the terms thereof shall be divided as equally as may be between the long and short terms, and in case of increase in the number of senators they shall be so annexed by lot to one or the other of the two classes as to keep them as nearly equal as practicable.

SEC. 11. Unless otherwise provided by Congress, the first election for all officers named in this constitution shall be held on the first Monday in the second month next succeeding the passage of an enabling act or the approval of this constitution by Congress, and such election shall be conducted and returns thereof made in the manner provided by law. The first session of the legislature shall commence, and all officers herein provided for shall enter upon the duties of their respective offices, on the first Monday of the second month next succeeding said election.

SEC. 12. The justices of the supreme court, elected at the first election, shall hold office from and including the first Monday of the second month next succeeding their election, and continue in office thereafter two, four, and six years, respectively, from and including the first Monday in December next succeeding their election. They shall meet as soon as practicable after their election and qualification, and, at their first meeting, shall determine by lot the term of office each shall fill, and the justice drawing the shortest term shall be chief-justice, and after the expiration of his term the one having the next shortest term shall be chief-justice.

SEC. 13. All officers under the laws of the Territory of Utah, at the time this constitution shall take effect, shall continue in office until their successors are elected and qualified. The time of such election and qualification not herein otherwise provided for shall be as prescribed by law.

SEC. 14. After the admission of this State into the Union, and until the legislature shall otherwise provide, the several judges shall hold courts in their respective circuits at such times and places as they may respectively appoint; and until provisions shall be made by law for holding the terms of the supreme court, the governor shall fix the time and place of holding such court.

SEC. 15. This constitution shall be deemed ratified by the people of Utah if at any election to which it is submitted a majority of the votes cast on the question of its adoption be in the affirmative.

SEC. 16. Hons. Franklin S. Richards, Edwin G. Woolley, and William W. Riter are hereby elected delegates from this convention to proceed to Washington, D. C., and with the Hon. John T. Caine, Delegate in Congress from Utah, present this constitution to the President of the United States and to the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled and urge the passage of an act of Congress admitting the State of Utah into the Union.

JANITOR AMIDON SCHOOL-HOUSE.

FROM THE

PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,

IN RELATION

To a clerical omission from the District of Columbia appropriation act of March 3, 1887, and asking that provision be made for pay of the janitor of the Amid' ı School-house.

JANUARY 16, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and ordered to be printed.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS,
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
Washington, January 13, 1888.

SIR: In the act of Congress approved March 3, 1887, entitled "An act making appropriations to provide for the expenses of the government of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1888, and for other purposes," by an inadvertence the name of one of the school-houses of the city of Washington, "The Amidon," is omitted from the clause making provisions "for janitors and care of buildings and grounds." The building in question should have appeared in the class for the care of which the amount appropriated for the pay of the janitors is $500, and its omission was a mere clerical error in the engrossment of the bill at the last hours of the last session, it being in the bill as it passed both Houses. In the Senate the appropriation was placed in a higher class, and in the conference committee it was restored to its original position. This will account for the mistake by which it was finally omitted in the engrossment. The gross amount appropriated, it will appear upon a calculation, is just $500 in excess of that appropriated in detail, showing conclusively that the omission complained of is, as stated, a mere inadvertence.

The Commissioners are informed that this matter can be corrected by a provision to be inserted in the urgency deficiency bill, which will be acted upon in a few days, and that by addressing you the Committee on Appropriations will be put in charge of the facts so as to act intelligently. The former janitor has continued in service but has not received any pay during the current fiscal year, and his family are suffering great embarrassment and distress.

Very respectfully,

W. B. WEBB,
President.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

AMERICAN MINISTERS IN FOREIGN COURTS.

JANUARY 16, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs and ordered to be printed.

Mr. MASON submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas it is said that the representatives of the United States, diplomatically considered, at the courts of the principal powers of the world occupy a very subordinate position, and that by reason thereof there is frequently serious delay in the transaction of the business of the United States of America and the citizens thereof at foreign courts; and

Whereas it is also alleged that such delay in the transaction of the business of the United States of America and its citizens is caused by the representatives of the United States being designated as "envoys extraordinary and ministers plenipotentiary" instead of "ambassadors," thereby putting them in the position of representing an inferior nstead of a great power; and

Whereas the United States of America is entitled, on account of its standing among nations, to be represented, if it so desires, by embassadors: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Committee on Foreign Affairs be instructed to inquire into the state of affairs upon the points suggested, and to report its conclusion by bill or otherwise to the House of Representatives at an early date.

Mr. ANDERSON, of Kansas, submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby requested to inform the House of Representatives whether the Treasury Department has any information showing at the date when the act of 1878 fixed the amount of United States notes at the limit issue of $346,681,016, that such amount was actually in existence as circulating medium of legal-tender currency, and whether any portion of the said amount had been at that time lost or destroyed through the incidents of business, and if so, the probable amount of such loss. Also, whether, since 1878, there has been any loss or destruction of said notes, and if so, the probable amount of such loss, and the probable amount of said circulating medium now in actual existence as such; also, what percentage of such notes is probably lost annually, [and what legislation is necessary to maintain said actual circulation at the limit now provided by law.]*

DISTURBANCES IN COLORADO.

JANUARY 16, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs and ordered to be printed.

Mr. CUTCHEON submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Resolved, That the Committee on Indian Affairs of this House be, and they are hereby, instructed to investigate and report fully upon the cause, origin, circumstances, and results of the recent disturbances which occurred in August, 1887, in Garfield County in the State of Colorado, between certain whites, claiming to act as a posse of the sheriff of said county and as militia of said State, and the Colorow band of Ute Indians.

Said committee is directed to report what losses of life or property were sustained by either party; whether the property taken by the whites from the Indians was taken in accordance with any process of law; what property, if any, was destroyed, and by whom, and by what authority; whether the property taken has been restored to its owners, and whether any compensation has been made for the property destroyed; whether any steps have been taken by the United States, or or by any officer representing them, to reclaim the property of their Indian wards so taken from them, or to secure compensation for that destroyed, and, if so, what steps. Also, what steps have been taken to secure the punishment of the parties guilty of producing the loss of life and property. Said committee is also instructed to report whether the final attack of the whites was made upon the Indians while they were upon their reservation; also, what legislation, if any, is needed to punish the guilty parties, to reclaim the stolen property, and to prevent and punish like disturbances in the future.

Said committee is authorized to conduct such investigation by subcommittee, and shall have power to send for persons and papers, to compel the attendance of witnesses, to administer oaths, to employ a stenographer, and such other assistance as may be necessary.

The expense of such investigation shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the House.

OBSTRUCTIONS IN THE WILLAMETTE.

JANUARY 16, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Rivers and Harbors and ordered to be printed.

Mr. HERMANN submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas the Willamette River, in Oregon, one of the largest navigable and shipping rivers on the Pacific coast, by repeated freshets has so far become deflected from its original channel near the city of Corvallis, and by its destruction of the banks, as now seriously to threaten the near prevention of navigation at this point and the abandonment of Corvallis as a shipping mart unless timely aid be rendered; and

Whereas five sand-bars have formed in said river between Corvallis and Oregon City, and are now formidable impediments to navigation, and urgent necessity exists for immediate improvement: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Secretary of War be requested to inform this House what special action, if any, has been taken by the Government, or what is deemed specially necessary, to remedy the imminent dangers to said navigation and commerce on the Willamette River, in Oregon.

JULY 30, 1888.—Referred to the House Calendar and ordered to be printed.

Mr. BACON, from the Committee on Manufactures, reported the following

RESOLUTION:

[As a substitute for House Mis. Doc. No. 69.]

Whereas it is alleged that certain individuals and corporations in the United States engaged in manufacturing, mining, or dealing in some of the necessaries of life have combined for the purpose of controlling or curtailing the production or supply of the same, and thereby increasing their price to the people of the country, which combinations are known as associations, trusts, pools, and like names, but are not incorporated under the laws of any State; and

Whereas such combinations not only injuriously affect commerce between the States, but impair the revenues of the United States as derived from its duties on imports: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Committee on Manufactures be, and the same is hereby, directed to inquire into the names and number and extent of such alleged combinations, under whatever name known, their methods of combination or doing business, their effect upon the prices of any of the necessaries of life to the people of the country, upon its internal or foreign commerce, and its revenues from impost duties, together with any and all other matters relating to the same which may call for or suggest legislation by Congress, and report the same to the House with such recommendations as the said committee may agree upon. And for these purposes the Committee on Manufactures is authorized to sit during the sessions of the House, to employ a stenographer, to administer oaths, examine witnesses, compel the attendance of persons and the production of papers. And the expense of such investigation shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the House.

REFUNDING ACT OF 1870.

JANUARY 23, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary and ordered to be printed.

Mr. PLUMB submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas the last annual report of the Secretary of the Treasury made to this body shows that, acting in accord with the views of the President, he has paid out of the revenues collected from imposts the sum of $2,852,015.88 in premiums to holders of Government bonds, assuming that in no other way under existing laws can the requirements of the sinking fund be met; and

Whereas by the terms of the refunding act passed July 14, 1870, as shown by the record of the final vote thereon, all of the bonds called "4 per cents," of which there are now outstanding the sum of $736,561,950, are payable at the pleasure of the United States for thirty years from the date of their issue—a provision which, if understood and acted upon in accordance with the manifest wording and intention, makes possible not only the payment of the said bonds as fast as any surplus available for such purpose may accumulate in the Treasury, but also the refunding of the same at a rate of interest that would save to the tax-payers more than $200,000,000; and

Whereas the said refunding act has, as it appears, without due authority been so altered and published in the Statutes at Large as to read "payable at the pleasure of the United States after thirty years" instead of "for thirty years" as voted, thus entirely subverting the manifest meaning of the provision of said act which provides for the redemption of the bonds named: Therefore,

Resolved, That a committee of five members of this House be appointed by the Speaker whose duty it shall be to make a careful examination of all the facts relating to the passage, engrossment, and enrollment of the funding act, so called, and all acts in force bearing upon the question of the right of the Government to redeem its outstanding obligations, with a view to taking such steps as may be required to ascertain the true state of the law on that subject, and for that purpose the committee have power to send for persons and papers, examine all records and original documents, and to obtain true copies of the same, as well as to administer oaths; the committee to report to this House with such recommendations as may be deemed advisable in the premises.

THE FISHERIES CONTROVERSY.

JANUARY 23, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs and ordered to be printed.

Mr. BUTTERWORTH submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas differences have arisen and now exist between the United States and Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada, growing out of the construction of treaties relating to the fisheries, and stand a constant menace to the peace and prosperity of both nations; and

Whereas by reason of the contiguity of the territory of the United States and that of the Dominion of Canada, the identity of the people of the two nations in race and language, the similarity of conditions, interests, and occupations, it is desirable to adjust all existing differences and remove all causes of difference in the future, and to promote and encourage closer and more intimate commercial intercourse between the people of the two countries, and to that end that all obstacles and hinderances to full and unrestricted trade and commerce between them be removed; and

Whereas the right honorable gentleman charged with the duty of representing Her Majesty's Government in the adjustment of the controversy between the United States and Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada regarding the fisheries is reported to have said in a recent speech delivered before he left England:

> The arrangement between the colonies and Great Britain is essentially a temporary one. It can not remain as it is. * * * Already you have in Canada, the greatest of all the colonies, an agitation for what is called commercial union with the United States. Commercial union with the United States means unrestricted trade between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, and a protective tariff against the mother country. If Canada desires that, Canada can have it.

And speaking of the relation of Canada to the United States and Great Britain on a subsequent occasion the right honorable gentleman further said that—

> Commercial union with the United States meant that Canada was to give preference to every article of manufacture from the United States over manufactures from Great Britain. If the people of Canada desired an arrangement of that kind he did not doubt that they would be able to secure it;

And whereas, at a conference of the premiers and other cabinet ministers of the several provinces constituting the Dominion of Canada, lately held in the city of Quebec, a resolution was unanimously adopted declaring that—

> This conference, comprising all political parties, is of the opinion that a fair measure, provided under proper conditions, for unrestricted trade relations between the United States and the Dominion of Canada, would be of advantage to all the provinces of the Dominion, and would, in connection with an adjustment of the fishery dispute, tend to happily settle the grave difficulties which have, from time to time, arisen between Great Britain and the United States;

ALASKA COMMERCIAL COMPANY.

JANUARY 23, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Rules and ordered to be printed.

Mr. WOODBURN submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas A. P. Swineford, the governor of Alaska Territory, in his report to the Secretary of the Interior for the fiscal year 1887, arraigns the Alaska Commercial Company for a flagrant and outrageous abuse of the powers and privileges conferred upon it by the Government of the United States in the manner following, to wit:

The fur trade of Alaska is practically monopolized by the Alaska Commercial Company, a non-resident corporation, which does not confine its operations to the seal islands leased to it by the Government, but holds and possesses most of the Aleutian chain and the greater part of the mainland as a principality of its own, over which it exercises undisputed sway and control. Clothed by the Government with a monopoly of the seal fur trade, by which it has profited to the extent of many millions, it has, octopus-like, thrown out its great tentacles and gathered to itself about all there is of value in the fur-trade of the whole Territory. It has, by the power of its great wealth, driven away all competition and reduced the native population, wherever its operations are not supervised by Government officials, to a condition of helpless dependence, if not one of absolute and abject slavery. Unhampered by a healthy competition it offers and compels acceptance by the natives, on pain of starvation, such beggarly prices for their peltry that it manages invariably to keep them in its debt and at its mercy. In order to more effectually monopolize the trade in furs, it at one time marked and mutilated the coin of the United States and refused to receive any other from the natives in payment for goods necessary to their comfort and well being. Its insatiable greed is such that it is not content with robbing the poor native in the price it sets upon the product of his dangerous toil, but it robs him also in the exorbitant prices it exacts for the goods given in exchange. And there is no appeal; no alternative. There are no other trading stations in all that vast section, and the natives must pay the price asked and accept that which is offered—the first a hundred per cent. advance on the amount at which the same goods are sold to the whites, and the last low enough to add still another hundred per cent. to the company's profit. As, for instance, there is no timber on the Aleutian Islands, and the native who goes out to hunt the sea-otter has no time to provide himself with fuel by gathering driftwood from the shores, as many are able to do. He must have fuel for the winter, and the company generously takes his sea-otter skins at half their real cash value and pays him in coal at $40 per ton—coal of the same quality as that which it sells to the few white residents for $20. The native who dares to sell his furs for cash to others than the agent of the company finds that his money has no purchasing power at perhaps the only trading station within a distance of several hundred miles, and is thus starved into submission.

While all this and much more is true concerning its treatment of the native people, instances are not lacking where it has boycotted and driven away from the islands Government officials who, intent upon the honest, faithful discharge of their duties, have incurred the displeasure or refused to do the bidding of its agents. In fact, it possesses the power to compel compliance with its every exaction, and wherever it has obtained a foot-hold neither white man nor native can do more than eke out a miserable existence, save by its sufferance. Without mail communication other than that supplied by the corporation, which is their master, the native people of the sections thus dominated are effectually walled in by the great waters which lie between them and the most advanced outskirts of trade and civilization, and in the absence of all competition are forced to sell their furs at whatever rates the agents of the company may be pleased to offer, and accept payment in goods at prices which no community of people not entirely helpless could or would tolerate. Its paid agents and lobbyists are kept at the national capital to oppose any and every effort that may be made to promote the welfare of Alaska through such legislation as will encourage immigration and the enlistment of capital in the development of the natural wealth hidden away in her forests, streams, and mountains; its every aim and effort is in the direction of prolonging its existence and strengthening its tyrannical hold by a blocking of the wheels of progress; and to its pernicious influence is due the fact that Alaska is not to-day largely populated with an industrious, enterprising, prosperous people; that millions, where there are now only hundreds, have not long ere this been invested in the development of her many varied, and, as I honestly believe, incomparably great natural resources. I have positive information of flagrant violations of the law and executive orders in relation to the importation and sale of breech-loading fire-arms by its agents; its oppression and robbery of the natives is notorious; the partial responsibility, at least, of the Government for the wrongs to which the inoffensive native people of the Aleutian Islands and the whole of northwestern Alaska have been and are still being subjected can not be ignored or denied.

If it can not legally be rescinded, the lease to, and contract with, this company ought not to be renewed. It is not, in my opinion, necessary to the preservation of seal life or the seal fur industry that the islands on which the rookeries are located should be leased to any corporation or individual, but if it be held that I am wrong in that regard, then I do not hesitate to aver that it would be better for Alaska, better for the Government, and above all, far better for the enslaved Aleuts, that every fur seal in Alaskan waters should be exterminated at one fell swoop, than that such a blighting monopoly should be perpetuated. It is manifestly the duty of Government to protect the weak against the strong, to shield the poor and helpless from wrong and oppression; yet here we have thousands of the latter class, who, by solemn treaty stipulation, were guarantied enjoyment of "all the rights, advantages, and immunities of citizens of the United States," practically enslaved, and a professedly free and liberal Government not only creating, but actually protecting, their oppressions, and that, too, against a restless spirit of enterprise which, unhindered, would people the best portions of Alaska with a thrifty population, and add untold millions to the wealth of the nation.

I have said that the leasing of the seal islands is not necessary to the preservation of the industry; neither is it, as so persistently claimed, and as I was at first inclined to believe, essential that a fur-seal monopoly should be maintained in order to secure the largest revenue to the Government. Manifestly, the natives of the seal and adjoining islands have the first and best right to profit by an industry which may truly be said to have come to them by inheritance. They are not Indians, but a peaceful, honest people of much natural intelligence, and capable of transacting business for themselves. They can nearly all read and write in their own or the Russian language, and if most of the younger men and women on Saint Paul and Saint George are not fairly well educated in English, the fact can only be accounted for on the theory that the Alaska Commercial Company has not complied faithfully with that provision of its contract which requires it to maintain schools on those islands for at least eight months in each year.

Instead of practically enslaving them by farming out to others that which is theirs by right of inheritance, it seems to me that the Government should secure to them at least a fair share of the profits, and that its duty is to protect and, if possible, perpetuate the seal fisheries for their benefit, and not in the almost exclusive interest of organized greed and corporate monopoly. To accomplish this it is only necessary that regulations be promulgated by the proper department prohibiting the killing of seals on the islands of Saint Paul and Saint George by any but natives, prescribing the number that may be killed in each year, the mode of killing, and imposing all the other restrictions now in force. It would require no greater number of agents to supervise the killing by natives than are now employed to watch and guard the interests of the Government, if as many. The skins could then be sold in open market by the natives themselves, in the presence of, or by a Government agent acting in their behalf, and whose duty it should be made to collect from purchasers a Government tax of not less than $5 on each skin sold. By such a plan a much larger permanent revenue would be assured to the Government, the natives secured in the free enjoyment of their rights, and a monopoly wholly inimical to the best interests of the Territory shorn of a large part of its tyrannical power. Conceived (as there is abundant evidence to show) in corruption, born in iniquity, and nurtured and grown strong and insolent on ill-gotten gains wrung from a hapless and helpless people, this giant monopoly, which rests like a blighting curse upon the progress and welfare of this great Territory, should be shorn of its corruptly-secured, much-abused franchise with no more delay than may be absolutely necessary.

The mortality rate as compared to the number of births furnished me by the authorities of the Greco-Russian Church indicates the gradual extinction of the nativ-people, particularly the Aleuts on Onnalaska Island, the population of which was 1,065 in 1882; 326 deaths have since been recorded, while there have been only 158 births. During the past summer an epidemic carried off a large number of people at Belkofsky and on the Shumagin Islands; a very heavy rate of mortality is also reported from Kenai and Bristol Bay, occasioned by pulmonary diseases, to which the natives, owing to exposure and want of proper precaution, are generally subject. In my opinion, if some effective measures are not taken to ameliorate their condition the complete extinction of the native inhabitants of the Aleutian Islands and on some parts of the main-land will be a question of comparatively short time only. A removal of the disabilities imposed by the grinding monopoly which has destroyed their every ambition, and made them reckless of lives scarcely worth the living, would give them new hope, and tend to an indefinite prolongation of their existence as a people. The civil government is powerless in the premises, having as yet been unable, by reason of the absence of mail communication or means of transportation, to extend to them the poor protection of its qualified, limited, and altogether doubtful authority. To a higher governmental power, one they do not know in their present deplorable condition of abject dependence how to reach and if they did would not dare appeal to, must they look for a redress of wrongs which would not for so long a time have been quietly endured by any people anywhere in the slightest degree less patient and helpless.

And whereas the foregoing statements are substantially corroborated by other officers and citizens of the Government having knowledge thereof; and

Whereas the charges therein contained involve the rights, liberties, and property of American citizens, the development and prosperity of one of the most important Territories of the Union, and the character and honor of the nation itself, the obligations of duty resting upon the administration now in power, as well as upon Congress, to the American people, demand that Congress investigate at once the truth of the statements hereinbefore recited from the report of Governor Swineford, to the end that if found true the extraordinary powers and privileges heretofore granted by Congress to said company be promptly rescinded, and such provisions made as will protect the property of the Government and the rights of American citizens in the Territory of Alaska: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives be, and he is hereby, authorized and instructed to appoint a committee of five members of the House, whose duty it shall be to inquire into the truth of the statements hereinbefore recited, and whether the lease under which said company is now operating is conducive to the best interests of the Government of the United States, and whether it would be just and expedient for the Government to terminate the same, and to take charge of the said islands and to take upon itself the care and custody of the seal-life on said islands and of the waters of the Alaska Territory; and that said committee shall, when so constituted, be authorized to employ a stenographer, with full power to send for persons and papers, books, and vouchers, and report thereon with all convenient speed to this House.

A SAMPLE OF LANDS-TEALING.

JANUARY 23, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Public Lands and ordered to be printed.

Mr. BUCHANAN submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas the Irish World of January 21, 1888, asserts the following:

A SAMPLE OF LAND-STEALING.

The story of the way the California Redwood Company came into the possession of 64,000 acres of most valuable timber-land, estimated to be worth $22,000,000, shows the kind of barefaced fraud that has been practiced upon the Government by foreign land-thieves. What is known as the California Redwood Company consists of an English president and a Scotch board of directors. Sometime ago these land-thieves determined to steal from the American people the lands we have spoken of. It was true that bribery and perjury of the most startling kind would have to be resorted to before they could carry out their designs. They, however, cared very little for that. They had made up their minds to cheat the United States of $22,000,000 worth of land, and they were not going to be deterred by the prospect of having to go into the bribery and perjury business by the wholesale;

They began by hiring an agent, whose duty it was to get persons to make fraudulent entries, which were immediately transferred to the syndicate of foreign thieves. The consideration in each case was $50 for the 160 acres thus transferred. Four hundred men were each bribed with this sum to make entries under the homestead act, which were immediately deeded to the Redwood Company. In every case the entry included a part of the timber-land that the foreign syndicate wanted to steal. Whenever there was difficulty about obtaining American citizens to perjure themselves in the interest of the land-thieves orders were given to have sham naturalization papers made out for foreigners who never intended to become bona fide citizens of the United States;

In the county where the stolen lands are situated three hundred and nine aliens filed with the clerk of the county court their sworn declaration of intention of becoming citizens of the United States, a preliminary indispensable in order to make a land entry. Although four years have elapsed since these declarations were made, only thirty-seven of those making them have up to date taken out their final papers. The following testimony of the keeper of a sailor's boarding-house shows the way in which the business of making false entries was conducted:

"Marks and Beach (the agents of the Scotch syndicate) came to me and proposed that I should have some seamen boarding at my house, awaiting to be shipped, file land entries. He agreed to pay me the entry fees of twelve. I agreed, and we fixed up the business. After the twelve men (all I had in the house) had filed at the land office on numbers given by Marks, I had them go before the notary public, and they signed twelve deeds in blank. Most of these men were not citizens of the United States. I saw the men sign. Then I shipped the men off to sea as quickly as possible;"

In this case it was not thought necessary to go through the formality of getting out first papers, as the alien sailors who made the entries could be easily shipped out of the way and no further inquiries would be made about them. As each of the twelve men supplied by the boarding-house keeper entered a claim for 160 acres, the Scotch syndicate obtained 1,920 acres of rich timber-land for the insignificant sum of $600, their agent having given each of the sailors $50 for deeding his claim to the syndicate;

LETTER

FROM

THE PUBLIC PRINTER,

IN RESPONSE TO

Resolution of the House adopted January 24, 1888.

JANUARY 30, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Printing and ordered to be printed.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., January 30, 1888.

SIR: I herewith transmit to Congress my report in reply to the directions contained in resolutions of the House adopted January 24.

TH. E. BENEDICT,
Public Printer.

Hon. S. S. COX,
Speaker pro tempore House of Representatives.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE,
Washington, D. C., January 30, 1888.

SIR: I beg to acknowledge the receipt, on the 26th instant, of the following preamble and resolution, adopted in the House of Representatives on January 24, 1888, to wit:

Whereas it is reported that a considerable number of employés have been recently discharged from the force of the Public Printer, and that others have been granted involuntary furloughs, thereby reducing the force employed in the office of the Public Printer: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Public Printer be directed to report to this House whether he has recently discharged or furloughed any of his force; and if so, how many, and for what reasons such discharges and furloughs have been made at a time when the printing ordered by this House is largely in arrears.

Also, whether, in making such discharges and furloughs, regard has been had to section 1754 of the Revised Statutes, by giving the preference to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors.

In reply, as directed, I have the honor to state that on the 21st of present month I discharged from this office 39 employés, me women. Said discharged employés included 16 book-binders, 14 book-sewers, and 1 laborer from the bindery division, and 8 others from other divisions of the office, comprising 1 proof-reader, 1 copy-holder, 1 carpenter, 1 laborer, and 4 women from the folding-room. I also on that date furloughed 24 book-binders and 16 book-sewers for a period of twelve working days, at the end of which they are at liberty to report for duty and resume work.

These persons were discharged and furloughed under authority of law conferred upon me to employ the necessary hands in this office for the execution of the public printing and binding, under which authority of law my powers are expressly limited as follows:

He [the Congressional Printer] shall not at any time employ in the office more hands than the absolute necessities of the public work may require.

My action was also influenced by the further provision of law which is found in the act appropriating funds for the public printing and binding for the current fiscal year, to wit:

No more than an allotment of one-half of the sum hereby appropriated shall be expended in the two first quarters of the fiscal year, and no more than one-fourth thereof may be expended in either of the two last quarters of the fiscal year, except that in addition thereto, in either of said last quarters, the unexpended balances of allotment for preceding quarters may be expended.

A reduction of force at this time being a business necessity, as well as dictated by a due observance of the provisions of the two acts above quoted, I directed a discharge and furlough from that division of the office which, owing to the present nature of the demands upon the office, could bear the reduction with the least interruption of the current work. Such a discharge of employés in this office, even at this season of the year, was not an unusual event, as the records of the office show, especially from the division referred to, which does not usually during the present allotment period require to be run to its fullest capacity. It is probable that the motive of my action may be better shown by a comparison of the force in the bindery at the time of this discharge with that of the same period in January, 1886, at the beginning of the first session of the Forty-ninth Congress:

Total number of book-binders, January, 1886	262
Total number of book-binders, January, 1888	274

These figures from the rolls of the office show that prior to the recent discharge there were employed twelve more book-binders than at the same period two years ago. The demands of the current work of the office at this season of the year require less work in the bindery than during the period when the regular editions of the document work ordered by Congress, the Agricultural Report, the bound edition of the Record, and the reports of Departments are in hand for binding. Apart from the fact that this office was carrying a larger force in the bindery than had been the case at other periods under like conditions, I am pleased to state to Congress that said division of the office had been enabled during the preceding year not only to meet all current demands but to bring up to date much delayed work and to execute more of the reserve work than had ever been the case in any single previous year. As a consequence, said division is now enabled to more than meet any current demand that is likely to be made upon it. This condition of affairs will continue until the office takes up the work of the Agricultural Report for 1887, the copy of which has not yet been received.

The following statement will exhibit the increase in the output of bound Congressional work for the periods named, being for equal portions of the first sessions of the Forty-ninth and Fiftieth Congresses:

Congressional work, bound complete, from July 1, 1887, to January 25, 1888, inclusive: Number of volumes	890,221

A fair proportion of this great increase in the output of the office in bound Congressional work during a period of less than seven months (amounting to an actual gain of 313,275 volumes, or an increase of over 50 per cent.) was for work ordered by Congress from two to five years prior to my assuming charge of the office, and the statement does not include any work executed in the bindery upon Department requisitions, which during the same period was the largest ever known in the office.

These statements as to the work accomplished and the present condition of the work of the bindery will, I trust, in the judgment of Congress, be deemed a sufficient justification of my action in pursuance of the provision of the law prohibiting the Public Printer from employing in the office "more hands than the absolute necessities of the public work may require."

It may be further stated, however, that the condition of the appropriation governing this office for the present year was also a motive for my action. Of the total sum of $1,088,304.54 available, from all sources, for the public printing and binding, under the provisions of the one-half allotment, from July 1 to December 31, 1887, I expended for labor and material during said period $1,074,446.43, leaving but $13,858.11 unexpended and available in the Treasury, which sum would not have enabled me to continue the work of the office for more than two working days beyond the first allotment period. In addition to the sum available for public printing and binding for the one-half allotment period, there was available of the agricultural appropriation of 1886, from July 1, 1887, to January 1, 1888, the sum of $169,696.98, all of which, excepting $4,953.96, was expended prior to January 1, and all of the latter sum prior to the date of the discharge referred to, the whole edition of 401,900 copies being bound and delivered within four and one-half months. I had, on January 1, available, under the provisions of the appropriation act, less than $552,000 to conduct the office during the third quarter or present allotment period of three months, and the expenses of the office for labor and material at this time, in order to execute promptly the work demanded by Congress and the Departments, is necessarily about $8,500 per day, a sum equal to the highest average per diem expense for any period heretofore in the history of the office.

This statement would seem to furnish a sufficient answer to certain criticisms directed to an assumed parsimony on the part of the present administration of this office. I have not failed to expend every dollar at my disposal that could be honestly and legally applied to executing the increased demand for public printing, nor can it be justly said that I received at the hands of Congress at its last session all the appropriation which I deemed necessary for the conduct of the work of the office. The original estimate transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury to cover the expenses of this office for the current fiscal year was $2,227,047.41.

In reply to a request of the Appropriations Committee of the House, made December 1, 1886, as to "Whether said estimate can not be prudently reduced to the sum which was appropriated for the current fiscal year, namely, $2,000,000," I said: "If the question was one simply of doing the Government printing with the present facilities and under present conditions, I would answer that $2,000,000 was amply sufficient, providing there was no increase in the amount of work ordered by Congress." I then called attention to the largely-increased demand being made upon the office, and to certain extraordinary expenditures imperatively demanded in the interest of safety and economy, which I estimated would need an appropriation of at least $159,000, and stated that if Congress would appropriate that sum for the special purpose of increasing the facilities and working capacity of the office, I would feel confidence in undertaking to conduct the office for the fiscal year of 1888 for the sum of $2,000,000, being the amount appropriated for the fiscal year 1887.

While Congress, in the due and proper exercise of its powers, saw fit to confine this office to a sum upward of $150,000 below the lowest amount estimated by me to be necessary, and notwithstanding large expenditures have been required to be made out of the regular appropriation for printing and binding to meet actual necessities in the direction of safety, health, and the prompt execution of the increased demands made upon the office, I can state that I have been enabled, by legitimate economies in the purchase of material and the discharge of needless employés, to keep fully abreast of the work of the office, and I feel quite confident of my ability to meet the expectations of Congress within the limits of expense it has set, unless the allotment restriction of the present quarter should result in embarrassment owing to my inability to use an amount of appropriation proportionate to the demands of the work that may be called for by Congress.

The statement in the resolution that the "printing ordered by this House is largely in arrears" is one that I beg respectfully but emphatically to dissent from. There is not at this time, nor was there at the time of the introduction or passage of the resolution, any work ordered by this Congress in arrears in this office, all work received up to that time having been printed and returned to Congress within the shortest period that it could possibly be done, or within which it ever has been done.

It is in the power of Congress to order in a single day printing that would occupy every resource of this office for a week or even a year. The Public Printer can not be expected to execute work not within the mechanical facilities or the working space at his command. For several days immediately succeeding the reassembling of Congress, after the holiday adjournment, more work was received than could be executed within a working day, owing to the fact that the mechanical facilities of the office in type, presses, and other machinery were not sufficient to meet so extraordinary a demand, although one of the largest and best selected bill and document forces ever known in the history of the office was employed.

I can not refrain from stating at this time that in every case where complaint of delayed work has been made, either in Congress, the public press, or by communication to this office, the bills or documents so represented as delayed had, so far as my knowledge extends, already been printed and delivered to Congress for periods of a day or a week previous, or else the copy of the same had not been received at this office when the request or complaint was made. I can further say, with the greatest confidence, that the office has, during the past month and year, exceeded all previous efforts in the rapid execution of printing and binding, and, had there been less efficiency in the working force, or less improvements in the office service during the year past, it would not now be able to meet the daily demands made upon it.

Upon the basis of these facts and statements I would respectfully deny all charges that this office is in arrears in printing the work ordered by the House. Apart from the fact that not one single complaint has reached me from the Senate of any delay in printing documents or bills, I submit the following statement from the records of this office, on which I base the claim that the office has not only executed promptly all work of Congress, but has executed a largely increased amount of work for this Congress in comparison with work executed during the same period of the Forty-ninth Congress:

Total number of Senate executive documents, Senate miscellaneous documents, and Senate reports received up to January 25, 1886, first session Forty-ninth Congress	158
Total number of House executive documents, Senate miscellaneous documents, and House reports received up to January 25, 1886, first session Forty ninth Congress	240
Total	398
Total number of Senate executive documents, Senate miscellaneous documents, and Senate reports received up to January 25, 1888, first session Fiftieth Congress	189
Total number of House executive documents, House miscellaneous documents, and House reports received up to January 25, 1888, first session Fiftieth Congress	391
Total	580
Total number of Senate bills introduced up to January 25, 1886, first session Forty-ninth Congress	1,235
Total number of House bills introduced up to January 25, 1886, first session Forty-ninth Congress	4,420
Total	5,655
Total number of Senate bills introduced up to January 25, 1888, first session Fiftieth Congress	1,654
Total number of House bills introduced up to January 25, 1888, first session Fiftieth Congress	5,995
Total	7,659

These figures show conclusively an increase of nearly 46 per cent. in the Senate and House documents and reports, and of nearly 36 per cent. in the Senate and House bills, up to January 25 of the present session of Congress over a like period of the first session of the Forty-ninth Congress, all of which work, except a few documents held awaiting illustrations and a few others never taken up at this season of the year, was completed and delivered to Congress before the close of work on January 25, 1888, to which period the figures are brought up.

I am pleased to further present the following figures, showing the increased amount of work in the office in another direction:

Total number of concurrent resolutions, Senate resolutions, and House resolutions received in this office during the first session of the Forty-ninth Congress up to January 25, 1886, inclusive	51
Total number of concurrent resolutions, Senate resolutions, and House resolutions received at this office during the first session of the Fiftieth Congress up to January 25, 1888, inclusive	67

This exhibit shows an increase of sixteen in the number of said resolutions, or an average of over 30 per cent., and I can state that all of the same have been printed and promptly delivered to Congress.

The following exhibit of work printed on private orders of members of the Senate and House also has a bearing on the points previously presented:

Total number of copies of messages and speeches ordered up to January 25, 1886, first session Forty-ninth Congress	332,410
Total number of copies of messages and speeches ordered up to January 25, 1888, first session Fiftieth Congress	749,000

All of this work was printed and delivered at the date of this report, being a gain of over 100 per cent.

The records of the office show a corresponding increase in work received from all of the Departments of the Government during the present fiscal year, as compared with that of two years ago, as the following figures clearly indicate:

Total number of requisitions for printing received from the several Executive and Judicial Departments, the Secretary of the Senate, and the Clerk of the House from July 1, 1885, to January 25, 1886	13,169
Total number of requisitions for printing received from the several Executive and Judicial Departments, the Secretary of the Senate, and the Clerk of the House from July 1, 1887, to January 25, 1888	14,272
Total increase	1,103

This increase of over 9 per cent. in the total number of requisitions, however, does not indicate the actual increase of work, as a large number of the requisitions cover nearly double the amount of work required by the requisitions of two years ago. This statement is made clear by the following exhibit of the cost of work covered by said requisitions and chargeable against the total allotments of the Departments for the current year:

Total allotments to Departments for printing and binding for current fiscal year	$1,103,237.46
Total cost of work covered by 14,272 requisitions received and charged during current fiscal year	799,214.21
Balance allotments available	304,023.25

This shows that less than one-third of the total sum allotted to Departments in the appropriations for printing and binding for the current fiscal year is now available for their use, while less than seven months of the fiscal year have elapsed. It is proper to add that it is customary for Departments to put in the major part of their requisitions during the first allotment period of the year, to allow of ample time to execute them; but the records show that their orders have been supplied more promptly and in larger quantities than usual, leading to the early exhaustion of their allotment, and calling for a greatly reduced amount of work during the balance of the year. This fact alone is a sufficient cause for the reduction of force at this time in the division most affected by this reduction of the demand for departmental work, and can be stated as an additional reason for my action.

The several exhibits already given do not so clearly illustrate the increase in the amount of work executed at present over past periods in this office as the following statement of the press-room and paper warehouse, which furnish the items that may be considered the most correct gauge of the actual output of printed work:

	Printed forms.	Tokens.
Total output of press-room from December 1, 1885, to January 25, 1886, inclusive	10,589	83,173
Total output of press-room from December 1, 1887, to January 25, 1888, inclusive	11,532	87,921

This exhibits an increase in favor of the present period of 933 printed forms and 4,758 tokens of paper (equal to 2,379,000 printed sheets) in a period of only forty-five working days. Yet, while this is fairly representative of the increased output of work, it does not show the full increase, for the reason that some eight presses in the press-room now print 32-page forms, which count in tokens only equal to the 16-page forms formerly printed. The following is the paper warehouse exhibit:

Total pounds of printing and writing papers used in press-room from December 1, 1885, to January 25, 1886, inclusive	365,382
Total pounds of printing and writing papers used in press-room from December 1, 1887, to January 25, 1888, inclusive	451,122

This shows an increase of over 23 per cent. in the use of one class of paper over the period of two years ago, this class of paper being that on which Congressional work is mostly printed. The statement does not include any paper used in the bindery, nor any material (such as paper, envelopes, and card-board) furnished by Congress or the Departments, of which material there has been an increase estimated at nearly fourfold over the amounts of the same material received two years ago.

I am further pleased to state that this large increase of work has been accomplished with a force of about two hundred employés less than was required two years ago, which reduction, I would add, has not been made by the discharge of skilled and competent mechanics, the number of which in the office is now about equal to that of former years, but which has been made largely by the dismissal of clerks, laborers, and other supernumerary persons whose employment, in my judgment, did not contribute to the output of work in the office.

In further reply to your resolution, as to "whether, in making discharges and furloughs, regard has been had to section 1754, Revised Statutes, by giving the preference to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors," I have to state that I have fully observed the letter and spirit of said act, and that of all later acts which protect not only the limited number of veteran soldiers referred to in section 1754 of the Revised Statutes, but all honorably discharged soldiers and sailors and their widows and orphan children. In corroboration of this statement, I have the original lists on which the names of persons were presented to me from the working divisions of this office for discharge, on which appear my own memoranda as to whether they were entitled to exemption under the above-referred-to provisions of law, and upon which no honorably discharged soldier or sailor, or widow or orphan son or daughter of the same, appears as having been discharged except for cause.

I can further state that the roll-book of this office, for the first time in its history, now bears a record of every person entitled to protection under the act according preferment in appointment or exemption from discharge for reason of service in the Army of the United States. This data could only be obtained by a personal inquiry of nearly every person found entitled to such exemption when I took charge of the office, as the original appointment papers on file in but few instances referred to their honorable service in the Army.

I am pleased to state that there is a much larger percentage of honorably discharged soldiers and sailors and their widows and orphan children now employed in this office than ever before, and in such divisions as the watch force none but honorably discharged soldiers and sailors have been appointed by me.

If Congress should not find this reply sufficiently broad to cover the inquiry proposed by the resolution, I will be pleased to have any further inquiry or investigation made that may seem desirable in the matter, or that the purposes of the authors of the present inquiry may suggest.

JANUARY 30, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means and ordered to be printed.

Mr. CUTCHEON submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Resolved, That it is the deliberate judgment of this House that in any proposed revision of the duties upon imports the principle of protection to American industries, and the maintenance of the wages of American working-men at the American standard, ought to be distinctly recognized and firmly adhered to.

Resolved, That duties upon imports ought not to be imposed "for revenue only;" but the production of those articles which we have abundant raw materials and labor to produce in this country ought to be protected by duties sufficient to enable American producers to maintain free competition in such productions in the American markets.

Resolved, That articles for the free or non-dutiable list should be selected from among such necessaries of living as we are unable to produce, in adequate quantity for our needs, within the United States, and not from among such productions as would come into direct competition with our own industries, and would tend to throw American working-men out of employment, and to depress their wages, and ultimately to increase the cost of such productions by destroying competition.

PENSIONS IN LIFE-SAVING SERVICE.

FEBRUARY 1, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Commerce and ordered to be printed.

EIGHT MEMORIALS

FROM

Mrs. Chief-Justice Waite, and the officers of the Woman's National Relief Association and citizens of the United States, praying for a pension to those who become disabled or who die while in the Life-Saving Service.

To the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled:

Your petitioners, members of the "Woman's National Relief Association for the relief of the shipwrecked," and others who sympathize with the brave and suffering, respectfully represent:

1. That the Life-Saving Service, from a small beginning has grown into magnificient proportions; that its stations are destined to occupy every prominent point of danger on our vast lines of lake and ocean front;

2. That the extension of the Service will increase the number of men exposed to the unusual hazards of this work;

3. That already many of them have fallen before the fury of the elements and found watery graves; and others have been disabled, and that wives and children have been left to the tender mercies of friends, common charity, and the poor-house;

4. That it is a public injustice that men engaged in a work fraught with so much danger, and of so much value to its beneficiaries in life and property, should receive compensation so disproportionate to the value of the service rendered, barely sufficient to meet their most common daily necessities, leaving nothing in reserve for the contingencies of fatality and disability;

5. That thousands of lives and millions of property are annually saved, and will continue to be saved, by this Service, which has more danger than any military or naval service; that ultimately nearly every man in it will lose his life or be disabled from exposure; that it has no emolument or stimulant save a meager wage and the consciousness of heroic deeds;

6. That all travelers upon the waters and all shippers feel safer from the knowledge that there are heroic men always at the point of danger, guarding it with sleepless vigilance, always on the lookout for the victims of the angry elements, and always ready to jeopardize life to save life;

7. That this is not merely a work for the safety of our own people; it knows no nationality, extends a helping hand alike to all;

8. That its service and success are matters of national pride; that the nation's honor and the honor of every citizen loyal to the interests of humanity and the cry of distress is compromised by the failure to provide ample compensation for the risks and work done and to be done, and to secure to the wives, children, and dependents of the victims of this grand benevolence adequate support;

9. That these men would meet the dangers always before them and perform their work with braver hearts and stronger arms, having the assurance that death in the discharge of duty would not leave those dependent upon them paupers, no one will deny.

10. Less than this is not merely injustice, it is crime.

11. With due appreciation of the two years' pension already granted to the families in case of death, we pray that these men may receive a pension in the event of being disabled in or through the exposure of the service, and their families in case of their death the same at least as for military service.

To the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled:

Your petitioners, members of the "Woman's National Relief Association for the Relief of the Shipwrecked," and others who sympathize with the brave and suffering, respectfully represent:

1. That the Life-Saving Service, from a small beginning, has grown into magnificent proportions; that its stations are destined to occupy every prominent point of danger on our vast lines of lake and ocean front;

2. That the extension of the service will increase the number of men exposed to the unusual hazards of this work;

3. That already many of them have fallen before the fury of the elements and found watery graves; that others have been disabled, and that wives and children have been left to the tender mercies of friends, common charity, and the poor-house;

4. That it is a public injustice that men engaged in a work fraught with so much danger, and of so much value to its beneficiaries in LIFE and PROPERTY, should receive compensation so disproportionate to the value of the service rendered, barely sufficient to meet their most common daily necessities, leaving nothing in reserve for the contingencies of fatality and disability;

5. That thousands of lives and millions of property are annually saved, and will continue to be saved by this service, which has more danger than any military or naval service; that ultimately nearly every man in it will lose his life or be disabled from exposure; that it has no emolument or stimulant save a meager wage and the consciousness of heroic deeds;

6. That all travelers upon the waters and all shippers feel safer from the knowledge that there are heroic men always at the point of danger, guarding it with sleepless vigilance, always on the lookout for the victims of the angry elements, and always ready to jeopardize life to save life;

7. That this is not merely a work for the safety of our own people; it knows no nationality, extends a helping hand alike to all;

8. That its service and success are matters of national pride; that the nation's honor, and the honor of every citizen loyal to the interests of humanity and the cry of distress, is compromised by the failure to provide ample compensation for the risks and work done and to be done, and to secure to the wives, children, and dependents of the victims of this grand benevolence adequate support;

9. That these men would meet the dangers always before them and perform their work with braver hearts and stronger arms, having the assurance that death in the discharge of duty would not leave those dependent upon them paupers, no one will deny;

10. Less than this is not merely injustice, it is crime.

11. With due appreciation of the two (2) years' pension already granted to the families in case of death, we pray that these men may receive a pension in the event of being disabled in or through the exposure of the service, and their families in case of their death, the same at least as for military service.

THE WOMAN'S NATIONAL RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

This association was organized in the city of New York in 1880, and subsequently incorporated in the names of its officers, with headquarters at Washington. Its object is to gather and conserve the benevolence of the people of this country for useful application in times of public distress, accruing from war, pestilence, famine, fire, flood, or shipwreck, and so to arrange and direct its forces that at any time of such necessity it shall be in instant readiness to afford relief, by means of auxiliary societies, at any point, whenever local resources and State appropriations are exhausted or inadequate to the necessities of the case.

Mrs. Waite, wife of the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, is its presiding officer, and the wife of each President of the United States is ex officio president during the term of his administration. The presidents of State auxiliaries are vice-presidents of the national association.

Appreciating the fact that organizations grow rusty from inactivity, as well as deeply feeling the paramount necessity for benevolent action in this direction, the association has taken upon itself the responsibility of supplementing the Government service in the rescue of shipwrecked people, by providing life-saving stations with supplies of clothing, bedding, and food for the succor of persons rescued by life-saving crews. In the four years of its existence it has thus supplied nearly all of the more than 200 United States life-saving stations, and is now engaged in replenishing such stations as have expended their supplies. The association has received abundant testimony to the relief and comfort afforded by this benevolence. The following extract from a letter lately written to the association in reference to expenditure of supplies sent by the New York State auxiliary will afford some idea of the good work. Superintendent Huntting, third life-saving district, writing to the Department relative to the rescue of fifteen sailors from the wreck of the bark Charlie Hickman, on the coast of Long Island, on the 22d of December, says:

"I desire to express the thanks of the shipwrecked men to the relief association. I sent to Smith's Point Station and the Moriches Station for all the men's clothing at these stations, so placed by the good ladies of the association. It will be remembered that the weather was severely cold, ice making from the breath of the surfmen in their whiskers." * * *

In transmitting the above extract to the Woman's National Relief Association, Mr. Kimball, General Superintendent of the Life-Saving Service, says:

"I beg to add my thanks for the great service rendered upon this occasion by the supplies of the Woman's National Relief Association. The rescued men were brought ashore in a deplorable condition, ten of the fifteen being so far gone that they had to be revived. They lost all their clothing, except the garments they had on, and these were frozen upon them. Under such circumstances the dry habiliments collected for their use were of the greatest benefit."

This association depends entirely upon the gifts of the people. It has no salaried officers. Every dollar of its funds and every article donated is acknowledged and accounted for. It asks no aid from Government, believing that such work should not be sustained by legislative appropriations.

In token of its constant work it has chosen the ensign of the blue anchor, and for the same reason it adopts a model life-boat for its contribution boxes. It has also, beside the extended service rendered to the shipwrecked upon our coast, been active in sending relief West and South in times of fire, flood, and pestilence. Further information concerning the Woman's National Relief Association, or in reference to establishing auxiliary societies, may be obtained by addressing

FROM

THE PRESIDENT OF THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,

TRANSMITTING

A statement of expenditures on account of contingent expenses of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887.

FEBRUARY 3, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on the District of Columbia and ordered to be printed.

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONERS,
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
Washington, January 31, 1888.

SIR: In compliance with the requirements of the act making appropriations for the support of the government of the District of Columbia, approved February 25, 1885 (U. S. Stats., vol. 23, p. 319), the Commissioners herewith transmit to Congress a detailed statement of expenditures on account of appropriations for contingent expenses of the District of Columbia for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1887. These balances have since been partially or wholly extinguished by subsequent payments.

Very respectfully,

W. B. WEBB,
President.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Speaker, House of Representatives, United States.

Abstract of expenditures made by the Commissioners of the District of Columbia under the appropriation contingent expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1887.

BOND PURCHASES FOR SINKING FUND.

FEBRUARY 6, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and ordered to be printed.

Mr. WEAVER submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas it appears from a letter of the honorable Secretary of the Treasury, dated January 13, 1888, addressed to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and printed in Ex. Doc. No. 78, Fiftieth Congress, first session, that an additional appropriation of $2,000 is made necessary to meet an anticipated deficiency in telegraphic expenses of the Treasury Department, caused by the regulations recently adopted relating to deposits of Government funds in national-bank depositaries; and

Whereas the Secretary of the Treasury, in his annual report to Congress, says:

> The Government has purchased some bonds during the present fiscal year for the sinking fund, and has been obliged to pay such a price for them that the annual saving in interest upon the purchases is only about 2¼ per cent.; that the price of the same class of bonds has materially advanced since these purchases, and that the premium paid on said purchases amounted to $2,852,015.00.

Whereas the policy of purchasing bonds with surplus money in the Treasury, as aforesaid, has ceased, and the policy of depositing the public funds in a large number of national banks has been substituted in lieu thereof; and

Whereas the statute authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to designate national banks as United States depositaries provides that the Secretary shall prescribe the regulations by which said depositaries of public funds shall be governed: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury be, and is hereby, directed to report to this House at the earliest possible moment all the facts bearing upon the following inquiries:

First. At what dates were the propositions made by the Treasury Department to buy said bonds; and if any person or association was employed to purchase said bonds, give name of said person, persons, or association. Give dates of purchase, name of seller, kind of bonds purchased, amounts paid, and current rates at which said bonds were quoted at the time the proposition to purchase was made by the Department.

Second. State when the policy relating to deposits in national-bank depositaries was adopted which created the deficiency spoken of in the letter aforesaid of the Secretary of the Treasury, and whether after the purchase of bonds spoken of on the eleventh page of the Annual Report of the Secretary of the Treasury for the year 1887; give also reasons for changing policy first adopted, to wit, the purchase of bonds.

Third. State if the deficiency spoken of in the aforesaid letter of the Secretary was caused by the large increase in the number of national-bank depositaries.

Append to your answer a statement showing the per cent. of deposits on bonds deposited to secure the same under present regulations of the Treasury Department; also append copy of said regulations. State what per cent. of deposits has been allowed by the Department on United States bonds deposited for this purpose for the past twelve years, and whether the rate has been uniform, and whether below or above the par value of the bonds previous to the adoption of the present policy, and what was the rate percentage at the date of change of policy.

Fourth. Has said new policy of the Department concerning United States depositaries, the number thereof, and the increased percentage of deposits allowed had any effect to either increase or diminish the circulation of national-bank notes, and to what extent, and whether said policy has resulted in the increase or diminution of the money supply of the country.

Fifth. State the number of national banks which have been designated as depositaries of public funds since the adoption of the present policy, the number formerly designated that have availed themselves of the increased rate, and where said banks have been designated since the adoption of the present policy and rate of deposits; state when the bonds deposited in the Treasury by said designated depositaries were transferred to said associations, and by whom.

HARBOR OF OSWEGO.

FEBRUARY 9, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Rivers and Harbors and ordered to be printed.

Mr. NUTTING submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas, It appears, by the report of Chief of Engineers in regard to river and harbor improvements for 1887, that about 150 linear feet of the west breakwater or pier in the harbor of Oswego, N. Y., has been swept away;

It also appears that between two and three hundred linear feet of the east breakwater or pier in said harbor has been built; and

Whereas, It is alleged that the above-described breach in the said pier or breakwater, in time of storm, allows the sea to come into the inner harbor to the extent that commerce (and vessels with the property connected therewith) is endangered; it is also alleged by sailors and masters of vessels frequenting said harbor that the said portion of the east pier or breakwater already built is too near the west breakwater, thereby making the channel necessarily passed by vessels so narrow that in heavy weather, with west-northwest winds, all vessels are in danger in passing through, and that in fact since the building of said part of said east breakwater vessels have been wrecked because of the position of the said east pier or breakwater: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Secretary of War, by the Chief of Engineers aforesaid, be, and he is hereby, requested, if consistent with the public welfare, to report to this House—

1. Whether the said breached part of said west breakwater or pier ought at once to be repaired, and, if so, what the cost of such repair will be.

2. Whether in the opinion of the engineers the said east breakwater, so called, now erected in the mouth of the river, does endanger vessels entering said harbor, and whether vessels have been injured and wrecked on said east pier, and whether said pier ought or ought not to be removed, and if it ought to be removed what the cost of such removal will be.

3. Whether the $80,000 recommended in the Engineer's report for 1887 to be appropriated to Oswego Harbor by Congress at this session includes the expenditures necessary to repair said west breakwater and remove said east breakwater, if the said pier or breakwater should be repaired and removed.

4. What the Chief of Engineers recommends Congress to appropriate for the benefit of Oswego Harbor, and the amounts and particular purposes for which said money should be expended, including the repair of said west pier or breakwater and the removal of the said east pier, if such piers ought to be repaired and removed.

OVERLOADING OF VESSELS ON GREAT LAKES, ETC.

FEBRUARY 9, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries and ordered to be printed.

RESOLUTION:

Whereas at a convention of seamen held at Toledo, Ohio, January, 1888, delegations were present from Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo, and Oswego, and said delegations represented more than 5,000 seamen of the great chain of lakes. That said convention passed the following preamble:

"Whereas 73 vessels, aggregating a tonnage of 20,678 tons, and valued, with cargoes, at $2,500,000, together with 204 lives, were lost on the Great Lakes during the season of 1887; and

"Whereas the 204 lives lost, with the vessels mentioned, caused such an intense feeling of indignation throughout the country that the press was loud in its denunciation of underwriters and the incompetency of Government inspectors; and

"Whereas, as is well known, a majority of vessels lost on the Great Lakes during the season of 1887 were rendered unseaworthy by being loaded beyond their carrying capacity, thereby causing them to founder and carry to the bottom with them, in most cases, the entire crew, and as a consequence leaving widows and orphans destitute of their natural protectors:" Therefore,

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States be, and he is hereby, requested, if consistent with the public good, to transmit to this House all information in custody of said Department in regard to the matters and things set forth in said preamble; and said Secretary is requested to state whether there is any rule, order, or regulation of the Treasury Department the enforcement of which would prevent the overloading of vessels with freight, and as to whether there is any law or laws in force regulating the quantity of freight vessels on the Great Lakes shall carry.

PROTECTION OF FISHERMEN.

FEBRUARY 17, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries and ordered to be printed.

Mr. DINGLEY presented the following:

The present defective method of dory fishing, its unfortunate features, and proposed remedies.

By COMMERCIAL AGENT ROBERTSON.

YARMOUTH, NOVA SCOTIA, January 7, 1888.

At a time when the protection of the interests and rights of our fishermen in British North American waters is so largely occupying the attention of the executive and legislative branches of the Government, it would seem especially pertinent to bring to the Department's notice a feature of this subject, involving neither rights nor privileges, but having to do with the apparently unnecessary amount of suffering and loss of life occurring during each fishing season among the crews of our vessels engaged in deep-sea fishing.

As introductory to the subsequent remarks on this subject and the conclusions deduced therefrom, it is deemed not out of place to recite a few of the most noteworthy cases, as gleaned from the Gloucester, Halifax, and other papers, occurring during the years 1886 and 1887, where fishermen have been lost in dories from their vessels, and to briefly give some idea of their experiences before being relieved by death or human aid. Only the facts, as set forth by the unfortunate fishermen, have been given, leaving the imagination to supply the details.

March 30.—Angus McEachem, Colin Chisholm, James and Angus McDonald went astray from schooner Cecil H. Low, of Gloucester, on Western Banks. No food nor water in dory; suffering of men excruciating. Seven days after leaving vessel dory grounded on Guyon Island. The McDonalds were both dead, and the other two men so near death that neither could take a step, their feet being raw, purple, and horribly swollen from extreme cold and exposure.

A special dispatch to the Yarmouth Times says of this:

HALIFAX, April 8.

The Chronicle this morning publishes an exclusive account from Louisburg, Cape Breton, of the terrible experiences of four men who lost their vessel, the American fishing schooner Cecil H. Low, on Western Banks, while attending their trawls.

Four days after losing the schooner one of them, James McDonald, of East Point, Prince Edward Island, died from starvation and exposure. In the same evening Angus McDonald, of Broad Cove, Cape Breton, cut one of the dead man's arms, sucking the blood and devouring the flesh. The other two men, Angus McEachem and Colin Chisholm, also provincialists, tasted the flesh, but could not swallow it. Afterward Angus McDonald became delirious, and cut the throat of the corpse to obtain more blood to drink, but failing in this, he chopped two great pieces of flesh out of the thighs, which he also ate. On the succeeding day he also expired.

After tossing about on the stormy sea, part of the time surrounded by heavy field-ice, the boat was cast ashore on Guyon Island, off Cape Breton coast. Thence they were removed, with the body of Angus McDonald, and what was left of the remains of James McDonald, to Louisburg.

The tale is the most harrowing in its character ever related, and the particulars are enough to make the blood run cold.

When land was reached Chisholm and McEachem were in such an exhausted and emaciated condition that it will take them some weeks to recover.

April 6.—George M. Reed and Joseph Gaion went astray in a dory from schooner Mabel Kenniston, on Seal Island Grounds. After nearly three days' exposure, without food or drink, to intense cold and storms, they were picked up in an exhausted state.

May 7.—Daniel McEachem and Pius McPhee, lost in a dory from schooner T. A. Gifford. Picked up by passing bark after being out all night and all day.

May 9.—August Johnson and Charles Nabby went astry from schooner Dacotah. Picked up after twenty-four hours' exposure by schooner Tubal Cain.

May 9.—Four of crew of Maud M. Story lost in fog. Two of the men picked up after five days' exposure, having had no food during this time except raw fish.

June 17.—Two of crew of schooner Lillian Baxter lost in a fog. After suffering great agony for three days and nights from hunger and thirst, rescued by steamer Germanic and taken to Queenstown.

June 30.—Edward Bond and Albert Planchette, of schooner Gardner W. Tarr, lost in fog on Grand Banks. No food or water in dory. Out until June 25, when they were picked up by a German steamer.

July 16.—Jeremiah Smith and Harvey Dale were lost from schooner Frederick Gerring, jr., on Green Bank. Out four and a-half days without food or drink. Picked up in an exhausted condition.

July 17.—Oliver Hudson and Stans Lawson lost on Grand Bank from schooner David A. Storey. Landed on coast of Newfoundland after being out three days and nights without food or drink.

July 23.—Two of crew of schooner C. B. Manning went astray in dory on George's Bank. Had a few swallows of water but no food for seventy-two hours. Picked up by schooner B. E. Eaton.

July 24.—Two of crew of Gardner W. Tarr went astray in dory. Nothing to eat or drink for three days and nights. Half crazed with hunger and thirst when picked up by Swedish bark.

August 29.—Two of crew of schooner Alert out in dory without food or drink for forty hours. Picked up by schooner Veteran.

August 29.—John Carter and Joseph Burgess lost on George's Bank from schooner Edward P. Boynton. Had no food, and but a scanty supply of water, for three days and nights. Landed, after rowing over 100 miles, on Mud Island, and were relieved by commercial agent at Yarmouth.

May 19.—Edward Hogan and John Brown were lost in a dory from schooner Richard Lester and, after six days' exposure without food or water, were picked up by bark Kate McGuire. A special dispatch to the Halifax Herald says of this:

NORTH SIDNEY, May 27.

The bark Kate McGuire, Captain Temple, arrived here this evening from Buenos Ayres, having on board two American fishermen, who were picked up in a dory of Canso. The men were in a terribly exhausted condition, having been six days without food or water. Their names are Edward Hogan and John Brown, of the American fishing schooner Richard Lester, Captain John E. Vibert, and were fishing on the Banquero Banks. They belong to Quebec and Boston, respectively. They left their vessel, the Richard Lester, of Gloucester, Mass., at 4 o'clock on the morning of Thursday, the 19th instant, for the purpose of visiting their trawls, a dense fog prevailing at the time. After rowing about for some time and being unable to find their trawls, they discovered that their compass was out of order. They immediately pulled in the direction of the vessel, but were unable to find her. The next day was also passed in fruitless search for their schooner. They then gave up all idea of finding her, and relied on the hope of being picked up by some passing vessel. They saw several vessels pass, but could never get within hailing distance. Their sufferings during this time were fearful. They had not a drop of water.

On May 24, they had given up all hopes of being saved, and one of them requested the other to cut off his arm and alleviate their thirst by drinking his blood. This offer was not accepted, and next morning at 8 a. m. they sighted a large bark and feebly rowed toward her. Fortunately, Captain Temple of the bark noticed them and bore down upon them. They were soon along side and were lifted on board being in the most helpless condition. The men say that had they not succeeded in attracting the attention of the bark they had fully intended to have given up and laid themselves down to die. They were carefully attended to on board the bark and will be taken in charge by the American consul. They were 44 miles from Canso when picked up but thought they were only about 6, their compass being altogether useless. Their hands and limbs are very much swoolen from the effects of their exposure and hardships.

May 27.—James Hinkley, of schooner Edith L. Conley, was lost in a dory, and after four days of exposure and suffering, was picked up by schooner Unison.

May 24.—James McDonald and Oscar Dauphinee were lost from schooner Carrie and Annie, of Boston, and were picked up, after three days of exposure and hardships, by the Italian bark Eutella. The Halifax Chronicle says of this:

The Italian bark Eutella, which arrived at Chatham on Sunday from Baltimore, had on board two Gloucester fisherman, James McDonald and Oscar Dauphinee, who where picked up several days before on the Banks, almost perished from cold and hunger. The fishermen tell a harrowing story. They belonged to the Gloucester fishing schooner Carrie and Annie, Captain Isaac Goten, which arrived on the banks on the 21st of May. They were fishing until Tuesday, 24th May, when both men left their schooner in a dory to haul in their trawls. It was foggy when they left the vessel, and continued to grow thicker. Then their compass got out of order and when they started for their vessel they knew not which way to go. They rowed about for three hours and then, being wearied, anchored until dark. There was not a morsel of food in the boat, and all the fresh water they had in the boat was contained in a quart can. This scanty store was exhausted before the first day was ended. At dark the wind began to blow quite fresh, stirring up a chopping sea; they could hear a vessel's horn, and though they strained every nerve they were unable to locate the sound, which died out in a short time. Without food and water the men were in a sorry plight, and nothing but starvation seemed to stare them in the face. To add to their discomfort the weather was terribly cold, and it was only by constantly rowing that they could keep from perishing. All night Tuesday they rowed aimlessly about. Hearing or seeing no vessel in that time, they determined to head for the shore, and, although they knew that the task before them was a herculean one, they manfully set about carrying it out.

On Wednesday they rowed all day in a northerly direction toward the land. They suffered fearful agonies from hunger and thirst, and, being thinly clad, the cold almost penetrated to the very marrow. Thursday morning dawned only to find the two sturdy fellows still wearily rowing their little craft along. Then a stiff breeze from the southwest sprang up and several times their boat was almost swamped. On Thursday evening about five o'clock the fog cleared away, and the horizon was eagerly scanned for a passing sail, but none was to be seen. The weather shut in thick before night, and the poor fellows began to despair of ever seeing land again. Tired and weak, they threw down their oars and let the boat drift whither it would. All night long they drifted aimlessly about.

On Friday morning at 3 a. m., when they had abandoned all hope and were sitting in the bottom of their boat gazing vacantly into the sea, which they expected soon to claim them as its prize, they fancied they heard a horn. They listened intently, and again the welcome sound was wafted over the waters. Filled with renewed hope, they crawled on to the thwrtas again and rowed in the direction from whence the sound came, shouting as loud as their weak condition would allow them. For an hour and a half they rowed and shouted, and then they heard an answering shout, and the poor fellows knew their cry had been heard and help was at hand. Presently through the gloom they descried the tall sides of a vessel, and as they got nearer they discerned friendly faces peering over the rail. The vessel proved to be the Italian bark Eutella, Captain Davegno, bound from Baltimore for the Miramichi. * * *

May 28.—Lewis Crowell and George Urquhart, of schooner Edith B. Coombs, were lost on Banquereau and were picked up four days later after the greatest hardships. They had only one pint of water between them, and no food except a few raw codfish and clams.

John Stemeon, of Schooner Mary, of Shelburne, was lost in a dory on Banquerean in June, without food or drink, and suffered great hardships before being picked up, after spending three days and nights in his frail craft.

William Richardson, of schooner Awranah, of Lunenberg, was picked up by schooner Humboldt in June and brought to Gloucester.

May 25.—John T. Masson, of schooner Jewel, of Lunenberg, was picked up and brought to Glouster by schooner J. E. Garland.

James McCarthy and Patrich Riley, of schooner Doyle, were picked up in a dory after being out eight days without food or water. The North Sydney Herald says:

The brigantine Mourna, Captain Halyard, arrived at Little Glace Bay on Monday, having on board two young men, James McCarthy and Patrick Riley, who were taken from a dory at sea, on the 1st instant. The two men belonged to the schooner Doyle, and, while visiting trawls, strayed from the vessel, and before rescued were drifting about for eight days, during which time they neither had food or water, except the second last day they managed to catch a little water in their oil-clothing. Both men suffered severely, particularly Riley, who is at present very ill. The doctor reports that some of his toes will have to be amputated. It is strange that, notwithstanding these horrors have for years been of every day occurrence, no steps have been taken by the American Government to compel vessels to supply their dories with necessary stores while visiting trawls.

July 6.—Gilbert Atwood and John Murphy, Samuel Atwood and Electra Le Bond were lost from schooner Clyde, off Monhegan. The two men first mentioned were picked up after twenty-four hours' exposure, and the others after being adrift three days and two nights without food or water.

Thomas De Caste and William Drew went astray from schooner D. O. Winchester on Western Bank in June, but were picked up by schooner John W. Brown, of Portland.

July 7.—Daniel McMaster and Alexander McNeil went astray from schooner Peregrine White, but were picked up after several hours exposure.

July 24.—John Strople and Robert Jameson lost in the fog from schooner Willie M. Stevens, in Grand Bank. Reached Saint Pierre after being in their dory three days and two nights without food or water.

July 24.—Augustus Crittenden and Harry Bloom lost from schooner Lilian Baxter on Grand Bank. Picked up by Swedish bark after forty-eight hours' exposure.

July 5.—Oscar Chelen and John Reyvieira went astray on Brown's Bank from schooner Belle of the Bay, and were without food for nearly four days and three nights before picked up (these men were landed at Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, and relieved by the United States commercial agent, to whom they related a sickening account of their exposure and suffering).

The foregoing is only a partial list of such cases occurring during the two years in question, but sufficient, it is thought, to give a good idea of the fearful perils and privations experienced by fishermen astray in dories. The Cape Ann Advertiser, of Gloucester, a paper thoroughly devoted to and conversant with the needs and interests of American fishermen, says of the losses in dories during 1887:

The cases of men who have gone astray in dories, while less numerous and, possibly, entailing less hardships in the aggregate than during some years, have still been quite numerous. In one case, a fisherman, who had endured the privations incident to being adrift for many days without food or water, died after being picked up by a passing vessel, as already told. In another case, two Gloucester fishermen were thus adrift six days and nights, and their sufferings can be easier imagined than described. In four cases fishermen were thus exposed for four days and nights, and in half a dozen or more cases, three days and nights.

The margin in many of these cases between succor and death from starvation and exposure must have been a very narrow one. Yet this is a contingency, after all that has been said and done, that is scarcely ever provided for.

Of all the numerous cases of missing fishermen which we have been called upon to chronicle this season, in only one instance was the dory provided with a supply of food and water, and the long interval before the lost fishermen were picked up afforded them ample opportunity for thankfulness that they were thus thoughtfully equipped. We have called attention to this matter time and again without avail.

The offer of the Massachusetts Humane Society to provision one or more dories, as an experiment, found not a single taker. It is evident, that unless the law steps in and compels a different course, no effort will be made to mitigate the sufferings of fishing mariners lost in the fog.

The New York Herald, in concluding an editorial on the same subject, says:

* * * But dories will be sent out in the future, as in the past, without either food or water, unless the law steps in to the fisherman's rescue. Legislation, such as we have indicated [referring to the compulsory provisioning of every dory], would save many lives yearly, and prevent an awful amount of suffering.

The Halifax Chronicle says on the same subject:

* * * But since they are foolish enough to do so [i. e., go unprovided], we sincerely hope that some steps may be taken by our cousins over the line to inquire into the causes of the unparalleled fatality connected with the Gloucester fishery, and, if possible, take steps to rectify what is wrong.

The Cape Ann Advertiser again says:

Let the Herald join with the Cape Ann Advertiser in urging, as we have done again and again, that no dory be allowed to leave the vessel's side without suitable nourishment in condensed form to sustain life for several days. How much suffering would be obviated if this were the rule. How many lives might be saved. Week before last, we told the tale of two fishermen for six days adrift, and brought to the terrible alternative of gashing the arm of one to alleviate their thirst. In the same issue we narrated the case of another who was picked up, nearly dead, after being four days adrift, and the Maine fishermen whose sustenance for four days and nights was from raw clams and uncooked fish. To-day we have the story of two men, ten days adrift, with only raw fish for food, and of the death of one after they had been picked up. Also of the fearful experience of two men who were eight days without food, and of two others who were adrift three days in a dory, at the mercy of the wind and sea.

Surely some means can be found to do away with one terrible feature of such thrilling experiences, the intense sufferings from hunger and thirst.

Such revolting records as the foregoing constantly appearing in the American and Canadian press, of the exposure, suffering, and death among United States fishermen who have gone astray from their vessels in dories on the different fishing banks has led to an interesting and careful inquiry on the part of the writer into the causes and circumstances attending these unfortunate mishaps, and establish the firm belief that, while the inability of human agency to command the fog, the storm, and the cold, and to prevent in many cases the separation of dory from vessel is acknowledged, yet the addition to the direful apprehension of the waved-tossed mariner of the fearful gnawings of hunger and thirst could, in almost every instance, be obviated by the adoption of appropriate legislation, involving no difficulties to its enforcement, and based upon considerations of simple humanity.

The legislation referred to should be such as to compel the master of every vessel engaged in trawling or hand-lining on the banks, by heavy bonds or other penalty, to see that no dory left his vessel for the purposes of fishing, unless provided with a proper compass, suitably secured from derangement by fracture or water, and with a sufficient quantity of food and drink to healthfully sustain one or two men during a period of at least a week or ten days.

In considering the advisability of such an enactment, the questions most naturally arising are as to what and to whom are the benefits to accrue therefrom, and, on the other hand, as to what are its unfavorable features, and to what extent it will interfere with the present convenience and profit of those to whom it shall refer. By way of explanation in reply to the first of these two compound questions, it may be said that so long as its occupants have the strength to keep a dory's head "to the sea," she is admitted to be as safe a craft as floats, and it is known that, by a common use of the trawl-tub and anchor, when adrift in a storm, fishermen are able to greatly facilitate this condition, at the same time reducing the physical effort necessary for their safety. It is when they succumb to the tortures and exhaustion from hunger and thirst, are reduced to a state of bodily inactivity, and, powerless to maintain the boat in a position of comparative security, lie down in despair to die, that their peril begins.

In the first place, then, it is held that benefits of literally vital importance would result to the fishermen from the adoption and rigid enforcement of such legislation by the Government, since the possession of a well-ordered compass would allow them to at once shape their course for the nearest land, while the presence of an abundant supply of food and water would, if they be not rescued in the mean time by passing vessels, insure to them a sufficient amount of health and strength to permit a safe control of their little craft in a stormy sea. Moreover, an ample nourishment of the body, and an ability for its constant exercise from the use of the oars, would greatly fortify it against the severe cold and exposure undergone during the "winter fishing," which is engaged in almost exclusively by American fishermen.

It is further held that, in addition to the protection to life and the comparative comfort while adrift thus allowed the fishermen, and, on account of the latter, there would be saved the Government the by no means inconsiderable, expense now annually incurred for the board and medical attention during weeks, and even months, of these unfortunate mariners, who, if rescued by chance, are often landed in a condition of physical helplessness truly deplorable. In answer to the second of the above questions, it is thought it can be shown in the succeeding observations that the inconvenience and expense attached to a compliance, on the part of vessels, with such a law as the one proposed, are so trifling, if at all existing, as, when compared with the value of the lives in question, to appear unworthy of the smallest consideration. It may then be asked with reason why, since these precautions for self-preservation are so important and feasible, do not the fisermen voluntarily adopt them, one and all? The answers are these:

In the first place, because they are not compelled to. In the second, because no convenient and inexpensive method of equipping their dories with proper supplies of food and water has been forced upon their attention. In the third, because the perils and hardships continually besetting the most ordinary pursuit of their avocation render them reckless of danger, thoughtless of comfort, and improvident of safety, and allow them to share, in a greater degree than the rest of their fellow-men, that human tendency to a disregard of the warnings of experience until it is too late.

True, as a rule, when going to set or attend their trawls they carry water for drink, but seldom more than enough to last them a few hours or a day. Also, they are usually provided with a compass, but this is carelessly placed upon a seat beside them, whence a slight jar or a heavy sea may throw it to the floor and disorder its action, or, perhaps, force it overboard.

Food they rarely take with them, chiefly, in addition to the above reasons, because of the difficulty of preserving it dry and clean. Because, however, the frequent exposure of these daring men to the hazard of the seas so warps their better judgment as from force of circumstances to make them heedless of their self-protection, would it not be better for those in whose power so largely lie the means of guarding their interests to provide for the fullest practical alleviation of the horrors so often connected with the straying of a dory in the fog, and to make sure that life is not sacrificed for want of something to sustain it during the few brief hours that may intervene between total collapse and a possible rescue?

It being admitted then, not only that the legislation in question is advisable, but that a compliance with its provisions is readily possible and involves the vital interests of those in whose behalf it is adopted, the next step would seem to be an ascertainment of the most feasible and convenient method of its observance; for, among men so indifferent, it would be well to render, if possible, a violation of the law less easy than an obedience to it.

It must be made less troublesome to put the compass in a place of security than to expose it to loss or accident; to carry a sufficient quantity of water than too little; to leave a supply of food constantly in the dory than to remove it.

By way of practically illustrating the methods to be employed in accomplishing these ends, the writer has had constructed, and takes the liberty of forwarding with this report, a minature dory, complete in all its detailed appointments and built on a scale of 2 inches to the foot, upon the exact model of an 18-foot trawl dory. He would apologize in regard to his ideas of equipment with compass, food and drink therein represented, for the conspicuous lack of inventive genius displayed, and will be content to simply show, in however crude a fashion, that the suggestions offered in behalf of a reform are practical, and to allow others to improve upon the details.

It may be explained, in passing, that vessels engaged in hand-line fishing on the Banks carry one dory to every man, and trawlers one to every two men of the crew, the term "crew" not including the master and cook, who always remain abroad. A trawler, then, carrying sixteen men would set seven trawls. The instances of extreme suffering and exposure in dories lost in the fog or a storm are much more infrequent among hand-liners than among trawlers, since, in the first place, the men of the former operate nearer the schooner, and the various vessels of this class, fishing on the same ground, are in comparative proximity to one another, thereby increasing the chances of rescue to a boat astray; whereas, owing to the number and length of the trawls, many of them being two miles in extent, the distance between any two vessels using these must, of necessity, be considerable. The number of crew on a smaller vessel, one under sixty tons for instance, is equal generally to about 25 per cent. of the tonnage of the vessel, while on a larger one, to about 20 per cent. of the tonnage. The vessel anchors on the fishing grounds, often for weeks in one place, and the men are sent off in dories to fish with the lines, or attend the trawls, as the case may be. When a boatload has been taken, each dory returns to the schooner, deposits its catch, and starts out for a fresh supply. At the end of the day's work, the boats are lifted on deck and are "nested;" that is, the trawl tub, compass, water-jug (if any), bait-tub, etc., are removed, the thwarts are displaced and laid in the bottom with the oars, and the dories are fitted, the one into the other, so that the whole superficial deck space occupied by them all is not larger than the size of a single dory.

From the circumscribed size of the otherwise unoccupied portion of the deck of the vessel, this process of economizing space is absolutely essential, and the boats are peculiarly constructed with a view to its facilitation. The chief point, therefore, to be carefully guarded against in any proposed plan for the complete provisioning of a dory, is an interference in any way with this operation of "nesting," and it is humbly believed that the subsequent suggestions will fully accord with the requirements in this respect. Let us look, then, into the most convenient way of providing:

(1) A compass.—For carrying this securely and conveniently a portion of the center of the after-side of the thwart, equal to the size of the lettered or inner circle of the compass, should be removed in a circular form. A covered groove should then be constructed under the thwart and on each side of this circumference, in such a manner as to snugly receive two thin parallel runners, made of tough wood or other material that will not rust, attached to the upper sides of the compass. The runners should then be so inserted as to bring the area of the inner circle of the compass under the circular opening of the seat, where it can be secured by a stationary block or other check in the rear, and by a button or hook in front. It will thus be directly between the legs and exposed to the constant view of the oarsman. It is also suggested that the so-called "dory compasses" now used could, with advantage, be more heavily weighted at the bottom so as to allow for the motion of the boat. Surely nothing could be less troublesome than to insert and button this once a day.

(2) A keg or jug of water.—The enforced size of this should be great enough to contain four or five gallons of water, and it should be always full when the dory leaves the vessel in the mornings. In almost every case the fishermen now provide themselves with water, but it is complained that this amount taken is altogether insufficient for an emergency, and should be regulated by law.

(3) Food sufficient to sustain life a week or ten days.—Owing to the incompleteness of a correspondence now being carried on with several food-canning establishments in the United States as to certain details, such as the best kind of food to be used, the required amount for a man and the actual cost thereof, the corresponding size of and proper material for the cans, etc., only a general idea can at present be given of the arrangement proposed for equipping the dory with food, but sufficient, it is thought, to show its complete practicability.

It is already known that there exists a preparation of concentrated nourishment put up in hermetically-sealed cans, consisting of an admixture of breadstuffs and meat, and capable of being kept fresh for a period of two years. It is believed now to be used chiefly by whalers and expeditions engaged in Arctic explorations.

The roughly estimated cost of furnishing this is not over $3 for each dory. When replaced by a fresh supply, it can be put into the vessel's stores, thus preventing its waste. The writer anticipates an early visit to the United States, when he hopes to give a personal attention to these details, and to submit a supplementary report on the particular points now in doubt. The accompanying model, it will be observed, is divided on the inside into six compartments, separated from each other by the braces or "timbers" of the dory. The slats joining these braces on each side, and on which the seats rests, are called the "thwart ribbands."

The dories, when placed the one into the other, fit so closely that any fixtures so introduced on the sides as to project inward farther than the edges of the "timbers," would form an obstruction to the essential process of "nesting," above described, an objection prevailing against the construction in bow or stern, as has been variously suggested, of water-tight compartments for the reception of food.

It has been ascertained, however, by actual measurement of a full-sized dory that there is ample space in either of the two middle compartments, between the lower side of the "thwart-ribband" and a horizontal line, 4 inches above the bottom of the boat, for the insertion of four cans, measuring 7 inches in width, 8 inches in length, 1¾ inches in thickness on top, and sloping out in correspondence with the increasing depth of the braces to a thickness of 3 inches on the bottom, and capable, on rough estimate, of containing enough food to healthfully sustain two men for three weeks.

It is proposed, then, to suspend cans of concentrated food of some such dimensions by means of thin, broad hooks attached one to a side of each can, to be inserted from under and on the inside of, and then to cap the "thwart-ribband," and so made as, when in position, to tightly clasp the sides of the latter. These cans will thus not only be out of reach of injury from the feet of the men while rowing and from pressure of the dories when "nested," but need never be removed, when once arranged, during a period, say, of two years.

The writer has freely conferred on the ideas submitted in this report with the most intelligent owners, masters, and fishermen of both American and British vessels, and has received universal solicitation and encouragement to employ his efforts in behalf of a much-needed reform in the present methods of dory fishing.

The belief has been widely expressed not only that the suggestions toward this end herein proposed are thoroughly feasible, but that the Canadian Government would quickly follow our own in the enactment of compulsory legislation in the matter. The perils and hardships attending the pursuit of the fisheries, in these latitudes more especially, are so many and great as to have become almost proverbial, and it seems to have always been the common desire of nations to mitigate, as far as possible, the endurance of these, and to compensate their respective fishermen in one way or another for the disadvantages to which their mode of life necessarily subjected them.

While the United States has assuredly been among the foremost in the adoption of such a policy toward her fishing mariners it is believed that there is now offered her simply another opportunity of taking the initiative in the further protection of the safety and prosperity of the men whom nations have long since recognized as forming the most important nucleus of their respective future defenders on sea. That she may embrace it is the earnest hope of the writer, among many others.

CONTRACT SYSTEM PRISON LABOR.

FEBRUARY 20, 1888.—Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary and ordered to be printed.

Mr. MASON submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas it is believed by many of the citizens of the United States that one of the causes of disturbance between capital and labor is the employment of the convicts of the country in manufacturing enterprises under the contract system, which, it is charged, enriches a few contractors and works to the prejudice of all those engaged in manufacturing like goods outside of the penal and reformatory institutions of the country; and

Whereas several of the States of the Union have, by law, prohibited the contract system in their penal and reformatory institutions with a view of reforming the system of such institutions, and at the same time protect the laboring classes within those States from unjust competition with underpaid criminal labor; and

Whereas complaints are made in such States that the said laws do not yield the full amount of benefit desired, for the reason that other States continue to use their criminals in the manufacture of goods under the contract system and flood the markets of the States wherein such contract system has been abolished; and

Whereas it is deemed wise and just that each State of the Union should provide for its own convicts, which it does not do when it sends its prison-made goods under the contract system for open sale and barter within the limits of other States: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives be requested to provide, if possible, by bill or otherwise, some relief which will compel the several States of the Union manufacturing articles of general merchandise under the contract system to consume such manufactured articles within their own States, and to prohibit the said States from shipping such prison-made contracts-ystem goods into the several States of the Union where the contract system has been abolished by law: and further, to report the same at as early a day as practicable.

FINDINGS OF FACT.

At a Court of Claims held in the city of Washington on the 6th day of February, A. D. 1888, the court filed the following findings of fact, to wit:

The claim in the above-entitled case for supplies or stores alleged to have been taken by or furnished to the military forces of the United States for their use during the late war for the suppression of the rebellion was transmitted to the court by the Committee of War Claims of the House of Representatives on the 13th day of May, 1886.

Gilbert Moyers, esq., appeared for claimant, and the Attorney-General, by F. Brannigan, esq., his assistant, and under his direction, appeared for the defense and protection of the interests of the United States.

On a preliminary inquiry the court, on the 11th day of April, 1887, found that the person alleged to have furnished the supplies or stores, or from whom they were alleged to have been taken, was loyal to the Government of the United States throughout said war.

The case having been brought to a hearing on its merits on the 24th day of January, 1888, the court, upon the evidence, and after considering the briefs and arguments of counsel on both sides, finds the facts to be as follows:

I.

The said decedent, during the late war, resided on and was the owner of a plantation in northern Mississippi near the line of the State of Tennessee.

II.

During said time, to wit, in the years 1862 and 1863, it is alleged by said claimant that there was taken from the said plantation belonging to said decedent by the military forces of the United States, for their use, the following stores and supplies, to wit:

4 horses and 4 mules, at $150 each	1,200.00
30 head of hogs, at $15	450.00
20 head of cattle, $25 head	500.00
2,000 bushels corn	1,250.00
10 tons fodder	300.00
10,000 lbs. bacon, 20 cts. per lb.	2,000.00
12 bbls. flour, $120; 1 bbl. loaf sugar, $20; 1 bbl. brown sugar, $20; 2 sacks coffee, 200 lbs., $50	210.00

III.

The court upon the evidence finds that during said time at said place there was taken by the forces aforesaid for the use of the Army from the said decedent, of said supplies, rails (used as wood), horses, mules, hogs, cattle, corn, fodder, bacon, flour, sugar, and coffee, aggregating in value the sum of two thousand nine hundred and forty-six dollars ($2,946.00), and that it does not appear that any payment has been made to said decedent, or to said claimant for any part of said supplies.

PETITION.

[Filed Sept. 22, 1886.—J. R.]

To the honorable the Court of Claims of the United States:

Your petitioner, Fannie T. Hunt, respectfully represents that she is a citizen of the United States, residing in Memphis, Shelby County, State of Tennessee, where she resided during the late war of the rebellion; that at different times during said period the U. S. forces, by proper authority, took from your petitioner quartermaster stores and commissary supplies of the value of $8,342.00, and appropriated the same to the use of the U. S. Army, as follows:

6,400 rails, at $3 per 100	$192
4 horses and 4 mules, at $175	1,400
30 head hogs, at $15	450
20 head cattle, at $50	1,000
2,000 bushels of corn, at $1	2,000
10 tons fodder, at $30	300
10,000 lbs. bacon, at 20 cts	2,000
Flour, meal, sugar, and coffee	1,000

Your petitioner further states that her claim for compensation for said stores and supplies was presented to the Commissioners of Claims, under the act of Congress approve l March 3, 1871, and was by said Commissioners disallowed about December 20, 1875, on the ground that said Commissioners were not convinced of loyalty of claimant.

Your petitioner, knowing said decision to be unjust, petitioned the Congress of the United States for relief, and on or about the 13th day of May, 1886, said petition was, by the Committee on War Claims of the House of Representatives, referred to the honorable Court of Claims, under section 1 of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1883, entitled "An act to afford assistance and relief to Congress and the Executive Departments in the investigation of claims and demands against the Government."

Your petitioner further states, that her said claim has not been assigned or transferred, and she is the sole owner thereof; that it is correct and just; that she did not give any aid or comfort to the late rebellion, but was throughout that war loyal to the Government of the United States.

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that when the facts shall have been ascertained as to her loyalty and the justice of her claim, the same may be reported to the House of Representatives of the United States or to the said Committee on War Claims, as provided in said act of March 3, 1883.

SIR: Pursuant to the order of the court I transmit herewith a certified copy of the findings of fact filed by the court on the 6th day of February, 1888, in the aforesaid cause, which case was referred to this court by the Committee on War Claims, House of Representatives, under the act of March 3, 1883.

I am, very respectfully, yours, etc.,

JOHN RANDOLPH,
Assistant Clerk Court of Claims.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

[Court of Claims'. Congressional case, No. 529. Sarah M. Thomas vs. The United States.]

FINDINGS OF FACT.

At a Court of Claims held in the city of Washington on the 6th day of February, A. D. 1888, the court filed the following findings of fact, to wit:

The claim in the above-entitled case, for supplies or stores alleged to have been taken by or furnished to the military forces of the United States for their use during the late war for the suppression of the rebellion, was transmitted to the court by the Committee of War Claims of the House of Representatives on the 19th day of February, 1886.

Gilbert Moyers, esq., appeared for claimant, and the Attorney-General, by F. P. Dewees, esq., his assistant, and under his direction, appeared for the defense and protection of the interests of the United States.

On a preliminary inquiry the court, on the 28th day of March, 1887, found that the person alleged to have furnished the supplies or stores, or from whom they were alleged to have been taken, was loyal to the Government of the United States throughout said war.

The case having been brought to a hearing on its merits on the 24th day of January, 1888, the court, upon the evidence and after considering the briefs and arguments of counsel on both sides, finds the facts to be as follows:

I.

The said petitioner, Sarah M. Thomas, previous to and during the late war, resided in the city of Natchez, State of Mississippi, and was during said time the owner of certain houses, out-houses, and fences in the suburbs of said city. In the latter part of the year 1863 the military forces of the United States occupied said houses as barracks and military quarters.

In the latter part of the year 1863 or early part of 1864 the said forces tore down said houses and fences and used the material in the erection of Fort McPherson, which was erected by said forces near to the site of said buildings.

II.

It is alleged that the materials used by said forces, and which came from said buildings, were of the dimension and values as follows, to wit:

144,507 lumber, at $30 per M	$4,335.21
82,000 brick, $5 per M	410.00
30,000 brick, at $10 per M	300.00
200 pair door hinges	15.00
20 door locks	25.00
	5,205.21

The court finds upon the evidence that the said houses and fences were composed of common lumber; that the premises up to the war had been used as negro quarters connected with the slave market; that the said material was used in the erection of Fort McPherson as aforesaid, and that the value thereof as lumber, at the time it was used, was the sum of two thousand and forty-four dollars and seven cents ($2,044.07).

It does not appear that any payment has been made to said petitioner for any part of said lumber or material.

PETITION.

[Filed March 11, 1886.—J. R.]

To the honorable the Court of Claims of the United States:

Your petitioner, Sarah M. Thomas, respectfully represents:

That she is a citizen of the United States, residing in Adams County, State of Mississippi, where she resided during the late war of the rebellion; that at different times during said period the U. S. forces, by proper authority, took from your petitioner building materials of the value of $16,305.12, and appropriated the same to the use of the U. S. Army, as follows:

1 frame building, 20 by 80	$4,906.36
1 frame building, 20 by 80, with wing 20 by 20	4,906.36
Material in main building, material in wing	758.16
1 kitchen, two stories, 20 by 30	1,589.76
1 kitchen, one story, 12 by 14	232.04
1 shed, 12 by 40	217.00
1 cistern house, 16 by 20	263.44
1 shed, 75 by 40	337.96
1 stable, 40 by 50	2,474.04
10,000 feet fencing	600.00

Your petitioner further states that her claim for compensation for said stores and supplies was presented to the Commissioners of Claims under act of Congress approved March 3, 1871, and was by said Commissioners disallowed about Dec. 4th, 1876, on the ground that the said Commissioners were not convinced of the loyalty of the claimant.

Your petitioner, knowing said decision to be unjust, petitioned the Congress of the United States for relief, and on or about February, 1886, said petition was by the Committee on War Claims of the House of Representatives referred to the honorable Court of Claims under section 1 of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1883, entitled "An act to afford assistance and relief to Congress and the Executive Departments in the investigation of claims and demands against the Government."

Your petitioner further states that her said claim has not been assigned or transferred, and she is the sole owner thereof; that it is correct and just; that she did not give any aid or comfort to the late rebellion, but was throughout that war loyal to the Government of the United States.

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that when the facts shall have been ascertained as to her loyalty and the justice of her claim, the same may be reported to the House of Representatives of the United States or to the said Committee on War Claims, as provided in said act of March 3, 1883.

FINDINGS OF FACT.

At a Court of Claims held in the city of Washington on the 13th day of February, A. D. 1888, the court filed the following findings of fact, to wit:

The claim in the above entitled case for supplies, or stores, alleged to have been taken by or furnished to the military forces of the United States for their use during the late war for the suppression of the rebellion, was transmitted to the court by the Committee on War Claims of the House of Representatives on the 18th day of May, 1886.

Gilbert Moyers, esq., appeared for claimant, and the Attorney-General, by W. I. Hill, his assistant, and under his direction, appeared for the defense and protection of the interests of the United States.

On a preliminary inquiry the court, on the 16th day of May, 1887, found that the person alleged to have furnished the supplies or stores, or from whom they were alleged to have been taken, was loyal to the Government of the United States throughout said war.

The case having been brought to a hearing on its merits on the 16th day of January, 1888, the court, upon the evidence and after considering the briefs and arguments of counsel on both sides, finds the facts to be as follows:

The claimant resided during the rebellion on his plantation in Lee County, Arkansas.

In the years 1862 and 1863 there were taken from him by the military forces of the United States for their use, on said plantation, certain bacon, corn, mules, fodder, and cattle alleged by him in his petition as follows:

3,000 pounds of bacon, 18 cts. per lb	$540.00
500 bu. of corn, 50 cts. per bu	250.00
6 mules and 1 horse, $150 each	1,050.00
17 stacks of fodder	120.00
4 cattle	80.00

The court finds that the value of the stores and supplies actually taken for the use of the military forces of the United States was thirteen hundred and forty dollars ($1,340.00).

CLERK'S OFFICE,
Washington, February 15, 1888.

SIR: Pursuant to the order of the court, I transmit herewith a certified copy of the findings of fact, filed by the court February 13, 1888, in the aforesaid cause, which case was referred to this court by the Committee on War Claims, House of Representatives, under the act of March 3, 1883.

I am, very respectfully, yours, etc.,

JOHN RANDOLPH,
Assistant Clerk Court of Claims.

Hon. JOHN G. CARLISLE,
Speaker of the House of Representatives.

FINDINGS OF FACT.

At a Court of Claims held in the city of Washington on the 11th day of April, 1887, the court filed the following findings as to loyalty, to wit:

This case, being a claim for supplies or stores taken or furnished to the military forces of the United States for their use during the late war for the suppression of the rebellion, the court, on a preliminary inquiry, finds that John M. Cook was loyal to the Government of the United States throughout said war.

At a Court of Claims held in the city of Washington on the 13th day of February, A. D. 1888, the court filed the following findings of fact, to wit:

The claim in the above entitled suit having been transmitted to this court by the Committee on War Claims of the House of Representatives, on the 10th day of May, 1886, and the Attorney-General having appeared for the defendants, and the suit having been brought to a hearing on the 7th day of December, 1887, the court, upon the proofs and evidence, and after hearing Gilbert Moyers, esq., of counsel for the claimant, and Felix Brannigan, esq., of counsel for the defendants, finds the following facts:

I.

The claimant seeks to recover for the following quartermaster stores and commissary supplies alleged to have been taken from John M. Cook, at Franklin, Louisiana, in the winter of 1863 and 1864, by proper authority, for the use of the Army of the United States:

6,000 fencing pieces, $360; 3,000 pickets, $150	$510.00
Dwelling, kitchen, and store room	2,500.00
1 corn house, $500; 1 fodder and hay house, $500	1,000.00
40 cattle and 12 cows, $1,000; 30 hogs, $300	1,300.00
3 horses, $390; 3 mules, $480	870.00

II.

The court finds that stores and supplies described in the first findings were taken by the military forces of the Army from John M. Cook, now deceased, at Franklin, Louisiana, in October and November, 1863, and during the winter of 1863 and 1864, of the value of twelve hundred and ten dollars, and that the claimant is the administrator of the estate of the said Cook.

PETITION.

[Filed July 29, 1886.—A. H.]

To the honorable the Court of Claims of the United States:

Your petitioner, George W. Chapman, adm'r, respectfully represents that he is administrator of John M. Cook, dec'd; that he is a citizen of the United States, residing in St. Mary's Parish, State of Louisiana, where he resided during the late war of the rebellion; that at different times during said period the United States forces, by proper authority, took from said deceased quartermaster stores and commissary supplies of the value of $6,180, and appropriated the same to the use of the U. S. Army, as follows:

6,000 fencing pieces, $360; 3,000 pickets, $150	$510
Dwelling, kitchen, and store-room	2,500
1 corn-house, $500; 1 fodder and hay house, $500	1,000
40 cattle and 12 cows, $1,000; 30 hogs, $300	1,300
3 horses, $390; 3 mules, $480	870

Your petitioner further states that said claim for compensation for said stores and supplies were presented to the Southern Claims Commission under the act of Congress approved March 3, 1871, and was by said Commission disallowed about December, 1879, on the ground that the Commission was not convinced of the loyalty of the claimant.

Your petitioner, knowing said decision to be unjust, petitioned the Congress of the United States for relief, and on or about the 10th day of May, 1886, said petition was by the Committee on War Claims of the House of Representatives referred to the honorable Court of Claims, under section 1 of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1883, entitled "An act to afford assistance and relief to Congress and the Executive Departments in the investigation of claims and demands against the Government."

Your petitioner further states that his said claim has not been assigned or transferred, and he, as administrator, is the sole owner thereof; that it is correct and just; that the deceased not give any aid or comfort to the late rebellion, but was throughout that war loyal to the Government of the United States.

Wherefore your petitioner prays that when the facts shall have been ascertained as to loyalty of deceased and the justice of his claim, the same may be reported to the House of Representatives of the United States or to the said Committee on War Claims, as provided in said act of March 3, 1883.

Your petitioner, W. R. Billingslea, respectfully represents:

That he is administrator of Sarah Billingslea, dec'd; that he is a citizen of the United States, residing in Warren County, State of Mississippi, where the decedent resided during the late war of the rebellion; that at different times during said period the U. S. forces, by proper authority, took from the decedent quartermaster stores and commissary supplies of the value of $7,625.00, and appropriated the same to the use of the U. S. Army, as follows:

2,000 bus. corn	$2,000.00
1,500 " bacon	225.00
7 yoke oxen	350.00
11 milch cows	275.00
40 beef cattle	600.00
5,000 feet cypress plank	150.00
1 spring wagon and harness	150.00
1 ox wagon, yokes, and chains	150.00
11 mules	1,650.00
1 mare	150.00
500 lbs. lint cotton	125.00
60 sheep	240.00
150 hogs	1,050.00
1,400 lbs. sugar	280.00
1 bbl. molasses	40.00
50 lbs. lard	10.00
500 bus. pease	500.00
Total	8,025.00
Credit by cash paid by order General Sherman	400.00
	7,625.00

On a preliminary inquiry the court, on the 20th day of December, 1886, found that the person alleged to have furnished the supplies or stores, or from whom they were alleged to have been taken, was loyal to the Government of the United States throughout said war.

The case having been brought to a hearing on its merits on the fifth day of April, 1887, the court, upon the evidence and after considering the briefs and arguments of counsel on both sides, finds the facts to be as follows:

I.

At different times during the late civil war, mainly in the spring and summer of 1863, there was taken from the decedent, Sarah Billingslea, from her farm in Warren County, Mississippi, by the United States forces, for the use of the Army, military stores and supplies to the value of $2,633.00, upon which $400.00 has been paid, leaving two thousand two hundred and thirty-three dollars ($2,233.00) for which no compensation has been made.

Some other property of this description, which appears to have been lost by the decedent about this time, was not taken by the authority of United States officers nor for the use of the United States Army, but by unauthorized pillage of soldiers and others.

PETITION.

[Filed Sept. 16, 1886.—J. R.]

To the honorable the Court of Claims of the United States:

Your petitioner, W. R. Billingslea, respectfully represent:

That he is administrator of Sarah Billingslea, dec'd; that he is a citizen of the United States, residing in Warren County, State of Mississippi, where the decedent resided during the late war of the rebellion; that at different times during said period the U. S. forces, by proper authority, took from the decedent quartermaster stores and commissary supplies of the value of $7,625.00, and appropriated the same to the use of the U. S. Army, as follows:

2,000 bus. corn	$2,000.00
4,000 lbs. fodder	80.00
1,500 " bacon	225.00
7 yoke oxen	350.00
11 milch cows	275.00
40 beef cattle	600.00
5,000 feet cypress plank	150.00
1 spring wagon and harness	150.00
1 ox-wagon, yokes and chains	150.00
11 mules	1,650.00
1 mare	150.00
500 lbs. lent cotton	125.00
60 sheep	240.00
150 hogs	1,050.00
1,400 lbs. sugar	280.00
1 bbl. molasses	40.00
50 lbs. lard	10.00
500 bus. pease	500.00
Total	8,025.00
Credit by cash paid by order General Sherman	400.00
	7,625.00

Your petitioner further states that his claim for compensation for said stores and supplies was presented to the Commissioners of Claims under the act of Congress approved March 3, 1871, and was by said Commissioners disallowed about Dec., 1877, on the ground that they were not convinced of decedent's loyalty.

Your petitioner, knowing said decision to be unjust, petitioned the Congress of the United States for relief, and on or about the 30th day of July, 1886, said petition was by the Committee on War Claims of the House of Representatives referred to the honorable Court of Claims, under section 1 of an act of Congress approved March 3, 1883, entitled "An act to afford assistance and relief to Congress and the Executive Departments in the investigation of claims and demands against the Government."

Your petitioner further states that his said claim has not been assigned or transferred, and he is the administrator thereof; that it is correct and just that the decedent did not give any aid or comfort to the late rebellion, but was throughout that war loyal to the Government of the United States.

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that when the facts shall have been ascertained as to decedent's loyalty and the justice of his claim, the same may be reported to the House of Representatives of the United States, or to the said Committee on War Claims, as provided in said act of March 3, 1883.

W. R. BILLINGSLEA, Adm'r.

GILBERT MOYERS,
Attorney for Claimant.

Personally appeared before me, Geo. T. Hurdy, clerk of the chancery court, W. R. Billingslea, adm'r, who, being duly sworn, says that the statements contained in the foregoing petition are true to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 8th day of Sept., A. D. 1886.

ANALYSIS OF BEER.

FEBRUARY 14, 1888.—Referred to the Select Committee on the Alcoholic Liquor Traffic and ordered to be printed.

Mr. ROMEIS submitted the following

RESOLUTION:

Whereas Christian Heurich, a citizen of the United States and of the District of Columbia, and a brewer in the city of Washington in said District, in a petition to both houses of Congress makes complaint of and asks redress for certain alleged injury to his business interests, arising from the last report of the Department of Agriculture on food and food adulterants, in which report is stated that certain samples of beer, brewed in said city of Washington, were analyzed by the said Department and that some were found to be pure and free from deleterious substances, but without stating the names of the brewers who manufactured them, and thus placing under suspicion the pure and wholesome as well as the impure and unwholesome articles; and

Whereas said Heurich alleges that samples of his beer were analyzed by said Department and published in said report as beer manufactured in Washington with others manufactured there, and that the Commissioner refuses him information as to the result of the analysis of the samples of his beer, so that he might free himself from said suspicion of manufacturing impure articles: Therefore,

Resolved, That the Commissioner of Agriculture be, and he hereby is, requested to inform this House on what grounds, if any, he refuses said Heurich the information demanded by him.
